P R E F A C E.

In presenting the following work to the public the Editor, sensible of the great support which the Courier Calender has received for the last fifty years, has endeavoured to uphold its former character and to infuse into its pages new vigour. In order to render the work useful and easy of reference, it has been thought desirable to divide it into two parts instead of one as formerly: by adopting a new arrangement and extending its sphere of compilation each part is made distinct in itself.

The greater part of the present work is entirely new and is made to meet the growing demands of the Bombay community. The compilation of a General Directory, eastern and western, will no doubt be found of considerable utility, forming as it does a complete Gazetteer and epitome of the world. The Editor is sensible that the work is not free from the errors incidental to all compilations: much care has been used, but as several communications came to hand too late, their adoption is necessarily postponed for a second year. The stations in each of the Indian Presidencies were designed to appear after the manner of those already given, including information of use to every one whose business or inclination gave to any of the stations a temporary interest. The communications from out-stations were in some cases either scanty of intelligence or prolix in irrelevant matter as to render them of no present service:—these defects it is hoped will be supplied timeously for the next publication.

The Editor considers it necessary to add that the compilation has been effected by occasional snatches from other and more ephemeral employment, which will account for if not excuse its desultory character.

N O T E,

It may be proper first to premise, that the Phases of the Moon, the rising and setting, of the Sun, the Lunar Eclipses, and the time of the Tides, are all calculated for mean Solar Time, or that shewn by a true clock at Bombay.

Those who may wish to avail themselves of the columns of the Sun's rising and setting, for the purpose of rectifying a Clock or a Watch, should observe, that at the time given in the Almanack (which is that when the Sun's centre is really in the Horizon) either at rising or setting, the upper or lower limb of the Sun, will appear to be at least the Sun's diameter above the edge of the water ; the Watch, &c., should therefore, be set to the time as shewn in the Almanack, when this appearance is seen at sun-rise or sun-set, when it will shew the true Mean time at Bombay.

The Sun's Right Ascension in Time, Declination, and the Equation of time, are adopted to apparent Noon, or the instant when the Sun's centre is on the Meridian of Greenwich.

THE only explanation which is conceived necessary, to render the scheme of the following Calendar fully understood, is that the Christian months indicated at the top of each page, divide the Native months as they appear, represented in the space below allotted to their names; January, for example, partakes of the Hindoo months, Marroo, Poush and Magh; Guzeratt, Duxun and Concan, Margashirsh and Poush; and Malabar, Dhanuh and Magaram; the Parsee months Shaenshoyee, Teer and Amoordad; Kudmee, Amoordad and Sharaver; and the date of Nowroz 126 to 128; and the Mahomedan months Zilhuz and Mohurruin.

From the Columns is to be collected that the 1st of January corresponds with the 8th of Poush Vud, Marroo; and the 8th of Margashirsh Vud, Guzeratt, Duxun and Concan; and the 20th of Dhanuh Malabar; the 6th of Teer Shaenshoyee, the 6th of Amoordad Kudmee; and the 126 day of Nowroz, or Kudmee; and the 21st of Zilhuz Mahomedan; and so throughout the year.

*It may here be observed that the Hindoo Lunar months invariably consist of 30 Tithees, or Lunar days; and the whole month is divided into two equal parts, of 15 Tithees each: the one called Shookla Puksh, or Shood; the other, the Krishna Puksh, or Vud, the dark half or decrease of the Moon.—The Lunar month begins on the western side of India, and south of the Nurvuda river, with the first day of the Shookla Puksh, (shood prutipuda) or bright half of the Moon.—At Benares, Oojain, and the countries north of the Nurvuda, the lunar month begins with the first day of the Krishna Puksh, (Vud prutipuda) or dark half of the Moon.—The first, is designated the Shooklades mode of reckoning: and the latter, the Krishnades.—The lunar year begins with the first day of the Shookla Puksh, or bright half of the Moon in Chytr, both north and south of the Nurvuda, in every country in India: but as the dark half of the Moon precedes the other, or Shookla Puksh, at Benares, the half lunar month of Chytr is taken from the last lunar month of the year preceding, and considered to belong to it.

It has been already stated the lunar month invariably consists of 30 Tithees or lunar days, but it has been customary with all eastern nations, in order to regulate their fasts and Festivals, to drop certain lunar days, and to reckon others twice, to make up the deficiency: the first of these are termed by the Hindoos, Kshuvu Tithees (perishable days,) and the days repeated twice are called Vridh Tithees, (additional days.) The rule of these is exceedingly simple.—Those lunar days on which the sun does not rise, (Sooryoduyu nuheen) are struck out, those in which it rises twice are vridh, or additional: and it is obvious that such circumstances will occur about 6 times in the course of the lunar year.

There are at present two Branches of the Parsees, who differ one month in the year from each other; those that forward one month in their year are styled Kudmees, and the rest Shaenshoyees.—The present scheme embraces the Parsee Æra of Yezdezard, commonly styled Kudmees or Dureeyees Nowroz, or Sea reckoning the same being made use of in all nautical calculations among the Asiatic Mariners, the new year of which always commences on the 1st day of Furverdeen, the Kudmees reckon the new year and the Dureeyees Nowroz to fall on the 29th of August, one month earlier than the commencement of the Shaenshoyees' new year.—It also embraces the Parsee Æra of Yezdezard, commonly called Shaenshoyee, the new year of which generally begins on the 1st day of Furverdeen, the Shaenshoyees compute the new year to commence from the 28th of September, a month later than the commencement of the Kudmees new year.

The first day of Mohurram, or the commencement of the year, is ordinarily reckoned from the first appearance of the Moon after the conjunction observed from eminences of any sort, or even in cloudy weather from the time at which, but for these obstacles, it would be visible: and this can scarcely happen earlier than 24, or later than 48 hours after the conjunction.—After this manner, each several month is reckoned, and the lapse of 12 such months, constitutes the Mahommedan year.

We have also endeavoured to discriminate the Feasts and Festivals of each Nation by different sorts of Type; the Hindoos for example, we have distinguished by Roman small letters, as Poush Shood; the name of the Malabar month by Roman capitals, as MAGARAM; the Parsees by the small capitals, as AMOORDAD; and the Mahommedan, by Italic small letters, as Mohurram.

The Presidency of Bombay.

GOVERNOR.—Colonel Sir George Arthur, Bart., K. C. H.

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.—Lieut. General Sir Thomas W. McMahon, Bart.

SITUATION AND EXTENT.—The presidency of Bombay comprises the Western part of the British possessions in India. It is bounded on the West by the Arabian Sea, on the south by Canara, on the north by Rajpootana, and on the east by the dominions of the Nizam and the Malhattas. It contains 59,438 square miles and 6,201,546 inhabitants.

GOVERNMENT.—The affairs of Government are conducted by the Governor and three Members* of Council, one of whom is Commander-in-Chief. In every thing the presidency of Bombay (like Madras,) is subordinate to the Supreme Government, namely, the Governor General of India in Council.

CLIMATE.—It is in general healthy and in one respect possesses advantages over the other presidencies, in nearly its whole extent being under the genial influence of the Sea breeze. The annual mean temperature is less than prevails in Bengal and Madras. The hills called Mahableschwur form the Sanatorium of the presidency and constitute a delightful retreat during the hot season. During the monsoon, Poona, situated above the Ghauts, is also an agreeable place of resort from the unhealthiness which prevails at low altitudes during the rains.

Remarks on Bombay

BOMBAY.--The capital and seat of Government is situated on the island and in the Presidency of the same name. It is distant 1,300 miles from Calcutta, 770 from Madras and 965 from Delhi.

Bombay owes its whole importance and advancement to the English and the disadvantages both in respect of Geographical situation and the political circumstances of Surat, for many years the emporium of British India. The latter cause indeed operated most strongly in directing the selection of Bombay, as the exactions of the great Mogul and his officers, notwithstanding the firm possession by the Company, were so oppressive and the incursions of the Mahrattas, at which the great Mogul winked, so frequent, that to save themselves from oppression on the one hand and Mahratta aggression on the other, the English were solicitous to possess a place which they could fortify and render secure by the aid of European tactics and works.

The island of Bombay originally consisted of several smaller ones which were tributary to the Rajah of Salsette, and derived their chief value from being the resort of various kind of fishes then esteemed and still considered valuable articles of food, which resorted to the shoals that, at the period in question, (more than eight hundred years ago,) distinguished Bombay, and afforded to the fishy tribes ample and secure retreats for the purposes of spawning. At that period the several isles now interspersed were comparatively insignificant. Salsette and Mahim were the principal islands of the archipelago. The latter island, and several smaller ones, of which not even the names have been preserved, are now united; the low lands formed by the retrocession of the sea constitute one island of several thousand acres, through which range two irregular hills that stretch across the island nearly longitudinally; and near these run a few distributed lines of laterite extending from point to point. The elevated spots between which the sea used to pass freely, leaving an extended bank at low water, are connected by a fertile plain of rich alluvium, of moderate depth, covered with Cocanutt, male date trees, and other exotics peculiar to the mainland.

We have remarked that the situation of Bombay strongly recommended it to the discernment of Europeans as an emporium for trade: internal resources, it possessed scarce any; the inhabitants being chiefly dependant on Salsette and the Concan for grain and other articles of domestic consumption. For commercial operations it was considered to possess eminent advantages. Its proximity to the mainland giving to it a facility of communication with all the different points of the extensive western coast, with the shores of Persia and Arabia, and an intra-Indus communication with central Asia. Its local advantages are no less valuable, since it is easily defended, possesses a commodious and safe harbour, whilst the rise of the tide is so superior to what prevails in any other part of British India as to allow the construction of docks only excelled by the Royal establishments in England.

The derivation of Bombay is usually considered to owe its origin to the appellation by which its principal Hindoo pagoda was known, namely Moombadavee, which was situated on what is now called the Esplanade, and was removed to or rather rebuilt on the present site about eighty years ago, we believe at the cost of the ruling Government at whose instance the old building was demolished. The most probable way of accounting for its name is afforded by the Portuguese, who were the first European visitors at the end of the fifteenth century and by whom it was then called, and still retains the appellation, HOMBAYM, or good Bay; a signification which singularly enough not only accords with its hydrographical character, but is also allotted to it by the Guzerattees, and one which whether from accident or design corresponds with the native name of the place, supposing it to have been called after the Chief pagoda, -- a practice which generally obtains in India.

The constant intrigues of the Portuguese, who were more successful than the English in forming alliances with the natives, directed them to obtain possession of Bombay : for in addition to the security which the place afforded from the pirates of the English, who were much alarmed at the buccaneering conduct of the natives then in alliance with the Portuguese, it also possessed the advantage of a safe haven where to repair their vessels and served as a depot for the Merchandise procured at Surat, Diu and the coast of Arabia. The Portuguese were desirous to obtain possession of the Island permanently. At this period it belonged to or was subject to a Chetree Chief of Salsette, residing at Tannah. This negotiation was successful, and Bombay was ceded to the Portuguese in 1536 together with the Island of Salsette, by the ruling chief who was an usurper and seriously afraid that his conduct would be visited with death at the instance of the Mahomedans who were in paramount possession of nearly the whole of Western India. The acquisition of Bombay was viewed by the English with much jealousy, and served as a thorn in the side of the latter almost irremediable. An opportunity however offered for obtaining what had been long regarded as a desideratum, and in the negotiation with Portugal for the alliance of the Infanta Catherine to Charles II, the cession of the island of Bombay, in dowry with that Princess was urged as a sinequa non. The terms were accepted and in 1661 the island was formally ceded to Great Britain. The Portuguese residents were resolved not to comply with the terms of the cession ; and in consequence, the Duke of Marlborough was despatched on the part of the King. That nobleman took with him a regiment of troops as well to enforce the act of cession as to retain a permanent Garrison in the place. In September 1662, the King's representative arrived, and in a formal manner demanded of the Portuguese Governor the unconditional surrender of Bombay and its dependencies, Mahim and Salsette. The Governor refused compliance with the latter part of the demand and insisted that the cession of the dependencies was neither stipulated nor contemplated by his master, the King of Portugal. The Duke landed his troops on Caranjah and departed with the view of obtaining a reinforcement from any of His Majesty's or the Company's Ships at Surat. In the meantime the missons of the island attacked the troops so seriously and was followed by such alarming mortality, that the surviving officer in command, Mr. Cooke, Secretary to Sir A. Shipman the appointed Governor, abandoned the constructive terms of the cession and accepted the island of Bombay as the extent of the grant. In February 1664 the survivors were admitted into Bombay, but rightful possession was not accorded until the orders of the King of Portugal were received. In 1660 Sir Gervase Lucas, the first Governor, of royal nomination, arrived : he commenced a prosecution against Mr. Cooke, the late acting Governor, for speculation.

The King of England who looked to his newly acquired possession to provide him the means for carrying on his Hurons was disappointed ; the Company, by being compelled to carry freight-free the King's merchandise were undersold, complained loudly and objected to minister to the King's necessities unless an arrangement was made favorable to their trade. The " Merry Monarch " could not resist the allurements which offered, and, it is said, in opposition to his wily minister, yielded to the pressure of an empty purse ; and to gratify the demands of the fair Duchesses of Portland made over the island in perpetuity to the Company on the 23rd of September 1668 for a handsome donceur in ready cash and a small annual payment, since greatly augmented, for the benefit of the national Treasury !

In 1667 The Company abandoned Surat, as the emporium of their trade, and removed their establishment to Bombay ; which was constituted a regency and corporation under the direction of Sir John Child—the first Governor of the Presidency of Bombay, whose remains, on his death, were interred in the English Burial Ground, in all probability at Colaba.

To observe the progress of Bombay, from the first selection of the spot to its present attained elevation in the scale of political and commercial importance, eminently recommends itself to our notice in all the connections in which we stand as individuals enjoying social security and happiness, as commercialists reaping the benefits its peculiar situation and ambient resources present for our undertakings, or indeed in whatever respect its present position and future prosperity concern us.

What Bombay was during the reign of its native princes, its first conquerors and their successors the Bhongules and Mahomedans, alternately exercising sovereignty within its limits and the islands immediately surrounding it, we have such scanty materials to which access can be obtained through the medium of the native languages that its state, resources, and commercial transactions, if any were carried on, are beyond our means of ascertaining. It was not until 1530 when its cession was granted to the Portuguese by a Bhongule Chief of Salsette, of whose principality or State it formed a subordinate part, that it forced itself upon our attention; and even at that early period in the settlement and trade of the Portuguese its importance for commercial purposes, was unknown, save as a haven distinguished for its safety, the hospitality and the good feeling evinced by its native inhabitants to the Merchant-Captains of the Viceroy's of Portugal. This desideratum recommended it to the attention of the English, who negotiated with the Portuguese for the newly acquired settlement and it was made over to Great Britain in 1661; but seven years after, it was transferred to the East India Company. From the period of its latter cession, 1668, we may date the era of the commercial prosperity of Bombay, and which doubtless under the fostering care and enterprise of the English would have soon obtained a higher degree of importance had it not been for the existence of a factory at Surat, added to the circumstance of the nature of the Company's investments being such as were either supplied directly from the weavers or by the native Surat Merchants, who carried to that city the produce of the Coast of Malabar, the East Coast of Africa and the ports of Arabia and the Persian Gulf. In all probability Bombay would have continued to occupy a second-rate importance but for the duplicity of the Mogul's officers at Surat, added to the political effects which followed the rising power of the Mahrattas and the trifling importance of Bengal as the scene of commercial and political operations. At the time of its cession to the Company, the official returns exhibit but £2,833 per annum as its gross revenue,—being the pay of the present Collector of Customs, or about the Three thousandth part of its present annual revenue!

The facilities which Bombay offered as a haven recommended it as a depot for the repairing and constructing of vessels; and accordingly we find that in the year 1671, but three years after the Company had obtained possession of it, it received significant distinction by the establishment of a Mint and the commencement of building two ships, and the same number of brigantines. Its celebrity for shipbuilding has kept pace with its progress in every other respect.

The wars between Sivajee and the Great Mogul materially affected trading operations, and necessarily involved the Company's establishments in Western India. Literally driven from Surat in 1685 the Government was removed to this island, and the jealousies which had existed between the Governor of Surat and the Deputy Governor of Bombay being happily destroyed, (by the removal of the executive to Bombay) the latter found in the administration of Sir John Child, an able promoter of commercial enterprise; and by the protection he, as Governor General and Admiral, afforded to the native traders from the piratical attacks of the Mahrattas, Arabs and Dutch, the country-trade received a new impetus, thereby constituting Bombay the emporium of the west and north-west Coasts of the peninsula, and of the Persian and Arabian gulphs. The annual revenue was now augmented to seven thousand pounds sterling, equal to the present emoluments of a single member of Council, or the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Judicature! The growing prosperity of Bombay marked it for the scene of piratical plunder: upon the death of Sir John Child, after humbling the Mogul navy at Surat, Bombay was blockaded by the notorious Siddee pirate whose fleet and army produced such consternation that recourse was had to the payment of a large sum, on which the Siddee withdrew. The presidency had scarcely recovered from the disastrous effects of the blockade than the appearance of European pirates again arrested the progress of commerce. The depredations of these freebooters were not confined to despoiling the English vessels, but extended to native craft: that commerce, rendered unsafe, a severe falling off in the annual revenue was the result. By the union in 1702 of the rival East India Companies, the pirates chiefly in the service of one or other of these rivals were amalgamated in the legitimate trade; and, by this means, the united operations imparted so great an impulse to commerce that, notwithstanding the Mogul disturbances and interruptions, the trade made satisfactory progress; and in the course of forty years the annual revenue of Bombay, derived chiefly from commercial sources, amounted to treble its former sum. The political events which followed the struggles of European aspirants for dominion in India are so fully detailed in the pages of Mill, Tod, Malcolm, Elphinstone and other celebrated writers, that we must refer the reader to these sources for details of their progress; suffice it to observe that on the termination of these protracted wars we found ourselves in possession of an immense territory which opened new sources for enterprise and augmented the revenue of Bombay and the other presidencies to an astounding amount. The political power of the English East India Company commenced in 1748 but as its operations were chiefly confined to Bengal and Madras, whilst these places were involved in the disturbances that ensued, Bombay was yearly increasing its commercial importance. This political supremacy obviously opened other sources of revenue than those derivable from mercantile speculations so as to increase the gross annual revenue of India to its present enormous sum of twenty three millions of pounds sterling.

When we consider what Bombay was at the time we have indicated, nearly two centuries ago, thinly populated, insulated, and having so trifling a revenue as to afford its distinguished English Governor but the insignificant sum of £220 as a yearly salary; and compare the Bombay of that period with what it presented at the beginning of the nineteenth century, when the value of goods which passed through the Custom House with the view of levying the duties was ascertained by a Panchayet formed of the European and native merchants, and the amount levied paid six months subsequent to the importation of the goods: when the salary of the Collector of Customs of that day was rated at a per centage upon the gross receipts: when prescribed Customs regulations were promulgated by the dictum of the head of the department! Contrast such a state of things with the improved though very imperfect state of mercantile usage and regulation manifest in the commercial transactions of 1843-4, how surprisingly are we startled by the gigantic strides trade has made at this Port, and how changed is its present aspect!

As a laconic sketch of the state and progress of Bombay, from the arrival of Sir George Oxendon to the union of the two Companies, cannot fail to possess some interest we extract the following from Hamilton. "Sir George Oxendon died on the 14th of July, 1669, and was succeeded by Mr. Gerald Auzler, as Chief of Surat and Governor of Bombay, which continued extremely unhealthy, and much infested by the depredations of the Maharatta pirates.

"In 1672-3, a strong Dutch fleet appeared off Bombay and created great alarm; but, after reconnoitring it, disappeared without making any attack. In the succeeding year there were 100 pieces of cannon mounted in the fortifications, and the garrison consisted of 460 regulars, of which the greater proportion were to pass, and 300 militia. In 1676, letters patent were obtained from the king to establish a mint at Bombay, at which they were empowered to coin rupees, pice, and budgerooks.

"Mr. Auzler died in 1677, and was succeeded at Bombay by Mr. Henry Oxinden. At this time Bombay continued of very little political or commercial importance, which in part proceeded from the vigorous government of Aurangzebe on the Delhi throne, and the rising power of the Maharattas, under the martial Sevajee. 1679, the Island of Kenry was occupied by the troops of Sevajee, and the beginning of the next year the Island of Kenry was seized on by the siddee, or Mogul Admiral, the Bombay government not daring to oppose either, and from their proximity being kept in a state of continual alarm.

"In 1681, Mr. John Child, the brother of Sir Josiah Child, was appointed President at Surat, one of the Joint Counsellors being appointed to act as deputy-governor of Bombay. In 1683-4, the Court of Directors, in consequence of the capture of Bantam by the Dutch, constituted Bombay an independent English settlement, and the seat of the power and trade of the English nation in the East Indies.

"On the 23rd of December, 1683, Captain Richard Kegwin, who commanded the Company's garrison, assisted by Ensign Thompson and others, seized on Mr. Ward, the deputy-governor, and such members of the council as adhered to him, and assumed the government. The garrison, consisting of 150 English soldiers, and 200 topasses, were joined by the inhabitants of the island, who elected Captain Kegwin governor, and declared they would only acknowledge the king's authority, although, in the interval betwixt the acquisition of the island and this period, the East India Company had expended 300,000*l.* at Bombay on fortifications and improvements.

"In 1684-5, Captain Kegwin negotiated a treaty with Rajah Sambhaje, from whom he recovered 12,000 pauodas due to the Company; and on the 10th of November, 1684, he surrendered the island to Sir Thomas Grantham, on condition of a general pardon to himself and his adherents. He had not, it appears, embezzled and of the Company's money in the fort, which was restored to them entire, but had subsisted on the revenues of the island.

"In 1686, the seat of the English government was ordered to be transferred from Surat to Bombay, and next year, Sir John Child dying, the office of President devolved on Mr. Harris, then a prisoner at Surat, but released by the Mogul governor next year.

"In 1688-9, the siddhee's fleet (Mogul's admiral) invaded Bombay, and got possession of Mahim, Mazagon, and Sion, and kept the governor and garrison besieged in the town and castle. An order was soon after obtained from Aurangzebe, directing the siddhee to withdraw his troops; but the evacuation did not take place until the 22d of June, 1690, when the lands belonging to the Portuguese Jesuits were seized, they having been active in promoting the views of the siddhee during the invasion.

"In 1691-2, the population of Bombay was much reduced by the plague, of the civil servants only three remaining alive; and in 1694, Sir Joshua Gayer arrived, as Governor at Bombay, which he found in a disastrous state, principally caused by the depredations of the English pirates on the Mogul ships, Aurangzebe insisting that all the loss sustained by his subjects should be made good by the East India Company. These pirates in 1698 possessed two frigates, of 30 guns, off Cape Comorin, under Captain Kidd, who was afterwards taken and hanged; one of 50, one of 40, and one of 30 guns, off the Malabar Coast.

"In 1698-9, Sir Nicholas Walte was appointed resident at Surat, on the part of the New or English Company; and in 1700, by his intrigues, procured the imprisonment of Sir John Gayer and Mr. Colt, the Old or London Company's servants. At this time Bombay was in a very weakly state, and under constant alarm of invasion from the Maharattas, Arabs, or Portuguese. In 1702-3, it was again visited by the plague, which carried off many hundreds of the natives, and reduced the garrison to 76 men.

"In 1708, the two rival Companies having united, Sir Nicholas Walte was dismissed, but Sir John Gayer, the legitimate governor, still continuing in confinement at Surat, Mr. Mable was appointed; and such was the continued feebleness of the settlement, that the Bombay government this year declined receiving an envoy from the King of Persia, for fear he should observe the weakness of the place, both by sea and land."

The changes which Bombay has undergone both in its external appearance and internal management have been many; but the old walls and ways continued chiefly to exist till within the last eighty or ninety years. About eighty years ago the residences of Europeans within the Fort—scarce one was without—were low bungalows now used as Godowns; above these reared, in what was then considered majestic magnificence, Government House (the present Secretariate) and the Second House, called so in consequence of the Second member of Council occupying it. What are now used as the offices of the Civil pay department, Commissariat &c. was formerly the Secretariate in which the Chief Secretary resided. There were then two Custom Houses, one situated where it is at present: the other, which was used for the collection of Petty Customs, is now the Fort Barracks. Until the commencement of the present century the rate of Customs duty was fixed at 6½ per cent; but rarely more than 2 per cent. was paid as the rate was fixed on the market value, and the latter was determined by a Panchayet of the Merchants. The Collector of Customs received no fixed Salary, but was allowed in lieu a small percentage on the amount of duties collected. In these "old times" the business of all public offices commenced at 8 A. M. was carried on until 12 at noon, when principals and subordinates retired to their dinners, returned to the offices at 2 P. M., and continued at their daily avocations until 6 P. M. The Dinner hour was usually at one, and such Europeans in the service as could afford it indulged themselves with a supper at the hour now considered bon ton for the pleasurable exercise of gastronomy. The Bazar was not regarded as very unfashionable for the distinguished unmarried visitors that occasionally resorted here. In the Bombay Courier for June 8th 1793. This Mr. Charles Featly, we learn from the advertizing columns of the same journal, was a goldsmith and Jeweller---a Rundell in his way---and saving the Hotel was the only hospitable roof where the conveniences of life were procurable. But tradesmen were regarded of more gentle blood when the merchant Company not only condescended to act as Sawyers, and had mills at Worlee, which were sold in December 1793, but even so late as 1820 carried on the not unprofitable trade of slop-sellers and chapmen, fixing the rates monthly. The following Government advertisement affords the gratifying knowledge that the authorities of that day were mindful of the trifling profit on a dozen of wine!

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN.

1st March 1820.

To live without the fort of Bombay, eighty or even fifty years ago was considered as insecure as to reside in the land of the Uzbees. The Police arrangements were scarce worthy of that appellation, being under the superintendence of one of the twelve members of Council, each in turn undertaking for one month to preserve the peace and property of the good lieges! This Council partook of the character of a roving commission, for during one month a member was Chief of the Police and directed other municipal arrangements, the successive months found him at Surat, Ahmedabad, &c. almost as regular in his movements, as the signs in the Zodiac were visible in the heavens. Some were good peace protectors; others indifferent, or bad; until about 1790 when Mr. Tod was appointed High Constable or Chief of the Police. At that period the esplanade and parts beyond were chiefly jungle; it was always unsafe to travel beyond the fort walls, and at night nothing would induce a native to go without the gates of the fort. About 1802 a fire occurred in the Hindoo section of the fort, which consumed nearly the whole of the native houses, excepting the Parsee dwellings. The Hindoo population then erected a new town outside, in the neighbourhood of the Moonmadavee pagoda which now exceeds, both in the number of houses and the amount of inhabitants, the fort itself.

The great dread in which the authorities were kept in from fears of French invasion led to some great improvements and alterations in the town and its approaches. The part which now forms the esplanade was cleared of jungle, the houses which had been erected were removed, and an old windmill which imparted to the adjacent country an idea of the rural simplicity which prevailed in the mother country fell beneath the operations which calculated on causing the land approaches to the fort to be wholly sub-merged or laid bare on the appearance of an enemy!

Bombay and the adjacent country offered as little inducement to the tourist as it did variety to its inhabitants. Beyond the immediate vicinity of Bombay entrance and the import department on the left hand of the building. This arrangement will be exceedingly judicious. The business of the customs department has greatly augmented: the value of goods which passed during the year 1843-44 amounted to Rs. 12,19,91,343 for imports, and Rs. 10,46,34,715 for exports.

BOMBAY GREEN.—This is the only open space within the fort of Bombay, and is about the same size as Trafalgar square at Charing Cross. It formerly constituted the place of rendezvous now supplied by the Esplanade; here, until the introduction of carriages at the commencement of the present century, were wont to assemble the elite of Bombay. About 1810, the green was little better than a Metal and Cotton store; for here were deposited iron bars, &c. and bales of Cotton, which now are either placed in private godowns or on the esplanade near the Apollo pier. Bombay Green formed the rendezvous until that which is now called the Esplanade was cleared of the jungle which until 1795 covered its whole extent, from the place of the “two tombs” at Colaba to the Marine Lines. The abandonment of the present Secretariate by the Governor for the more commodious building at Parell gave a blow to the dignity of the green sword within the fort. Its importance, notwithstanding the erection of the statue in its centre, became less; but it now promises to revive under the surveillance of the Agri-Horticultural Society of Bombay, which has taken it under its protection and under the sanction of Government is about to convert it into a flower garden, with public walks, &c. thus constituting it once more a place of retreat for the residents within the fort, equal to the growing and improving importance of Bombay.

THE TOWN HALL.—This is a comparatively new and noble building, erected in 1821-33 and devoted to Government and municipal purposes. It is from a design of Colonel Cowper of the Engineer's. The Town Hall occupies the eastern side of Bombay Green and imparts a commanding appearance to the view. In 1793 an attempt was made at general improvement and in particular to erect a Town Hall from the proceeds of a Lottery scheme, but the plan failed and the scheme was abandoned. The Town Hall consists of a frontage of about 120 feet; the centre is a pediment supported by six fluted columns, below the base of which there are 30 steps. In the centre of the building is a large Hall used occasionally, for public assemblages on a requisition made to the Sheriff. On the right hand is a marble statue of Sir Charles Forbes, executed by Chantrey at the cost of the natives of Bombay, who, to mark their sense of Sir Charles approved services as a fellow citizen, subscribed towards a monument to be erected to his memory. On the right hand of the Hall is the Council Chamber and other offices of the Government. On the left are the rooms of the Asiatic Society, containing the Library and Museum, which for compactness, completeness and interesting contents, equal any establishment of the kind. On the ground floor, in the centre and at the rear of the building is the Civil pay office, and the Court of Requests. To the right are the rooms of the Geographical Society the Horticultural Society: to the left the offices of the Medical Board, &c. The inspection of the building, we believe, is patent to visitors.

THE CASTLE.—In the rear of the Town Hall is the Castle, which originally constituted a building of vast importance to the inhabitants of Bombay, who on the incursions of the Mahrattas sought security within its precincts. Here are nominally passed all the decrees and official transactions of Government, which bear date “Bombay Castle”. The fort flag staff is placed near one of the turrets. The Castle is chiefly used as the arsenal; here are also the offices of the Government Savings Bank.

THE MINT.—This is a large, commodious but dingy-looking building, situated between the Town Hall and the King's Barracks.

PAY AND COMMISSARY GENERAL'S OFFICES.—These are situated on the opposite side of Bombay Green and originally formed the Secretariate, until the Governor changed his place of residence to Parell. On the East part, near the old Bombay Theatre, stand the Commissary General's Offices, where are kept in large vats spirits, Beer &c. for the department. The south front is occupied as offices for the Military and Marine pay departments. To the right hand are the offices of the master in Equity, of the Supreme Court and at the left extremity are the offices of the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court.

CATHEDRAL OF ST. THOMAS.—This is the only protestant episcopal building within the fort. Its consists of a very plain building with two entrances. The Church is surmounted by a steeple, containing a clock with four faces. The church is an old erection; the steeple, however, has been built within the last ten years, but owing to the state of the walls of the edifice, no bells of any weight were suspended in it, lest the Church should give way, the large bell is situated on the right hand of the church, immediately under the vestry, and about three feet from the ground. The church is dedicated to St. Thomas and was converted into a Cathedral on the appointment of a protestant Bishop at Bombay. Within the building are several neat but interesting monuments some from the chisel of the two great modern masters. The building itself is inferior to many parish churches in England and possesses neither ornament nor grace to recommend it.

THE SECRETARIATE.—This building situated on the western side of Bombay Green formed the Government House of "olden time," it was converted into the offices of the Secretariate on the completion of the new residence at Parrell. It is a plain and uninteresting building, surrounded by a garden in the north east angle of which stands the office of the Town Major. Here are transacted the executive business of Government in the political, civil and revenue departments. The secretaries in each department are assisted by Europeans now designated unconvicted assistants, but formerly called Clerks; and in each department there is a great number of sectioners and examiners: many of the latter are Europeans. To the establishment has been added several book-binders to arrange and bind up the records. The garden is planted with mulberry trees, the leaves of which are given to the silk worms belonging to Mr. de Ramos, the assistant superintendent of silk culture in the Konkan.

SIR JAMSETJEE JEEJEEBHAY'S.—The residence of this wealthy and enterprising Parsee gentleman is situated in Hornby row, fronting the esplanade. It is one of the neatest buildings within the fort; the interior arrangements are elegant and complete. The above distinguished individual whose benevolence is neither shortened by the extent of the misery he beneficently relieves nor precluded by distance from exercising his most genial influence has received the warmest and most signal approbation of the Queen of Great Britain, to whom his benevolence and enterprize, indicated a fit object for Royal distinction. This was marked by creating Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, a Knight of the United Kingdom. Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, the founder of his family's fame and fortune, was brought up with his father-in-law, who was an extensive merchant. Young Jamsetjee made several voyages to China, and it is said in one of these trips, formed a friendship with the Nacoda, Mahomed Ali Rogay, which time has served only to cement. The trade of the house increased greatly, owing in great measure to the exertions of the supercargo, Jamsetjee. 1813-14 his father-in-law died and Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, the heir, carried on trade and has continued to do so on his own account, in connection with Mahomed Ali Rogay and latterly his sons, until the extent of his commercial transactions and the amount of credit attached to his reputation is without a parallel in modern times.

EUROPEAN GENERAL HOSPITAL.—This admirable institution which has so largely contributed to relieve the sufferings of that portion of humanity which form its objects, is situated next to Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy's in Hornby Row. It is a low old fashioned building, having much the resemblance of old almshouses in England. It is nevertheless airy and the arrangements are very efficient. The institution is as its name implies a general hospital, no other recommendation, on the part of Europeans is required than that they stand in need of medical assistance. During the past year the Government has resolved to remove the Hospital to some more eligible situation. It is said Government intends to erect the new Eur. General Hospital at Colaba, opposite to the Grant buildings.

REMARKS ON BOMBAY.

it was not possible to proceed without a passport. Even within the recollection of twenty years the toils of trade or the pleasures of the sportsman could not be pursued beyond the limits of the island without special passport. The following order may be contrasted with the liberty which at present prevails.

PUBLIC DEPARTMENT.

1. It having been judged necessary that a daily report should be made to the Right Honorable the Governor, of the names and descriptions of all European travellers, arriving at or departing from this presidency, either by sea or land, notice is hereby given, that, from and after this date, all persons not military, who will as usual report themselves to the Town Major, are expected immediately on their arrival at Bombay to report themselves, either personally, or in writing, at the office of the senior magistrate of the police within the fort, specifying at the same time, their intended places of abode during their stay at the presidency. And previously to their departure, they are expected in like manner to report to that officer, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor.

2. It is to be understood that the above order is considered to be applicable to persons usually residing at Bombay, who may proceed occasionally to any place beyond the Islands of Bombay, Salsette, Caranjah or Elephanta.

3. And Europeans of whatever rank, description, or country, who shall be discovered passing through the territories under this presidency, beyond the islands abovementioned, without being furnished with a regular passport, will be taken into custody, and confined until the pleasure of government shall be known.

4. The only exception which the Right Honorable the Governor in Council has been pleased to make to the foregoing resolution, is in favor of officers commanding parties of His Majesty's or the Honorable Company's troops, or of officers of the civil, or military establishments, proceeding from station to station on duty, or known to the Magistrates, Collectors, or Senior Civil, or Military authorities of the divisions, to be in the actual employ of Government.

5. For the more strict execution of this order, notice is hereby further given, that a reward of ten Rupees, will be paid to any person, who shall take up, and bring into the nearest garrison, or to the magistrate of the division, any European deserter, or vagrant of any description.

6. Passports will be granted at Bombay by the senior magistrate of police, or in his absence, by the junior magistrate; and at the on stations by the magistrates, collectors, or senior civil or military authorities there residing.

MINUTES OF COUNCIL.

10TH APRIL 1818.

The duty of seizing and confining Europeans or Americans, passing through the British Territories without regular Passports, is to be executed by the Magistrate and the Officers of Police in each Zillah, and by Commanding Officers of Outposts.

By order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor in Council,
WILLIAM NEWNHAM, Secy. to Govt.

Bombay Castle, 10th April 1818.

European articles for the table were formerly almost beyond the reach of junior Merchants and subalterns; a taste of good light wine was more than an Ensign's daily pay. In those days fortunes were made, but luxuries were scarce even known even at the tables of the affluent. The following exhibits the prices of a few articles, which, from their cost, could not be appropriately called necessaries although now generally viewed as such. Not to seek out a remote period we will select the following years.

The Commerce of Bombay, has been wonderfully augmented and the progress almost uninterrupted from the period of its cession to the East India Company to the present time. The principal commodities, which, as staple articles peculiar to Bombay, have contributed largely to its prosperity, are Cotton and Opium; the former being shipped in great quantities to Great Britain and China, and the drug to China and Singapore. Formerly this trade was almost wholly in the hands of the Company, but of late years free Merchants and Natives have entered extensively into mercantile speculations; and since the re-creation of the Company's Charter of sole trade it has been almost doubled. There is now a large amount of shipping belonging to European and Native Merchants which is wholly engaged in the country trade, and maintain constant communication between Bombay, and the ports of India, China, Singapore, the Straits, Australia, Mauritius, East Coast of Africa, the Red Sea, and the Persian Gulph. Some ships carry on trade with Europe, being entitled to all the privileges of British bottoms. Most of the vessels are manned by Native Seamen, with European Officers, and some possess Native Captains called Nukodas. The other articles which constitute the products shipped from Bombay consist of Sandalwood, Pepper and Coffee from the Malabar Coast; Gums, Drugs, Pearls, and Coffee from Arabia, Persia, and the East Coast of Africa; Shark fins, fish maws, horns and dyes from the Persian Gulph, the Maldives and Laccadives.

Notwithstanding the present Commercial prosperity of Bombay it has not been without its vicissitudes and changes, especially during the long and unfortunate wars with France and the frequent interruption occasioned by the disturbances amongst the native princes in the surrounding Countries. This will be observed in reference to the events before 1700. In the year 1793 to such a state of Commercial inactivity and depression was Bombay reduced, that in November of that year a meeting was held of the Mercantile community, unconnected with the Company, at which it was resolved, in consequence of the distressed state of trade and the impracticality of employing money in safe channels as investments, to reduce the rate of interest from three quarters per cent monthly to one half per cent. The following is the resolution which appeared in the newspapers at that time.

At a meeting of the Merchants and Agents, in consequence of the Advertisement in the Bombay Courier, of the 23rd Instant, the following Resolution was unanimously agreed to:—
November, 30th 1793.

From the great Stagnation in the Trade of this Port, occasioned by the present War, the unprotected state of our Shipping, the overflow of money arising from the Hon'ble Company being enabled to make rapid progress in the discharge of their Bonded Debt, the difficulty and insecurity in employing money, except by investment in Company's Paper, which now bears an Interest only of six per cent per annum, and that subject to the inconvenience of not being realizable when wanted; We, the undersigned, find it necessary, to resolve on a reduction, for the present, of the Interest on money in our hands, belonging to our Constituents, from the hitherto current rate  $\frac{3}{4}$  per cent. per month, to  $\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. per month, of thirty days to commence from the 1st of August last.

A similar state of affairs occurred about fifty years later, owing to the wars in Afghanistan and China, the market previously deluged with Europe manufactures, and the absence of the usual remittances of Sycee Silver from China. Still the crisis was not so severe as to induce a reduction of the usual rate of interest, a circumstance which added to the difficulties and less easy of being carried than in 1793, owing to the great competition which has of late prevailed.

Under the company's rule, for many years after the cession of the island of Bombay, its gross annual revenue would not defray one fourth part of the expenses incurred in maintaining an adequate establishment for its protection, and to conduct the duties of office belonging to the government: even in the year 1680 when its annual revenue had increased eight-fold, the pay of a member of Council was limited to the sum of £70 per annum,—being the amount now paid to subordinate native clerks. In 1812-13 the commercial revenue alone of Bombay ran close upon the sum of half a Million sterling; the total imports and exports, including the Coin and Gunter, exhibit £18,079,865 as the value of merchandize and treasure; but this obviously is only an approximate account of the value of merchandize—it is put down at what it is entered at the Custom House. Perhaps we do not over estimate the total invested capital if we set down the actual value at £25,000,000.

The better to form an estimate of the augmented trade of Bombay will be a reference to figures, and we take the annexed as exhibiting the increase of trade since the expiration of the Company's Charter of exclusive trade—extending over a period of nine years.

Having afforded a few particulars relating rather to what Bombay was, we will now proceed to offer some observations on what it is at present.

The city of Bombay is situated on the narrowest part of the island near its south eastern extremity. The town within the fort is about a mile in length from the Apollo Gate to the Bazar Gate, and a quarter of a mile in breadth, it is surrounded by fortifications which have been gradually improved in proportion to the growing importance of the place. The principal part occupied by Europeans is at the north end of the town: the houses are built in a semi-European style equally commodious but less elegant than the residences of Europeans at Calcutta or Madras. The houses are lofty but have a dingy and gloomy appearance.

The streets of Bombay are of moderate width; they are macadamized; some are watered twice each day during the hot weather. There are no lamps in the streets at night: during the time of new moon the foot has a dark and melancholy aspect. In the centre of the streets run a line of sewers; these are near the surface and become frequently injured and stopped up. The houses of business are usually in convenient situations, the lower part of the buildings being generally used as godowns. The shops for Europe articles are few, but are well furnished with merchandize as Tyabjee Bhoymeahs, Bennett and Co., Robert Frith & Co., Thomson and Co., Meehajee Ahmedbhoy, &c. The interior of these bazars, for so they may be called, contrast strangely with their external cellar-looking appearance; their contents however will furnish a paper of pins or a carriage by the best English maker, a pair of kid gloves or a bundle of cloth. All the departments of carriage repository, Jewellery, Bijouterie, Millinery, Stationery, &c. &c. meet, without confusion, a place of eminence in each store. In the way of shop fronts but little progress has been made. A beginning however, was set by Messrs. Lloyd Joseph and Co., Druggists, whose warehouse outside and within is not far behind Butler's in St. Paul's Church yard. The march of improvement has been followed by Messrs. Treacher and Co. who appear resolved not to be outdone by their new rivals. The carpenters and work-box makers' shops are worthy of remark, these are confined to Melows and Forbes's streets, and their busy inmates impart at all times a business like appearance to the town.

The population of Bombay is uncertain and varied. On the opening and during the trading season there is an influx of the merchants or their Agents from the Deccan, Conkan, Scinde, Marwar, Mooltan, Cabool, Persia, Arabia, Lahore, and Central Asia; who resort to Bombay and return to their native countries with the produce of the civilized Globe. The number of this uncertain or temporary residents varies from 50,000 to 70,000. The ordinary inhabitants consist of Europeans, East Indians, Hindoos of all castes and Mahomedan from every Country where Islamism is professed. There are also about 18,000 Parsees (of which number more than one third are priests)

Jews, Chinese, Armenians, Malays, &c. Nearly every country on the Globe has its representative at Bombay, each dressed in the costume of his country and imparting to the whole scene a degree of interest and ethnological variety no where else to be seen. In 1833 a census was taken of the population of the island of Bombay, which exhibited 117,016 as the number of the permanent adult population. In a letter from Mr. Warden to the Secretary of Government in the Judicial Department, No. 199 of 1835: "The population of the Island Bombay" observes Mr. Warden "is computed in common conversation at 250,000 souls. It will be observed from the annexed abstract of the census (No. 1) that it gives 117,016 adults, to which in a country where everybody is married we may add at least an equal number of children, making the whole population by the census 234,032. Or the census may be proved thus. There are 22,000 houses in Bombay, with at least ten persons, on an average, in each house; which gives the population at 220,000 persons."

The number of the population is now in 1844-5 about 300,000. The Government is about to take a fresh census, which will put us in possession of more satisfactory information. In the meantime we submit the following copy of the official census-abstract of 1833, which possesses some interest and may be relied on as correct. The number of men was 68,570.

Since the above period the increased trade of Bombay has caused the inhabitants to be greatly augmented, in all probability the amount has been increased by at least one fourth.

The Pursee inhabitants live chiefly within the fort or in the immediate neighbourhood of the Aulary without the fort. The Hindoos live at the Bazar extremity of the fort or congregate as near to the temples of Mombadavee and Bhulawer, as they can. The Mahomedan part of the population reside to the right and left of the Bendy Bazar road.

On entering Bombay from the sea the appearance is captivating: The number of ships and small craft in the harbour, the extensive pile of buildings lately erected by the Merchants on Colaba, and the town and surrounding hills in the distance, impart to the scene an extremely picturesque appearance, hardly borne out on closer inspection. On the land front of the town is the esplanade, a place of agreeable resort, on which in the hot season bungalows and tents are erected and occupied by civilians and military visitors at the Presidency. Beyond this, at the distance of a mile is the native town, in which the principal part of the Hindoos and Mohomedans reside, and which extends nearly two miles by more than a mile in breadth. Beyond this, European residents generally reside in detached Bungalows or neat villas surrounded by gardens. The objects of interest will be best described by presenting each in detail, and this we will do as nearly as possible in the order which they present themselves to our view, commencing with.

THE LIGHTHOUSE.—This is situated at the highest part and at the extremity of the island of Colaba. The light is visible nearly forty Miles distant, at sea.

THE LUNATIC ASYLUM.—Is situated near the lighthouse on the opposite side of the road and consists of the institution, which is built with due regard for the security and health of its unfortunate inmates; the house occupied by the surgeon in charge and outhouses necessary for the establishment. Every care is exercised and all human means resorted to for the cure of the mental diseases of the patients or the mitigation of their sufferings, by a system of kind treatment. In addition to the wards for patients sent here by Government there are rooms for the accommodation of private individuals labouring under mental affliction, which for cleanliness and general superintendence, are not surpassed by similar establishments in England. The arrangements of the Asylum may be believed to be seen by visitors on application to the Resident Surgeon. There is also a smaller asylum about a mile nearer the fort and not far from the gun-carriage manufactory.

THE OBSERVATORY.—This building is close to the Lighthouse and separated from the compound of the latter by a slight fence. The observatory has been greatly improved since its institution by the addition to the building of a Lecture room, in which Scientific Lectures are given weekly, to the junior officers of the navy, and open to the public free. For this valuable addition, and various important improvements in the general arrangement of the establishment, the merit is due to George Huist, L.L. D. who is in charge of the Observatory and delivers the Lectures accompanying his remarks by experiments and demonstrations. Both duties are performed cheerfully and efficiently without cost to the Government. The Lectures owe their origin to some remarks made by Mr. Jenkins and the officers under his charge at the Observatory. Government caused a Lecture room to be constructed and ordered a sufficiency of apparatus to be supplied. The regular course, it was proposed, to commence on Wednesday, the 2nd of Oct. and close on the 14th of Dec., 1844, beginning at 5 P. M., on the Wednesdays and 5 P. M. on Saturdays, and to be repeated, with such alterations as were considered expedient, three times a year: the third term ending in May. Chemistry was designed to form the subject of the Wednesday and Natural Philosophy of the Saturday Lectures. Natural History with the application of science to the arts, form the subject for Wednesday and Saturday at the conclusion of the course.

The Observatory consists of two well fitted up buildings for the separate purposes of Astronomical, Magnetic, and Meteorological observation. The Astronomical Observatory was erected 10 or 15 years since and placed in charge of Mr. Curdin, now of the Calcutta Mint. It was rather indifferently supplied with instruments from the first, and the best of them were subsequently withdrawn. Those presently in use are a three feet transit telescope, by which the transits of from two to six stars are taken every evening; an Altitude and Azimuth Circle; an Astronomical Clock; and a couple of Refracting Telescopes. A self registering Rain and Wind Gauge on Mr. Ostler's principle, belonging to the Meteorological department, is in use at the Astronomical observatory. The work performed chiefly relates to the rating of the chronometers of the Indian Navy, of which there are generally from five to fifteen in charge, and giving time to the shipping in the port. This last is effected by two different plans so as to afford as much accommodation as possible to ship Captains. The flash of Gunfire is observed, and its error noted and published in the newspapers, and also written out and hung up daily in the Master Attendant's Office, and commercial Reading Rooms, to correct a watch on board ship by this, it is only necessary that the Gun fire should be observed and its error noted by the chronometer on board: the following will give the result.

Time of gun fires seen from the observatory noted by a Chronometer for true time say 8-59-5. Time of gun fire as noted from on board by ship's Chronometer, say 9h. 1m. 2s. This gives error of gun fire 9h. 5s: error of ship's Chronometer 9h. 1m. 57s. The other method of giving time to the shipping is by a board 3 feet square hoisted to the top of a tall spar seen from the harbour over the cupola of the Observatory: it is dropped precisely at one o'clock Bombay mean time. Dr. Huist is at present in charge of the establishment with one permanent and one occasional native Assistant; the latter being chiefly employed in the other department of the observatory. The Superintendent resides under the same roof, about two thirds of the building being occupied as a dwelling House, one third as observatory or office:—The appointment is unsalaried, and is at present only held provisionally.

The Magnetic and Meteorological Observatory occupies a different building within the compound: it is, like the other Observatory, under charge of Dr. Huist. It was erected in 1840 and first put in operation, in November 1841. The original assistants were Non Commissioned Officers of the Sappers and Miners Corps. Two of these having in absence of Mr. Orlebar on a tour of inspection misconducted themselves, the regular observations in the shape prescribed by the Royal Society were for a time interrupted. Three Native Assistants having been sanctioned on 28th August 1842, operations were resumed on the 1st September and have since then been conducted regularly. The instruments for magnetic purposes : are a horizontal and vertical force magnetometer, with horizontal and vertical declinometers ; these are read hourly day and night. The dipping needle (Major Sabine's instrument) for determining magnetic intensity are registered at stated periods. The Meteorological instruments consist of a large Standard Barometer by Newman with a Tube of half an inch diameter ; Simplexometer by Adie, wet and dry bulb Thermometers ; Maximum and Minimum self-registering, Thermometers ; for a solar and terrestrial radiation, and for standard reference and for the purpose of experiment. An Actinometer, and a Hygrometer by Daniell, are read at stated periods. Two rain gauges on the open ground, with a self-registering tube are used during the wet season.

The whole of these instruments are read hourly day and night. Betwixt the hours of 2 and 4, and 8 and 10 A. M. and P. M., the Barometer and Simplexometer are read every ten minutes. The number of readings registered daily amount to above 280 ; besides about half as many occasional readings, all of which are afterwards corrected, tabled, and lithographed at the observatory, by the Assistants. These consist of one European non-commissioned officer, three constant and one occasional native observers. The instruments were intended for an observatory proposed to have been erected at Aden, which is nearly under the magnetic equator. They were transferred to Bombay, which is within eleven minutes of the meridian of no variation. The institution is one of 51 now in operation on the same plan in various quarters of the globe. Of these there are six in India, viz. at Simla, Madras, Singapore, Trevandrum, Lucknow, and Colaba. To these as well as to the Royal Society of London, to the Government of Bombay, the Royal Asiatic Society of Calcutta, the Bombay branch of the Royal Asiatic Society and to Mr. Puddington Curator of the Museum of Economic Geology of the Museum of Calcutta, copies of the reports of the Observatory are forwarded every month by order of Government.

GRANT AND COLABA BUILDINGS.—These buildings but were recently erected and form one of the great Mercantile improvements at the Presidency undertaken at the cost of some of the merchants of Bombay largely engaged in the shipment of raw Cotton. They were commenced about two years ago and are now nearly completed. These buildings are the largest erections of the kind near Bombay, they are situated on small Colaba, at about one mile distant from the Fort, and were called after the family name of a former Governor, Sir Robert Grant. The Mercantile firms whose offices are in the principal building are : McVicar Burn and Co.,—W. and T. Edmond and Co.,—Dirom Hunter and Co.,—T. R. Richmond,--and Cursetjee Cowasjee Sons and Co. There is a very commodious Bunder here, lately erected and called Arthur Bunder, after our present worthy Governor Sir George Arthur. There are also improved cranes for landing and shipping of Cotton.

COLABA CAUSEWAY.—This Causeway which connects the Islands of Colaba with Bombay was erected in the year 1838 previous to which time a ferry was established here. The construction of this work is a great improvement, but it is said that as it denies a free passage to the tide at high water : the sea has in consequence made and continues to make very serious encroachment on the esplanade and Back Bay, where it has completely swept away the sea wall which formerly existed along the Beach. The causeway is nearly half a mile in length by about fifty feet in width, and on each side is a raised footpath for the convenience of foot passengers. There is no toll and free passage is allowed to every kind of vehicle proceeding to or from the town.

APOLLO BUNDER.—This is a spacious pier built of stone, and, next to the Custom House Bunder, is the general place where passengers and merchandize are landed or proceed on ship board. Each side or curb is protected by iron posts and chains to prevent persons from falling into the sea. Here also are several large and powerful cranes for the lading or unlading of small craft which are usually moored alongside the Bunder and convey cotton, &c. to the ship or land it for the purpose of its being screwed prior to final shipment. This useful work dertaking was constructed at the joint expense of the Government and merchants of Bombay, and completed in 1840.

THE FORTIFICATIONS.—These are considered extremely strong, except on the land side where they would offer but feeble resistance to an enemy, once landed and capable of making regular approaches: the high range of land at Mazagon once in the possession of an enemy it would be extremely difficult to dislodge the foe. However there is but little expectation of land attacks so long as we possess sovereignty, on the sea, and in that conviction it has often been suggested to fill up the moat extending along the land side of the fort, and to erect buildings on the esplanade—a suggestion, never likely to be put in execution. Near the Apollo gate is the saluting battery, and adjoining the gate is the powder magazine. There are three gates; two of these are new, spacious and even elegant; the other is old and narrow. To each there are excellent drawbridges and outworks.

THE DOCKYARD.—This establishment has more than any thing else contributed to the importance of Bombay and raised it to its present degree of eminence as an entrepôt of commerce. The establishment until recently was almost entirely under the superintendence of Parsee Builders, who still exercise a large share in the operations carried on. The accommodation is so ample and the skill of the artificers so far matured that the largest description of vessels have been built here without the aid of European workmen. The family particularly distinguished shipbuilders is that of Nowrojee Jamsetjee; the latter has lately retired at an advanced age. His sons have recently sought the advantages to be derived from instructions in England in naval Architecture and Steam machinery. About twenty ships of war have been built here: at the present time three large vessels are in course of construction for Her Majesty's Navy, for which purpose some additional ships have been built or are in course of completion. The establishment has been improved by the addition of a building in which machinery is now made under the direction of an eminent engineer. Within the Dockyard, are the offices of the Superintendent of the Indian Navy who has also the direction of the Dockyard Establishment, and is an officer of H. M. Navy. The gentleman at present holding the appointment is Commodore Pepper, I. N. Acting for Sir Robert Clive, R. N. who, in consideration of his long and able Superintendence, was knighted by Her Majesty in 1844.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—The Scotch Church is a neat edifice with a pediment front. The church is surmounted by a neat and pointed spire. It is in connexion with the established Church of Scotland. The building was commenced in 18 and completed in 18.)

THE LEE HOUSE.—Is close to St. Andrews Church. It was built by public subscription and finished a few months back. The ground was given by the authorities conditionally that it should be restored if at any future period the site were required by the Government. The total cost of the building amounted to nearly fifty thousand rupees. Its circumference is 130 feet; the depth of the lee wall is about 10 feet. An iron railing is placed on three sides of the building; the entrance is from Rampart Row.

THE COURT HOUSE.—In this building Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature is held, in supercession of the Recorder's Court which formerly existed. The Court House was erected by Colonel Hornby for his own use. It is not eminently adapted for a Court of Law in consequence of the frequent interruption occasioned by noises in the Dock Yard. This has of late been remedied during the Criminal Sessions by stopping the operations of the workmen employed immediately in front of the Court. The sum of Rupees 2000 is paid monthly for renting the building. The lower part of the edifice is occupied by the Clerk of the Crown and the Sheriff's offices. On the first floor, in the largest room, the Court usually sits to hear and adjudicate Civil and Criminal causes; and above on the second floor are the offices of the Judges who sit here in Chambers and dispose of public business. The officers of the Court consist of the Chief and a Puisne justice who generally sit alternately during Term and quarter Sessions, unless cases of importance require the attendance of both judges. The duties of the judges are extremely harassing; the cases are sometimes protracted and intricate, requiring the undivided attention of the presiding judge for several days without intermission, and this too with the temperature usually from 80° to 90° Fahr. In the same building also are held Courts of Admiralty, ecclesiastical and Insolvent debtors Courts, and a small cause Court for actions under 350 rupees and not less than 90 ;—any suit above the latter amount not being cognizable by the Court of Requests. Besides the usual officers of an English Court of Justice there are Interpreters and translators, European and native, to make known to the Court, the evidence and other matters of the suitors, witnesses, &c. whose testimony or matters are brought before the Court. There are at present eight gentlemen practising as Barristers and nine attorneys, solicitors and proctors. The officers and practitioners of the Court are chiefly sons of the Emerald Isle, and for talents, zeal and integrity would do honor to any Court of law at home.

DADY'S BUILDING.—This large pile of buildings, the several parts of which form mercantile offices, the Police office, &c., was formerly called Admiralty House, the garden of which joined that of old Government House, now the Secretariate. Dady's Buildings were erected by a Parsee, Dady Nasserwanjee, the Grandfather of the present Cursetjee Ardaseer. The proprietor was a merchant and it is said accumulated wealth by trading largely, and by enterprising projects, which contributed greatly to the improvement of Bombay. This same Dady Nasserwanjee built also, the large house at Ambrolle, known as the Rev. Dr. Wilson's and now used as a Mission House of the Free Church of Scotland. Dady likewise built the house at Breach Candy, called the Crow's Nest, at present occupied by Professor Orlebar.

COTTON SCREWS.—There are several Screws employed for Pressing Cotton which are chiefly under the management of Companies. Various improvements have from time to time been introduced in perfecting the machines employed. Dady Nasserwanjee established Screws of which the father of Jeejeebhoy Dada-bhoy Esq., was manager. Dr Scott introduced several alterations, and of late the Cotton Screws have been brought to a state of comparative perfection under the scientific skill of Mr. Cardwell of the firm of Higginson and Cardwell, merchants. The Screws are worked by means of capstans and employ a great number of hands. It may suffice to enumerate the establishments, which consist of the Company's Screws, the Apollo Screws, Remington's Screws.

GENERAL POST OFFICE.—This is a neat and well arranged building ; the several departments are kept distinct, thus avoiding all confusion. Betwixt the Europe and India Departments is a court yard, in the rear of which stands the office of the Postmaster General. The old post office, now the office of the Naval Store keeper, was as ill suited to the purposes of a post office as it was possible to be. The new building has been completed more than a year. Much of the improvement visible in the arrangements of the establishment are due to Mr. Gordon, the present Postmaster General, and Deputy Postmaster W. Blowers, under whose able direction, on the arrival of the Steamer from Europe, the English overland Summaries are delivered to the editors of the Courier and Times in less than five minutes after their arrival at the Post Office. Such are the admirable arrangements that on the departure of the mail for Europe, the letters and packets are assorted, packed in iron or wooden boxes and placed on board the Steamer in less than two hours from the time of closing the receiving office, even when the mail includes so great a number of covers as 45,000 or 50,000—a degree of celerity equal to most post offices in Europe!

THE CUSTOM HOUSE.—This is a large but heavy looking building, and is now one of the oldest Government erections in Bombay. It was built in 1714. At the time of its erection it was considered a large and extensive building adequate to the increasing business of Bombay. Under the Company's rule, prior to the expiration of the Charter in 1834, the arrangements of the Custom House were somewhat different to what are now in existence, as the Company carried on here the whole of their retail as well as wholesale trade, the collection of custom dues, &c. The petty Customs, as remarked elsewhere, were collected in the building which now is used as barracks. The land front of the Custom House is at present occupied as the offices for the collection of Land revenue, and the Harbour front as offices for the collection of Sea Customs. The arrangements of the latter are about to undergo certain judicious alterations, which, when completed, will localize the export department on the right hand from the harbour entrance and the Import Department on the left hand of the building. This arrangement will be exceedingly judicious. The business of the customs department has greatly augmented: the value of goods which passed during the year 1843-44 amounted to Rs. 12,19,81,343 for Imports, and Rs. 10,46,34,715 for Exports.

BOMBAY GREEN.—This is the only open space within the fort of Bombay, and is about the same size as Trafalgar square at Charing Cross. It formerly constituted the place of rendezvous now supplied by the Esplanade; here, until the introduction of carriages at the commencement of the present century, were wont to assemble the élite of Bombay. About 1810, the green was little better than a Metal and Cotton store, for here were deposited Iron bars, &c. and bales of Cotton, which now are either placed in private godowns or on the esplanade near the Apollo pier. Bombay Green formed the rendezvous until that which is now called the Esplanade was cleared of the jungle which until 1795 covered its whole extent, from the place of the "two tombs" at Colaba to the Marine Lines. The abandonment of the present Secretariate by the Governor for the more commodious building at Parell gave a blow to the dignity of the green sward within the fort. Its importance, notwithstanding the erection of the statue in its centre, became less; but it now promises to revive under the surveillance of the Agri-Horticultural Society of Bombay, which has taken it under its protection, and under the sanction of Government is about to convert it into a flower garden, with public walks, &c. thus constituting it once more a place of retreat for the residents within the fort, equal to the growing and improving importance of Bombay.

THE TOWN HALL.—This is a comparatively new and noble building, erected in 1821-33 and devoted to Government and municipal purposes. It is from a design of Colonel Cowper of the Engineer's. The Town Hall occupies the eastern side of Bombay Green and imparts a commanding appearance to the view. In 1793 an attempt was made at general improvement and in particular to erect a Town Hall from the proceeds of a Lottery scheme, but the plan failed and the scheme was abandoned. The Town Hall consists of a frontage of about 130 feet; the centre is a pediment supported by six fluted columns, below the base of which there are 30 steps. In the centre of the building is a large Hall used occasionally, for public assemblages on a requisition made to the Sheriff. On the right hand is a marble statue of Sir Charles Forbes, executed by Chantrey at the seat of the natives of Bombay, who, to mark their sense of Sir Charles approved services as a fellow citizen, subscribed towards a monument to be erected to his memory. On the right hand of the Hall is the Council Chamber and other offices of the Government. On the left are the rooms of the Asiatic Society, containing the Library and Museum, which for compactness, completeness and interesting contents, equal any establishment of the kind. On the ground floor, in the centre and at the rear of the building is the Civil pay office, and the Court of Requests. To the right are the rooms of the Geographical Society the Horticultural Society: to the left the offices of the Medical Board, &c. The inspection of the building, we believe, is patent to visitors.

THE CASTLE.—In the rear of the Town Hall is the Castle, which originally constituted a building of vast importance to the inhabitants of Bombay, who on the incursions of the Mahrattas sought security within its precincts. Here are nominally passed all the decess and official transactions of Government, which bear date "Bombay Castle". The fort flag staff is placed near one of the turrets. The Castle is chiefly used as the arsenal; here are also the offices of the Government Saving's Bank.

THE MINT.—This is a large, commodious but dingy-looking building, situated between the Town Hall and the King's Barracks.

PAY AND COMMISSARY GENERAL'S OFFICES.—These are situated on the opposite side of Bombay Green and originally formed the Secretariate, until the Governor changed his place of residence to Parell. On the East part, near the old Bombay Theatre, stand the Commissary General's Offices, where are kept in large vata spirits, Beer &c. for the department. The south front is occupied as offices for the Military and Marine pay departments. To the right hand are the offices of the master in Equity, of the Supreme Court and at the left extremity are the offices of the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court.

CATHEDRAL OF ST. THOMAS.—This is the only protestant episcopal building within the fort. It consists of a very plain building with two entrances. The Church is surmounted by a steeple, containing a clock with four faces. The church is an old erection; the steeple, however, has been built within the last ten years, but owing to the state of the walls of the edifice, no bells of any weight were suspended in it, lest the Church should give way, the large bell is situated on the right hand of the church, immediately under the vestry, and about three feet from the ground. The church is dedicated to St. Thomas and was converted into a Cathedral on the appointment of a protestant Bishop at Bombay. Within the building are several neat but interesting monuments some from the chisel of the two great modern masters. The building itself is inferior to many parish churches in England and possesses neither ornament nor grace to recommend it.

THE SECRETARIATE.—This building situated on the western side of Bombay Green formed the Government House of "olden time," it was converted into the offices of the Secretariate on the completion of the new residence at Parrell. It is a plain and uninteresting building, surrounded by a garden in the north east angle of which stands the office of the Town Major. Here are transacted the executive business of Government in the political, civil and revenue departments. The secretaries in each department are assisted by Europeans now designated unconvenanted assistants, but formerly called Clerks; and in each department there is a great number of sectioners and examiners: many of the latter are Europeans. To the establishment has been added several book-binders to arrange and bind up the records. The garden is planted with mulberry trees, the leaves of which are given to the silk worms belonging to Mr. de Ramos, the assistant superintendent of silk culture in the Konkan.

SIR JAMSETJEE JEEJEEBHAY'S.—The residence of this wealthy and enterprising Parsee gentleman is situated in Hornby row, fronting the esplanade. It is one of the neatest buildings within the fort; the interior arrangements are elegant and complete. The above distinguished individual whose benevolence is neither shortened by the extent of the misery he beneficently relieves nor precluded by distance from exercising its most genial influence has received the warmest and most signal approbation of the Queen of Great Britain, to whom his benevolence and enterprise, indicated a fit object for Royal distinction. This was marked by creating Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, a Knight of the United Kingdom. Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, the founder of his family's fame and fortune, was brought up with his father-in-law, who was an extensive merchant. Young Jamsetjee made several voyages to China, and it is said in one of these trips, formed a friendship with the Nacoda, Mahomed Ali Rogay, which time has served only to cement. The trade of the house increased greatly, owing in great measure to the exertions of the supercargo, Jamsetjee. 1813-14 his father-in-law died and Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, the heir, carried on trade and has continued to do so on his own account, in connection with Mahomed Ali Rogay and latterly his sons, until the extent of his commercial transactions and the amount of credit attached to his reputation is without a parallel in modern times.

EUROPEAN GENERAL HOSPITAL.—This admirable institution which has so largely contributed to relieve the sufferings of that portion of humanity which form its objects, is situated next to Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy's in Hornby Row. It is a low old fashioned building, having much the resemblance of old alms houses in England. It is nevertheless airy and the arrangements are very efficient. The institution is as its name implies a general hospital, no other recommendation, on the part of Europeans is required than that they stand in need of medical assistance. During the past year the Government has resolved to remove the Hospital to some more eligible situation. It is said Government intends to erect the new Eur. General Hospital at Colaba, opposite to the Grant buildings.

THE ESPLANADE.—The formation of the Esplanade has more than anything else contributed to the healthfulness and security of Bombay. Prior to the removal of the jungle which surrounded the fort on the land side, Bombay was reputed one of the unhealthiest places in India, not excluding the City of Palaces on the Hoogly. In the adjudication of the question for the settlement of land, in lieu of that at present occupied as the esplanade, the Government were extremely liberal. At that time there were several residences just without the fort, on the spot where the temporary Bungalows and the Sanatorium are now located, and extending almost as far as the Dhobie Tunks, which were then situated on the spot now used for the Marine Lines. The Beach at Back Bay then formed the race course, extending from the verge of the Esplanade to the "Arbour" near the coopersge. The Beach as far as the Wood Bunder at Chowpatty was secured by a sea wall of great strength, the only vestige of which remains to be seen a little beyond the bungalow now occupied by Dr. Burns. On the Esplanade there are several wells of good water, resorted to by the Parsees and every caste of Hindoos—the Muslims use those on the right hand on the South Eastern verge of the Esplanade, near which the Dhobis at present carry on their avocation. These wells have been chiefly constructed at the expense of private individuals of charitable dispositions, the great part of them have lapsed to government in consequence of their founders neglecting to keep them in a state of repair. On the Esplanade, during the hot season, the civil and military residents at Bombay usually resort, living either in tents or in temporary dwellings constructed of wood and covered with euljina. These temporary erections continue from the end of September to the beginning of June, when the rains setting in render a temporary shelter of no avail from the boisterous nature of the weather.

NATIVE EDUCATION SOCIETY—ELPHINSTONE COLLEGE.—The admirable institution known as the Elphinstone College, with which the Native Education Society is now united stands on the verge of the Esplanade, near the Kulkadavee road. The building is large and of late an adjoining house formerly the Racket Court Hotel, has been engaged as a Mahratta School.

SIR JAMES JESSE'S HOSPITAL.—This is an elegant semi-Gothic building erected by the munificence of its founder after whose name it is called. Attached to the edifice is the Grant Medical College, The building is large and commodious; the principal front is facing the Bandy Bazar road; the second front is opposite to the Baboolah Tank. In the rear of the building stands the Sadder Adawlut, a Court of appeal from the Zillah Courts of the Bombay Presidency. The building is near completion, so soon as it is finished the Native General Hospital will be removed hither and the College founded in memory of Sir Robert Grant be opened as a medical school for the instruction of the natives. The institution is in every way worthy of its distinguished benefactor and forms a great ornament to the Western Metropolis of India.

BYCULLA CHURCH.—This is a neat and modern edifice, built in a style somewhat after the celebrated Church in Loughan Place, London. It is surmounted with a neat spire, below which is a clock with four faces. The interior of the building is plain but affords excellent accommodation to the congregation. Within the same enclosure are the Byculla Schools for Girls and Boys, and in the rear of the latter stands the House of Correction.

BYCULLA CLUB.—This commodious building is situated on the Bellasis road in rear of Byculla Church. It consists of a centre building and one wing, the right wing not having been at present completed. Near the principal building is the Billiard room, and fronting the road the stables are situated. The privileges of the Club are confined wholly to members.

THE RACE COURSE.—Is situated at the back of the Hyenlla Club House and is in good condition. The ground is even and the distance within easy reach of the eye from the Club House. The races are held here in the month of March, and are in general fraught with much interest to the lovers of the turf.

THE THEATRE.—This building is situated on the Grant road at the distance of two and a half miles from the fort. The edifice, the design of Lieut. Stuart of the Engineers is a neat building, and has been erected by public subscription, including the amount realized by the sale of the old theatre which the Court of Directors ordered to be made over for the benefit of the institution. The exterior and interior parts of the edifice are now nearly completed; when there are finished the theatre will in all probability be opened.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE, PARELL.—Although not an elegant this is a neat and eligible residence for the Governor and contains suitable offices for the establishment. It is nearly six miles distant from the fort and commands an extensive but not very interesting view. The edifice has been erected within the last forty years; it possesses many advantages over the old residence within the fort, whilst the accommodation for the reception of visitors at a Durbar or entertainment is very ample. It is, however, within forty minutes drive from the Town Hall in the fort where Government Councils are usually held.

At a short distance beyond Parell are the gardens of the Horticultural Society and the Silk establishment of Mr. Ramos; both these places are worthy of a second or even a third examination.

MAHIM CAUSEWAY.—This is another of the great improvements for which Bombay is indebted to the great benefactor of his race, Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, who has contributed several thousand pounds to the completion of this object, which will unite Bombay with Salsette and admit of safe and constant communication unattended with expense to all who experience its benefits. The work which is not yet completed is under the able direction of Captain Cruickshank of the Bombay Engineers. The cost is estimated at about £15,000.

MISCELLANEOUS WORKS.—Of these may be mentioned the docks at Mazagon, the gaol of Bombay, projected great Eastern Railway, Parsee, English, Hindoo and Mahomedan Burial grounds; also the Native General Hospital, the dog Hospital, the Assembly's Schools, and other places of note, the particulars of which will appear in our next.

The Bombay Government immediately extended to the Society that liberal patronage which it universally bestows on all institutions of utility connected with the Presidency. The Colaba Observatory was appropriated to its accommodation, and the important privilege conferred of allowing the Society's communications to be transmitted throughout the territories of the Presidency free of postage,*—a privilege subsequently extended to India at large, an application having been made for permission to inspect or have made over to them, copies of papers supplied to Government on Geographical subjects by officers of the service, the subject was referred to the Court of Directors, without whose sanction the wishes of the Society could not be complied with, Government strongly recommending the concession desired. A very favourable answer was received to this by return of post; ever since which the Society has been most liberally supplied with every variety of document bearing on the subject of their researches, whilst it was in the power of Government to bestow. At this time also (June 1833) the formation of a library was commenced, and the whole of the elaborate reports of the Secretary, contained in their records, give much valuable information as to the progress of the Society's labours. A set of meteorological and some surveying instruments for geographical purposes were also purchased, and placed under charge of the Secretary, for the use of the members of the Society. In March 1835 a letter was received from London, according to the proposal formerly made that the Bombay Association should be considered a branch of that at home.† The following resolutions explain the relations subsisting betwixt the parent society and its branches:—

Resolved, as respecting Geographical Societies in the British Colonies or Dependencies, persons of connecting themselves with the Royal Geographical Society of London.

* Minute of 12th June 1833.

† Minute of 15th March, 1836.

1. "Geographical Societies established in any of the British Colonies or Dependencies, and expressing a wish to be admitted as Branches of the Royal Geographical Society in London, may be so admitted by the Council.

2. "The members of all such of these Societies as shall correspond with the Paris Society, and forward to it reports of the Proceedings, shall be considered corresponding members of the Society while out of England; and on their return home shall be eligible, by ballot with other corresponding members, to be admitted ordinary members with out payment of the entrance fee.

3. "One copy of every volume or part of a volume of the Society's Journal, as successively published, shall be sent to each Branch Society, to be placed in its library; with other copies for the authors of communications which may appear in such volumes; and any additional numbers which may be ordered shall be delivered in England, at two thirds of the price to any agents duly authorized to receive and forward them."

The Colaba Observatory having been found inconveniently distant from the Fort, the Government, in 1835, was pleased to assign the room on the ground-floor of the Court House for the use of Society; this having afterwards been found unsuitable, the present handsome apartment, under the Court Room in the Town Hall buildings, adjoining the room of the Medical Board, was subsequently assigned to them; the Government afterwards, with the approbation of the Court of Directors, granted for defrayment of the expenses of the Society Rs. 100 per annum. In 1836 it was resolved to commence the publication of the Transactions of the Society in quarterly issues, or as frequently as the amount of accumulated matter in the archives permitted. A letter was at this time received from the Royal Geographical Society of Paris intimating the desire of that institution—the oldest and most distinguished of the kind in Europe—to enter into correspondence, and to exchange papers and transactions with the Bombay establishment,—a proposal so gratifying to be otherwise so favourably received by the Society; and the two associations have accordingly ever since maintained a close and cordial intercourse with each other. The Society, in 1837, reduced the annual subscription from Rs. 22 to Rs. 15, at which last rate it has ever since continued. In July, 1837, the Governor-General, Lord Auckland, with attention to the interests of science and literature which distinguished his government, in returning thanks for copies of the Society's Transactions which had been forwarded for his use by the President, Sir C. Malcolm, intimated his wish to be admitted a member, and his anxiety to second their exertions in any way within his power: requesting that the President would at all times, and without reserve, point out to him any mode in which he might be able to promote the objects of the Institution. His Lordship was elected honorary patron of the Society; and in a further communications to the Governor, Sir R. Grant, expressive of the gratification he experienced from his election, he requested again that he should be on all occasions informed in what manner he could best assist them, expressing his anxiety to forward from Bengal such papers on geographical science as might be reckoned competent for publication in the Society's Transactions. In 1841, the Bombay Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society having resolved to establish a Museum, the want of which had been so greatly felt and so often complained of, memorialized the Geographical Society on the inexpediency of attempting to carry on two collections while a general receptacle, open for the deposit and exhibition of all the curiosities likely to be collected, would be so much more likely to suit the views of both establishments. By this means, a single centre of resort would be obtained, in place of a variety of little known and comparatively unattractive points, some of which were likely to be missed by the enquirer, and must serve to distract public attention. On these grounds, the Geographical Society were solicited to make over the specimens then in their possession, together with donations which might hereafter be presented to them, to the Asiatic Society's Museum. The request was at once complied with, and the specimens made over accordingly. In March, 1842 an irreparable loss was sustained by the Society by the death of Dr. Heddle, who, from the time of its establishment, had acted as its Secretary. The publication of the Society's Transactions has from this, and other causes, at present fallen considerably behind; but is now about to be brought up by the immediate consecutive issue of four several numbers at present ready for the press.

† Minute of 27th February, 1836

Agents Advances on Goods.

FORT WILLIAM,

Home Department, Legislative, the 26th October, 1944.

The following Act passed by the Governor General of India in Council, on the 26th October 1944, is hereby promulgated for general information.

Act No. XX. of 1944.

An Act to amend the Law relating to Advances bona fide made to Agents intrusted with Goods by extending to the Territories of the East India Company in cases governed by English Law, the Provisions of the Statute 5 and 6 Victoria C. 39, as altered by this Act.

Whereas by Act XIII. of 1840 the Provisions of the Statute 4, Geo. IV., C. 89, as altered and amended by the Statute 6, Geo. IV., C. 94, were extended to the Territories of the East India Company, in cases governed by English Law; and whereas by the Statute 5 and 6, Victoria C. 39, the said Statute 6, Geo. IV., C. 94, is altered and amended, and the Provisions thereof are extended.

It is hereby enacted, that the Statute 5 and 6, Victoria C. 39, as altered by this Act, shall from and after the passing of this Act, be extended to the Territories of the East India Company; provided always, that this Act shall not be construed to affect any case which would not have been governed by the Law of England before the passing of the last mentioned Statute, if this Act had not passed, or to extend or alter the Jurisdiction of any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice.

The Statute hereby extended to the Territories of the East India Company and as altered by this Act, is as follows:

5 and 6 Vict. Cap. XXXIX. as altered by this Act.

An Act to amend the Law relating to Advances bona fide made to Agents intrusted with Goods.

Whereas by an Act passed in the 6th year of the Reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intitled an Act to alter and amend an Act for the better protection of the property of Merchants and others who may hereafter enter into contracts or agreements in relation to Goods, Wares and Merchandize intrusted to Factors or Agents, validity is given, under certain circumstances, to contracts or agreements made with persons intrusted with, and in possession of the Documents of Title to Goods and Merchandize, and Consigners, making Advances to persons abroad who are intrusted with any Goods and Merchandize, are entitled, under certain circumstances, to a lien thereon, but under the said Act, and the present state of the Law, Advances cannot safely be made upon Goods or Documents to persons known to have possession thereof as Agents only: And whereas by the said Act it is amongst other things further enacted, "that it shall be lawful to and for any person to contract with any Agent intrusted with any Goods, or to whom the same may be consigned for the purchase of any such Goods, and to receive the same of and to pay for the same to such Agent, and such contract and payment shall be binding upon and good against the Owner of such Goods, notwithstanding such person shall have notice that the person making such contract, or on whose behalf such contract is made, is an Agent; provided such contract or payment be made in the usual and ordinary course of business, and that such person shall not when such contract is entered into or payment made, have notice that such Agent is not authorized to sell the same, or to receive the said Purchase Money;" And whereas advances on the Security of Goods and Merchandize have become unusual and ordinary course of business, and it is expedient and necessary that reasonable and safe facilities should be afforded thereby, and that the same protection and validity should be extended to bona fide advances upon Goods and Merchandize as by the said recited Act is given to Sales, and that Owners intrusting Agents with the possession of Goods and Merchandize, or of Documents of Title thereto, should in all cases where such Owners by the said recited Act or otherwise would be bound by a contract or agreement of Sale be in like manner bound by any contract or agreement of pledge or lien for any advances bona fide made on the Security thereof. And whereas much litigation has arisen on the construction of the said recited Act, and the same does not extend to protect Exchanges of Securities bona fide made, and so much uncertainty exists in respect thereof, that it is expedient to alter and amend the same and to extend the Provisions thereof and to put the Law on a clear and certain basis. Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled and by the authority of the same, That from and after the passing of this Act any agent who shall thereafter be intrusted with the possession of Goods, or of the Documents of Title to Goods shall be deemed and taken to be Owner of such Goods and Documents so far as to give validity to any contract or agreement by way of pledge, lien, or security bona fide made by any person with such Agent so intrusted as aforesaid as well for any original Loan, advance or Payment made upon the Security of such Goods or Documents, as also for any further or continuing advance in respect thereof, and such contract or agreement shall be binding upon and good against the Owner of such Goods, and all other persons interested therein notwithstanding the person claiming such pledge or lien may have had notice that the person with whom such contract or agreement is made is only an agent.

Bona fide Advances to Persons intrusted with the possession of Goods or Documents of Title though known to be Agents, protected.

Bona fide Deposits in exchange protected.

And be it enacted, that where any such contract or agreement for pledge, lien or security shall be made in consideration of the delivery or transfer to such agent of any other Goods or Merchandise, or Document of Title or Negotiable Security upon which the person so delivering up the same had at the time a valid and available Lien and Security for or in respect of a previous advance by virtue of some contract or agreement made with such agent, such contract and agreement, if bona fide on the part of the person with whom the same may be made, shall be deemed to be a contract made in consideration of an advance within the true intent and meaning of this Act, and shall be as valid and effectual to all intents and purposes, and to the same extent, as if the consideration for the same had been a bona fide present Advance of money. Provided always that the Lien acquired under such last mentioned contract or agreement upon the Goods or Documents deposited in exchange shall not exceed the value at the time of Goods and Merchandise which, or the Documents of Title to which, or the Negotiable Security which shall be delivered up and exchanged.

IV. And be it enacted, that any Bill of Lading, India Warrant, Dock Warrant, Warehouse-keeper's Certificate, Warrant, or order for the delivery of Goods, or any other Document used in the ordinary course of business as proof of the possession or control of Goods, or authorizing or purporting to authorize, either by indorsement or by delivery, the Possessor of such Document to transfer or receive Goods thereby represented, shall be

The following Act is passed by the Hon'ble the President in council of India in council on the 5th January 1838, with the assent of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India, which has been read and recorded.

ACT No. II OF 1838.

I. It is hereby enacted, that from the 1st day of February 1838, Salt shall not be manufactured at any place within the territories subject to the authority of the Lieutenant Governor of the North Western provinces, the district beyond the right bank of Jumna river excepted, unless the person conducting the manufacture shall before preparing works for the production of such Salt give notice in writing to the Collector of the district in which the place of manufacture may be situated of his intention to manufacture Salt therein.

II. And it is hereby enacted, that upon receiving such notice as is prescribed in the preceding Section the Collector of the district shall by an order under his seal and signature depute one or more officers who shall be stationed for such time as the said Collector shall think proper at every such place of manufacture, and shall have power to take account of the Salt manufactured and stored and to prevent the removal of the Salt until the Government duty thereon shall have been paid.

III. And it is hereby enacted, that every proprietor of Salt Works within the North Western Provinces at which an officer shall be stationed as above provided shall pay to the Collector the wages of one officer at the rate of 10 Rs. per mensem for so long as such officer shall be retained for the supervision of the Works, and if the Collector shall see fit to employ more than one officer to watch any set of Works or to employ one officer receiving larger allowances than 10 Rs. per month the wages of such extra officers or the extra wages of such one officer, shall be defrayed by Government.

IV. And it is hereby enacted, that if any Salt Works be producing Salt, of which notice has not been given in the manner prescribed by the first Section of this Act, such Works shall be destroyed, and any Salt stored there shall be seized and confiscated.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that it shall be the duty of every party under direct engagement with Government for the Land Revenue either as a proprietor or Farmer of every proprietor of Lakhiraj Lands upon whose Zamindaree Farm or Lakhiraj Estate there shall be any Works producing Salt, of which works notice has not been given in the manner prescribed by the first Section of this Act to give notice of the same in writing to the nearest public officer of Police of Land Revenue within ten days from the date on which the Works were first prepared, and every such proprietor of Lakhiraj estate who shall knowingly omit to give such notice shall forfeit a sum not exceeding 500 Rupees for every such Salt Work.

ROSS D. MANGLES, Offg. Secy. to Govt. of India.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th July, 1844.

The following act is brought up before the Legislative Council this day--The Governor General of India in Council being desirous that no time should be lost in passing the Act.--

Resolved, that the Rule requiring that no Draft of a Law should be ordered to be published till at least one week shall have elapsed from the day on which it was first laid before the Council of India in its Legislative Department, and that the Rules requiring that all Acts of the Governor General of India in Council shall be brought up for second reading in two months, or in three months from the date of the first reading, be suspended in respect to the following proposed Act, and that it be at once passed into Law.

Act No. XVI. of 1844.

An Act for increasing the Excise and Import Duties heretofore payable to the Government on Salt manufactured within or imported into the Territories subject to the Government of the Presidency of Bombay.

Whereas by Act VI of 1844 all Inland, Transit and Town Duties levied on behalf of the Government of the East India Company, within the limits of the Territories subordinate to the Presidency of Fort St. George were abolished, and the Import on Salt manufactured and sold within the said territories was raised to a rate more in accordance with the Tax on the same article borne by other Divisions of the British Possessions; and whereas although enquiries which have been instituted as to the origin and extent of certain Town duties and local cesses within the Presidency of Bombay with a view to their abolition have not yet been completed, it is nevertheless expedient in order to equalize the average prices of Salt within the Presidencies of Fort St. George and Bombay to increase as well the Customs duty on imported Salt as the Excise duty heretofore and at present payable on Salt that may be delivered from any Salt Work within the territories subject to the Government of the Presidency of Bombay.

I. It is hereby enacted, that from the First day of September 1844, Sect. I. of Act XXVII. of 1837 shall be repealed.

II. And it is hereby enacted, that from the First day of September 1844, there shall be paid to the Government on every Maund of 3,200 Tolas weight of Salt that may be delivered from any Salt Work within the Territories subject to the Government of the Presidency of Bombay, a duty of One Company's Rupee.

III. And it is hereby enacted, that Sec. XLIII., Art. I. of 1838 shall be repealed.

IV. And it is hereby enacted, that on application by the Exporter from any Port of the Presidency of Bombay of any Salt that has paid the Excise duty fixed by Sec. II. of this Act, a Certificate shall be granted by the Collector of Customs at the place of Export, under authority of which Certificate the quantity of Salt specified therein shall be landed at any other Port of the said Presidency of Bombay, and shall be passed from such Port into the interior under cover of the passes applicable to the free passage of Salt without the levy of any further duty either of Excise or Customs.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that so much of Schedule A. appended to Act. I. of 1838 as provides that no Salt imported by Sea into any Port of the Presidency of Bombay and not covered by a Pass there shall be levied a duty of Eight Annas per maund of 80 tolas per seer, and so much of Schedule B. appended to Act I. of 1838 as provides that Salt having paid the Excise duty of Eight Annas a maund shall be permitted to be Exported free of duty from any Port or place in the Presidency of Bombay, shall be repealed.

VI. And it is hereby enacted, that on Salt imported by Sea into any Port of the Presidency of Bombay, and not covered by a Pass, there shall be levied a duty of One Company's Rupee per maund of 3,200 Tolas weight, and that Salt having paid the Excise duty of One Company's Rupee per maund shall be permitted to be exported free from further duty from any Port of the Presidency of Bombay.

NOTIFICATION.

TERRITORIAL DEPARTMENT.—REVENUE.

The Government of India having directed, with reference to a despatch from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, dated the 3rd of July last, that the Excise and import duty payable under Act XVI. of 1844, on Salt manufactured within, or imported into, the Territories subject to the Government of the Presidency of Bombay, shall be reduced from One Rupee to Twelve Annas per Maund of 3,200 Tolas, the Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to notify that the said Excise and import duty is hereby reduced accordingly.

By order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council.

E. H. TOWNSEND, Secy. to Govt.

Bombay Castle, 14th September, 1844.

PROCLAMATION.

TERRITORIAL DEPARTMENT.—REVENUE.

Whereas Act XVI. of 1844, which raises the Tax on Salt within the Presidency of Bombay from 8 annas to one Rupee per Indian Maund, has in view the abolition of Town Duties and other Cesses, which, from unavoidable circumstances, was not promulgated simultaneously with the said Act; and whereas the delay in this abolition renders the objects of this Government at present liable to the payment of both the increased Tax on Salt, and the said town Duties and Cesses, the Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased, in order to afford relief from this double taxation, to suspend, pending decision of the Government of India, the collection of all Town Duties, Kusubveeras, Mohoturta, Bulota, and all other Taxes on trades and professions, which form a part of the General Revenue of the State, and are not appropriated by Law or Custom to Municipal purpose.

By order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council.

E. H. TOWNSEND, Secy. to Govt.

Bombay Castle, 7th September, 1844.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 4th September, 1844.—The following Act is brought up before the Legislative Council this day—The Governor General of India in Council being desirous that no time should be lost in passing the Act.

ACT No XIX OF 1844.

An Act for abolishing Town Duties and Mookauts, and all Taxes upon Trades and Professions within the Presidency of Bombay.

It is hereby enacted, that from the 1st day of October 1844, all Town Duties, Kusub Veeras, Mohoturta, Bulootee Taxes and Cesses of every kind on Trades or Professions under whatsoever name levied within the Presidency of Bombay, and not forming a part of the Land Revenue, shall be abolished.

Article 1st. The object of this association is to provide a fund for the Insurance of Lives. This fund is to be portioned into shares, and an individual may subscribe for a certain number of shares either on his or her own life or on the life of any other individual. In the former case, the general state of the deceased, or such person or persons as he, or she may, by will or assignment, have appointed, shall benefit in the event of a lapse; in the latter, the person who may have subscribed on the life of the deceased shall benefit to the extent of the shares subscribed, for unless in their case such shares be especially declared at the time of subscription to be for the benefit of any other person or persons, or be subsequently made over according to the form hereafter prescribed for the benefit of any other person or persons, in which case such person or persons shall be entitled to benefit, in the event of a lapse and no other.

2d. In the case of a person subscribing on the life of another, the party subscribing and not the party on whose life the subscription is made, shall be considered a Member of the society, and have a vote in the management of its concerns. Copartners or other bodies of individuals may hold one or more shares jointly on any given life, either for their own benefit or for that of others; but in such case the parties uniting in the subscription, should not be entitled each to a separate vote in the concerns of the Society, but must vote collectively, or by the deputations of one of their member, on all matters thereto relating.

3d. The great principle of this Society is the equal division of its accumulated fund among the parties entitled to benefit by lapse of lives subscribed on according to the number of shares which those parties may respectively hold.

All applications for admission, accompanied by the above prescribed forms of certificate and affidavit which may be transmitted to the Secretaries shall be submitted by them to the Directors for their decision, and the Directors shall in all instances be at full liberty to reject any such application without assigning any reason to the applicant for so doing.

17th. In all cases it shall rest with the Committee to judge whether with reference to the circumstances of situation and distance, the interval which may elapse between the date of any certificate and affidavit of health, and the time of their presentation be reasonable or otherwise, and to admit or reject such certificate and affidavit accordingly. In no case, however, is the party subscribing to have any claim on the funds of the late Society in the event of the life lapsing between the date of the certificate and the date on which the applicant may be admitted a Member, unless where the Directors may at the instance of such applicant have originally permitted the subscription to take effect from the date of the certificate and affidavit of health, which it shall at all times be in their discretion to do, on the arrear of subscription being paid up. In the event, however, of person dying between the dates of his certificate and affidavit, the amount of premium paid for such Insurance shall be refunded.

18th. No subscription on any life shall be considered as entitling the party or parties concerned to benefit by the Society until the life subscribed on shall have been approved by the Directors, the amount of the first subscription and premium of admission paid, and a certificate of admission granted under the signature of the Secretaries, agreeably to the form annexed to these Regulations.

If not paid within that time, a penalty of two per cent on the amount of the instalment shall be added, and any Member who shall not have paid his subscription together with the said penalty within two months of the day on which the subscription shall have become due, shall be considered to have absolutely and entirely forfeited his share or shares.

20th. Any Member shall be at liberty at any time, to pay up his subscription for the whole unexpired period between the time of such payment and the close of the Society, or for any part thereof, and in the event of lapse of the life subscribed on, such Member or his representatives shall be entitled to receive back any part of the subscription money so paid up, which would not have been due at the time of the lapse taken place, forfeiting, however, to the Society all interest which may have immediately accrued thereon.

21st. No subsequent increase of shares on any life shall be allowed except on fresh application to be again approved of by the Directors, and accompanied by a certificate and affidavit as above. The subscription on the additional shares to be according to the age of the party at the time making the new application.

Any member desiring to transfer his interest in any share or shares, which he may hold in the Society, shall be at liberty to do so by an endorsement to be written on the original certificate, which endorsement shall not be valid until the certificate bearing the same shall have been produced to the Secretaries and the transfer duly registered by them in a general book of registry to be kept in the office of the Society.

23d. As often as a sum exceeding Rupees one thousand shall be collected, it shall be laid out in the purchase of Government paper, Bank shares, or in Loans secured by a deposit of Government paper to be granted under the control and authority of the Directors, it being clearly understood that in all cases of Loans the saleable value of the Deposit shall be more than sufficient to cover the sum lent. Should the Directors think, however, that the Funds will not allow of an immediate payment of this amount, then such sum only shall be advanced as they may deem proper, and the balance of the prescribed advance shall be paid so soon as the Directors shall be of opinion that the Funds will safely admit of it.

25th. Arrears of subscription or any other sum due to the Society by the holders of any share or shares on a lapsed Life shall be deducted from the amount of the advance.

26th. Application shall be necessary, but a certificate of admission into the new society shall be immediately issued to them on the simple payment of the usual half year's subscription in advance, subject, however to the established penalty of two per cent in the event of the payment being delayed beyond the term of one month, from the commencement of the new society and to the entire forfeiture of the privilege of transfer (excepting on a new application to the Directors, accompanied by the regular certificate of health, &c.) if not made good within the second month from that period. The rates of subscription for Members transferring their shares from the Fourth to the Fifth Laudable society shall be according to the respective ages of the parties on whose lives the shares are held on the first January 1849.

27th. It is proposed to render the institution of the Laudable society permanent by establishing a new society, in succession to each society as it expires.

28th. Upon the transfer to the Fifth Laudable society of any shares in the Fourth Laudable society, which may stand assigned by endorsement or otherwise, for the benefit of any other person or persons than the person or persons originally interested therein, or upon any subsequent transfer of any share or shares so assigned from the Fourth or any succeeding society, to the society next ensuing, such share or shares shall continue in all respect, subject to the lien of the Assignee, and shall be declared to stand for the benefit of such Assignee in the certificate of admission to be issued from the new society.

29th. Within one month and fifteen days after its termination, the accounts of the Third Laudable society shall be made up and the balance of Funds actually hand after deducting for the new society 12 per cent, on the amount of subscriptions, received during the term of the society, be divided by the number of shares held on Lives subscribed upon in this society which may have lapsed between its commencement and its close, and the parties entitled to benefit by such lapses shall each receive his or their proportion of the said Funds, according to the number of shares respectively held by them on the several lapsed Lives, the holders of half or quarter shares divided according to those fractional proportions. The sum of Rs. 10,000 shall be considered as the maximum payable on any one lapsed share and any surplus shall be carried to the credit of the new society."

The Directors of this Society have caused investigation to be made with great care into the existing Institutions for Life Assurance, &c. &c., and they trust they have been fortunate in selecting from each what, as a whole, will place their Establishment on the most judicious and satisfactory footing both to the Proprietors and the Assured. They request particular attention to the rates, which being founded on the most accurate observations of the duration of human life as moderate as is consistent with perfect security.

The plan of this Society is to transact all its business on such terms as to leave, in all human probability, a small, but certain excess of profit on the general result of its transactions. A small portion of that profit necessary for defraying the unavoidable expense of the Institution, and who have pledged the subscribed amount of their Capital in order to afford that responsibility which relieves the Assured from any contingency of loss to which they might be liable without the intervention of such a guarantee.

The profits are declared in each year, on the second Wednesday in May, on which date all persons assured in the Society for the whole term of life, whose Policies have been in existence five complete years are entitled to participate.

The practice of an annual division, as observed by Mr. Babbage, "distributes the profits with more regularity and justice than any other," and it is especially advantageous to persons of advanced years, who cannot hope to participate in many septennial or decennial divisions.

One-fifth of the ascertained profits of the five preceding years is divided between the Policy-holders and Share-holders,—three-fourths to the former, and one-fourth to the latter. The remaining four-fifths are set apart to enter into the average of the succeeding years, and thus to provide against unforeseen contingencies.

The first division of profits was declared on the 10th May 1840, in London, and on the 15th August in India, amounting to a reduction of 60 per cent. on the annual premium of all policies entitled to participation.

The following table will shew the operation of the reduction made by the Society.

| Age when Policy was issued. | Date of Policy. | Sum Assured.     | Original Premium. | Reduction. | Annual Premium payable in 1840. |

This system of reduction in the Premiums affords immediate benefit to the Assured, or enables them to secure a considerable bonus by effecting a new Policy.

Separate tables, both Civil and Military, have been adopted for the whole of life, at reduced rates for such persons as may prefer a lower rate of Premium to participation in the general profits.

The Society makes a natural distinction between persons exposed to the hazards of Military and Maritime occupations, and those whose occupations are of a Civil nature; but Members of the Military Service holding offices purely Civil and subject to no extra risk, will be charged the Civil rate of premium only while engaged in duties purely civil. It will be in the discretion of the Directors in each particular case to say whether the higher or the lower rate of premium shall be chargeable, and that discretion will be regulated by the particular circumstances of the case.

When application is made for assuring a life subject to more than ordinary hazard, an augmented Premium will be charged proportionate to the increased risk, the rate of which will be regulated by the strictest attention to justice between the Society and the Assured, according to the circumstances.

Premiums are ordinarily payable half yearly in advance: but Policy-holders are at liberty to make arrangements with the Society to pay their premiums in one amount, in annual or quarterly payments, or for a given number of years, viz: - 5, 10, 15, or 20. Some persons may wish to avail themselves of a present season of prosperity, and adopt the latter course, in which case (although their contributions will cease with the expiration of the term they may fix upon) their share of the profits will continue to be added to their Policies annually during the remainder of life.

The Parent Institution being in London, with a similar Establishment in Calcutta for granting Policies, Premiums, as well as claims, are payable in either country at the option of the Policy-holder. The appointment of Sub-Committees at Madras and Bombay with power to grant Policies, affords similar facilities to persons residing at either of the sister Presidencies.

All Policies becoming claims on the Society will be discharged within three months after satisfactory proof of the death, and cause of death, of the Assured shall have been furnished to the Directors either in London or Calcutta.

The Directors of the Indian Branch of the Society are empowered to treat for the purchase of Policies on which Premium shall have been paid for a period of not less than five years, or to advance, if required on such Policies, by way of loan, two thirds of the estimated value.

The accounts of this Society, after being investigated by Auditors, chosen as well by the Assured as by the Proprietors, are laid before General Meetings convened twice a year for that purpose:--In like manner the accounts of the Parent Society are regularly transmitted to India for inspection, the Indian Branch enjoying reciprocal advantages with the Parent Society.

Where the application for Assurance makes no mention of the date from which the Assurance is desired to take effect, the Policy will be issued on the date of approval of the risk by the Directors, but no Assurance to be binding on the Society until the first Premium shall have been actually paid to the Agents.

Every proposal for Assurance will be immediately attended to, and the Assurance completed generally within a few days after the application is made.

All applications for Assurance must be accompanied by a Medical Fee of Eight Rupees.

The Tables, Blank Forms, and other particulars requisite to enable persons to effect Assurances, may be had on application to the Agents.

By Order of the Directors,

BAGSHAW AND Co.

Agents and Secretaries.

IV. Participation of Profits by the Assured.

The Profits appropriated to the Assured, will be distributed at the close of each successive period of five years, in the form of a per-centage on the Premiums which have been paid.

V. Parties who obtain the settlement of losses from Fire are not thereby deprived of their right to participate in the profits of the Company.

VI. Losses by Lightning will be made good.

VII. The extended scale on which the Society is formed, gives rise to the expectation, that the profits to be divided will be large.

REMINGTON AND Co. Agents of Bombay.

No charge is made for Policies when the sum assured amounts to £300 or upwards.

PREMIUMS.

On dwelling houses in the European part of the Fort, or detached houses in the country, 9 annas per cent. per annum.

On houses in the Native part of the Fort, 12 annas per cent. per annum.

On houses in the Bazar, outside the Fort, 10 annas per cent. per annum.

On cadjanned Bungalows within a compound, and separated from the Cook Room, Rs. 2 per cent per annum, or if temporary Bungalows, for the fair season.

On goods hazardous, 16 annas per cent per annum, on property for a shorter period.

Hemp, Flax, Tallow, Pitch, Tar, Turpentine, Saltpetre, Rosin, Oil and Spirits, are denominated "Hazardous Goods."

In the Third Class Assurances, are included the Stock and goods of Coopers, Shop-Makers, Bread Makers, Japanners, Sugar-Refiners, Sugar Grinders, Distillers, Musical Instrument-makers. Likewise Factories worked by Steam-Engines, Cotton Screws, Chemists, Laboratories and Theatres.

1. It is incumbent on every person desiring Assurance from fire to describe clearly the construction of the building to be assured, or containing the property to be assured according to the distinctions noted above, also to state the nature of the goods or other property, of which Assurance is proposed ; and whether

When a party applies to pay premiums in London for a continuance, he shall be required to state if he wishes to continue his policy in Rupees, in which case the premiums are to be received in such an amount as will purchase a Bill of the East India Company for the amount of premium due in Calcutta, according to the terms of the policy—or should he be entitled to be reduced to the English rate, the premium must still be calculated in Rupees and received in Sterling money according to the Exchange of the day.

The preferable course is for the party to leave the Policy at the office to be endorsed as covering a certain sum of Sterling money, to be calculated at the rate of 2s the Rupee, after which the premium will always be received in Sterling money without reference to the state of the Exchange.

there be any Stove, Coal, Furnace or other implement for producing fire heat by which the risk may be in any degree increased. After an assurance shall have been effected, it is necessary for the Assured to communicate immediately to the Company any alteration which may subsequently be made in the buildings, or in the description of the goods deposited, or of the trade or process carried on in them; and if any of these changes increase the risk which has been assigned in every other respect to be perfectly explicit in their communication with the Directors, as any omission or misrepresentation vitiates the policy.

II. No claim will be allowed for loss occasioned by the invasion of a foreign enemy, by civil commotion, or by any military power; all Assurances on property in foreign countries are to be suspended during the continuance of any such invasion or civil commotion.

III. Books of Accounts, written Securities, Bills, Bonds, ready money, Tallies, and Gunpowder, are not to be held assured by any policy granted by this Company.

IV. No description of property is to be considered insured by any policy unless specially mentioned in such policy.

V. Assurances, made with other Companies on property assured by this Company must be noticed either in or by indorsement upon the policies granted by this Company. Persons neglecting to notify such assurances with other Companies, will forfeit their right of recovery on this Company.

VI. No Assurance proposed to this Company is to be considered in force, until the premium be paid.

VII. If property assured by the Company should pass by death, assignment, or otherwise, into new hands, the interest in the policy may be preserved to the successor, provided succession be allowed at the office, by indorsement on the policy, and if the goods assured be removed to a new situation, the Assurance may be continued by indorsement on the Policy; an extra premium will be charged if the risk be increased by the removal.

VIII. If any loss or damage by fire, be sustained on property assured with this Company, the person assured is forthwith to give notice of such loss or damage at the Company's office, as soon as possible after within three months at the utmost, deliver in to the Company an exact account of the particulars and amount of such loss or damage, as the nature of the case may admit. If it be required, such account shall be supported by the oath or affirmation of the party assured; by the attestation of a certificate of some persons who reside within the parish, or in the immediate neighbourhood of the sufferer, and who may be competent witness as to the character of the Assured and to the fairness of the claim, and further by the production of such books, documents, or vouchers, as may appear necessary. If there be found to be any false swearing, or if it shall appear that the fire shall have been occasioned by any wilful act or connivance on his part the policy in such case shall be void and right of recovery forfeited.

XI. In every case of loss, the Company will reserve to itself the right of reinstatement, in preference to the payment of claims, if it shall judge the former course to be most expedient.

X. If any difference shall arise with respect to the amount of any claim for loss or damage by fire and no fraud be suspected, such difference shall be submitted to arbitrators, indifferently chosen, whose award or that of their umpire shall be conclusive.

Persons desirous of making Assurances for seven years, by one payment, will be charged for six years only.

In annual Assurances, the premium will be calculated for the day on which the Assurance is proposed for one year. On Assurances for less than a year the premium will be reduced. In case of short period Assurances the policies will absolutely cease at six o'clock in the evening of the day specified in the policies.

No acknowledgments for the assurances taken, will be issued except such as are on printed forms, and witnessed by one of the clerks or agents of the Company.

The renewal premiums must be paid annually within fifteen days after the expiration of each year, or the assurance will be void.

Losses occasioned by lightning will be made good.

Reasonable expenses incurred in the removal of property from fire will be paid.

Buildings on which Assurance are proposed will be surveyed fire of any expense to the party if required.

And it is hereby enacted, that the ports at which registration shall be made, shall be the ports of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Singapore and such other places subordinate to the local Governments of India, as such Governments respectively may, from time to time, declare to be registering ports under this Act. Provided, that ships or vessels built at any place other than any of such ports, shall be allowed to make their first voyage to any of such ports, being the ports at which it is intended they shall be registered, under a certificate to be granted by the principal British Officer at the place where the ship is built, or if there be no British Officer in authority there, then by three merchants of such place, which certificate shall contain all the particulars with regard to the ownership, and description of the ships or vessels contained in a certificate of registry, and shall specify the ports at which it is intended that they shall respectively be registered, and which certificate shall have all the effect of a certificate of registry under this act, during the first voyage from the place of building to the ports at which the ships or vessels respectively shall be afterwards registered. Provided that such ships or vessels so proceeding on their first voyage as aforesaid shall be deemed British ships only, whilst duly prosecuting such first voyage for the purpose of registry within a reasonable time after their arrival at the port of registry, the owners, or master or other person having or taking the command or charge of such ship or vessel shall be liable on information in any Court of Her Majesty or the East India Company by the Advocates General of the respective Presidencies to a penalty not exceeding 5,000 rupees.

And such Registering Officer shall forthwith or within one month at the furthest, send to the Government of the Presidency to which he is subordinate a true and exact copy, together with every certificate which shall be by

V. And it is hereby enacted, that no registry shall henceforth be made or certificate be granted, until the following declaration be made or subscribed before the Registering Officer, by the owner or major part of the owners of the ship or vessel required to be registered.

I, A. B., (of place of residency and occupation) do truly declare that the ship or vessel (name) of (port or place) whereof (master's name) is at present master, being (kind of built, burthen, etcetera, as described in the certificate of the Surveying Officer) was (when and where) built and that I the said (A. B.) and the other owners (names and occupations if any and where they respectively reside) am (or are) truly and bona fide a subject (or subjects) of Her Majesty for whom the Governor General of India in Council has power to legislate, and that no person not being subject as aforesaid, directly or indirectly hath any share or part interest in the said ship or vessel. Provided that if the Registering Officer shall see occasion to doubt the truth of any of the facts contained in the above declaration he shall not deem such declaration to be conclusive, but may refuse the registry or certificate, and his discretion exercised in his behalf shall be subject only to an appeal to the local Government to which he is subordinate.

VI. And it is hereby enacted, that in case the required number of joint owners of any ship or vessel shall not personally attend to make and subscribe the declaration herein before directed to be made and subscribed, then and in such case such owner or owners as shall personally attend and make and subscribe the declarations aforesaid, shall further declare that the part owners of such ship or vessel then absent, is or are not resident within twenty miles of such port or place, and hath or have not to the best of his or their knowledge or belief, wilfully absented himself or themselves in order to avoid the marking the declaration herein before directed to be made and subscribed, or is or are prevented by illness from attending to make and subscribe the said declaration.

VII. And in order to enable the Registering Officer to grant a certificate truly and accurately describing every ship or vessel to be registered in pursuance of this Act, and also to enable all other Officers of Customs on due examination, to discover whether any such ship or vessel is the same with that for which a certificate is alleged to have been granted, it is hereby enacted, that previous to the registering or granting of any certificate of registry as aforesaid some one or more persons appointed by the local Governments respectively, taking to his or their assistance if he or they shall judge it necessary, one or more person or persons skilled in the building and admeasurement of ships, shall go on board of every such ship or vessel that is to be registered, and shall strictly and accurately examine and admeasure every such ship or vessel as to all and every particular contained in the form of the certificate herein before directed in the presence of the master, or of any other person who shall be appointed for that purpose on the part of the owner or owners or in his or other absence by the said master, and shall deliver a true and just account in writing of all such particulars of the build, description, and admeasurement of every such ship or vessel as are specified in the form of the certificate above recited to the Officer authorized to make such registry and grant such certificate of registry as aforesaid; and the said master or other person attending on the part of the owner or owners is hereby required to sign his name also to the certificate of such Surveying or Examining Officer, in testimony of the truth thereof, provided such master or other person shall consent and agree to the several particulars set forth and described therein.

VIII. And it is hereby enacted, that from and after the commencement of this Act the tonnage of every ship or vessel required by law to be registered, shall previous to her being registered, be measured and ascertained while her hold is clear, and according to the following rule, (that is to say) divide the length of the upper deck between the afterpart of the stern and the forepart of the stern post into six equal parts. Depths: at the foremost, the middle, and the aftermost of those points of division, measure in feet and decimal parts of a foot the depths from the underside of the upper deck to the ceiling at the limber strake. In the case of a break in the upper deck, the depths are to be measured from a line stretched in a continuation of the deck. Breadths: divide each of those three depths into five equal parts and measure the inside breadths at the following points, videlicet, at one-fifth and at four-fifths from the upper deck of the foremost and aftermost depths, and at two-fifths and four-fifths from the upper deck of the midship depth. Length, at half the midship depth measure the length of the vessel from the afterpart of the stern to the forepart of the stempost, then to twice the midship depth add the foremost and the aftermost depth for the sum of the depths; add together the upper and lower breadths at the foremost division, three times, the upper breadth, and the lower breadth at the midship division, and the upper and twice the low breadth at the after division, for the sum of the breadths; then multiply the sum of the depths by the sum of the breadths, and this product by the length, and divide the final product by three thousand, five hundred which will give the number or tons for register. If the vessel have a poop in half deck, or a break in the upper deck measure the inside mean length, breadth and height of such part thereof as may be included within the bulk head; multiply these three measurements together and dividing the product by 92,4 the quotient will be the number of tons to be added to the result as above found. In order to ascertain the tonnage of open vessels, the depths are to be measured from the upper edge of the upper strake.

IX. And it is hereby provided, that in each of the several rules hereinbefore prescribed when applied for the purpose of ascertaining the tonnage of any ship or vessel propelled by steam, the tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room shall be deducted from the total tonnage of the vessel as determined by either of the rules aforesaid, and the remainder shall be deemed the true register tonnage of the said ship or vessel. The tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room shall be determined in the following manner; that is to say measure the inside length of the engine room in feet and decimal parts of a foot from the foremost to the aftermost bulk-head, then multiply the said length by the depth of the ship or vessel at the midship division as aforesaid, and the product by the inside breadth at the same division at two-fifths of the depth from the deck taken as aforesaid, and divide the last product by 92,4, and the quotient shall be deemed the tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room.

X. And it is hereby provided, that the tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room shall be set forth in the certificate of registry as part of the description of the ship or vessel, and that any alteration of such tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room or of such length of the engine room after registry, shall be deemed to be an alteration requiring registry de novo within the meaning of the said act for the registering of ships or vessels.

XI. And it is hereby enacted, that for the purpose of ascertaining the tonnage of all such ships whether belonging to the United Kingdom or otherwise, as there shall be occasion to measure while their cargoes are on board the following rule shall be observed and is hereby established; (that is to say,) measure first the length on the upper deck between the afterpart of the stern and the forepart of the sternpost; secondly, the inside breadth on the underside of the upper deck at the medial point of the length; and thirdly, the depth from the underside of the upper deck down the pump well to the skin, multiply these three dimensions together, and divide the product by one hundred and thirty, and the quotient will be the amount of the register tonnage of such ships.

XII. And it is hereby enacted that the true amount of the register tonnage of every merchant ship or vessel belonging to the United Kingdom, to be ascertained according to the rule by this act established in respect of such ships, shall be deeply carved or cut in figures of at least three inches in length on the main beam of every such ship or vessel prior to her being registered.

XIII. And it is hereby provided that country Craft employed in coasting voyages not exceeding the burden of 200 tons may be registered and the tonnage marked according to rules to be prescribed from time to time by the respective local Governments.

XIV. And it is hereby enacted, that whenever the tonnage of any ship or vessel shall have been ascertained according to the rules herein prescribed such account of tonnage shall ever after be deemed the tonnage of such ship or vessel, and shall be repeated in every subsequent registry of such ship or vessel, unless it shall happen that any alteration has been made in the form or burden of such ship or vessel, or it shall be discovered that the tonnage of such ship or vessel had been erroneously taken and computed.

XV. And it is hereby enacted, that if such certificate as aforesaid shall be sold, lent, or otherwise disposed of to any person or persons whatever than those for whose use it is granted, or shall be made use of for the service of any other ship or vessel than the ship or vessel for which it is granted, such certificate shall thenceforth be utterly void, and the master or any owner of the ship or vessel who shall be proved to have sold, lent, or disposed of such certificate or made use of the same as aforesaid, or shall have concurred in or been privy to the committing any such offence, shall be liable upon conviction by information as aforesaid to a penalty not exceeding 10,000 rupees. And in case such ship or vessel shall be lost or taken by the enemy, burnt, or broken up, or otherwise prevented from returning to the port at which she is registered, or shall on any account have lost and forfeited the privileges of a British ship, or shall have been seized and legally condemned for illicit trading, or shall have been taken in execution for debt and sold by due process of law, or shall have been sold to the Crown or the East India Company, or shall under any circumstances have been registered de novo, the certificate, if preserved, shall be delivered up, within one month after the arrival of the master in any port or place in the territories of the East India Company to the Registering Officer at such port, in default whereof the master or any of the owners shall be liable on conviction by information as aforesaid to a penalty not exceeding 5,000 rupees. And if any person not being such subject as aforesaid shall purchase or otherwise become entitled to the whole or to any part or share of or any interest in such ship or vessel, and the same shall be within the limits of any port of the territories of the East India Company, then in such case the certificate of registry shall within seven days after such purchase or transfer of property in such ship or vessel, be delivered up to the Registering Officer at such port, and if such ship or vessel shall be in any place not within the territories of the East India Company when such purchase or transfer of property shall take place, then the certificate shall be delivered up within fourteen days after the arrival of such ship or vessel, or of the master thereof in any port, of the territories of the East India Company to the Registering Officer at such port in default whereof the master or any of the owners shall be liable on conviction before any Justice of the Peace in a penalty not exceeding 5,000 rupees recoverable in the manner provided by Act No. 2 of 1839.

XVI. And it is hereby enacted, that when and so often as the master of any ship or vessel registered in manner herein before directed shall be changed, the master or owner of such ship or vessel shall deliver to the person or persons hereinbefore authorized to make such registry and grant such certificates of registry at the port where such change shall take place, if it be a port within the territories of the East India Company, the certificate of registry belonging to such ship or vessel, who shall thereupon indorse and subscribe a memorandum of such change and shall forthwith give notice of the same to the proper officer of the port or place where such ship or vessel was last registered, pursuant to this Act, who shall likewise make a memorandum of the same in the book of registers which is hereby directed and required to be kept, and shall forthwith give notice thereof in like manner as of the original entry. But if the change do not take place in any port within the territories of the East India Company, then such delivery, memorandum and indorsement shall be made and notice given at the first port within the territories of the East India Company at which the new master shall arrive after such change. In default of which delivery of the certificate such new master or any of the owners shall be liable on conviction before a Justice of the peace, to a penalty not exceeding 5,000 Rupees recoverable as aforesaid.

XVII. And it is hereby enacted, that it shall not be lawful for any owner or owners of any ship or vessel, to give any name to such ship or vessel other than that by which she was first registered in pursuance of this Act, and that the owner or owners of all and every ship or vessel which shall be so registered, shall before such ship or vessel after such registry, shall begin to take in any cargo, paint, or cause to be painted, in white or yellow letters of a length of not less than four inches upon a black ground on some conspicuous part of the stern, the name by which such ship or vessel shall have been registered pursuant to this Act, and the port to which she belongs in a distinct and legible manner and shall so keep and preserve the same, and that if such owner or owners, or master or other person having or taking the charge or command of such ship or vessel, shall permit such ship or vessel to begin to take in cargo before the name of such ship or vessel has been so painted as aforesaid, or shall wilfully alter, erase, obliterate, or in any wise hide or conceal, or cause, or procure, or permit, the same to be done or shall in any written or printed paper, or other document describe such ship or vessel by any name other than that by which she was first registered pursuant to this Act, or shall verbally describe, or cause or procure or permit such ship or vessel to be described by any other name to any officer or officers of Revenue in the due execution of his or their duty, then and in every such case the certificate of registry shall thenceforth become utterly void, and such owner or Master or other person having or taking the charge or command of such ship or vessel shall be liable on information as aforesaid to a penalty not exceeding 10,000 rupees.

XVIII. And it is hereby enacted, that all and every person and persons who shall apply for a certificate of the registry of any ship or vessel shall, and they are hereby required to produce to the person or persons authorized to grant such certificate, a true and full particular under the hand of the builder of such ship or vessel, or in case the want of such certificate can be satisfactorily accounted for, then to produce other sufficient evidence of the proper denomination, and of the time when and the place where such ship or vessel was built, and also an exact account of the tonnage of such ship or vessel, and shall also make and subscribe a declaration before the person or persons hereinbefore authorized to grant such certificate that the ship or vessel for which such certificate is required is the same with that which is so described by the builder as aforesaid.

XIX. And it is hereby enacted, that if the certificate of registry of any ship or vessel shall be lost or mislaid, so that the same vessel when needful, and proof thereof shall be made to the satisfaction of the Registering Officer of the port at which the ship is registered, such Officer shall and may, where the certificate shall have been lost or mislaid, permit such ship or vessel to be registered de novo and a certificate thereof to be granted. Provided always that if such ship or vessel be absent and far distant from the port to which she belongs or by reason of the absence of the owner or owners, or of any other impediment, registry of the same cannot then be made in sufficient time, such Registering Officer shall and may grant a license for the present use of such ship or vessel, which license shall for the time and to the extent specified therein and no longer, be of the same force and virtue as a certificate of registry granted under this Act. Provided always that if the certificate of registry shall at any time afterwards be found, the same shall be forthwith delivered to the proper Officers of Customs to be cancelled, and that no illegal use be made of the same in default whereof the original certificate and the renewed certificate and license shall thenceforth become utterly void, and any person wilfully detaining the certificate so required to be cancelled, or making any illegal use thereof, shall be liable on conviction before any Justice in a penalty not exceeding 5000 rupees recoverable as aforesaid.

XX. And whereas it is not proper that any person under any pretence whatever should detain the certificate of registry of any ship or vessel, or hold the same for any purpose other than the lawful use and navigation of the ship or vessel for which it was granted, it is therefore hereby enacted, that in case any person who shall have received or obtained by any means or purpose whatever the certificate of the registry of any such ship or any vessel (whether such person shall claim to be the master or to be the owner or one of the owners of such ship or vessel, or not,) shall wilfully detain and refuse to deliver up the same to the proper Officers of Customs, for the purposes of such ship or vessel, as occasion shall require, or to the person or persons having the actual command possession, and management of such ship or vessel as the ostensible and reputed owner or owners thereof, it may and shall be lawful to and for any such last mentioned person to make complaint on oath of such detainer and refusal to any Justice of the Peace residing near to the place where such detainer and refusal shall be, and on such complain the said Justice shall and is hereby required by warrant under his hand and seal, to cause the person so complained against to be brought before him to be examined touching such detainer and refusal, and if it shall appear to the said Justice on examination of such person or otherwise that the said certificate of registry is not lost or mislaid, but is wilfully detained by the said person, such person shall be subject on conviction before such Justice to a penalty not exceeding 1,000 rupees, recoverable as aforesaid and the said Justice shall, and he is hereby required to certify the aforesaid detainer, refusal, and conviction to the person or persons who granted such certificate of registry for such ship or vessel who shall on the terms and conditions of law being complied with, make registry of such ship or vessel de novo, and grant a certificate thereof conformably to law notifying on the back of such certificate the ground upon which the ship or vessel was so registered de novo; and if the person who shall have detained and refused to deliver up such certificate of registry as aforesaid, or shall be verily believed to have detained the same, shall have absconded so that the said warrant of the Justice cannot be executed upon him, and proof thereof shall be made to the satisfaction of the Registering Office of the port at which the ship or vessel was registered, it shall be lawful for the said officer to punish such ship or vessel to be registered de novo, or otherwise, in his discretion to grant a license for the present use of such ship or vessel in like manner as is hereinbefore provided in the case wherein the certificate of registry is lost or mislaid.

XXI. And it is hereby enacted, that if any ship or vessel after she shall have been registered pursuant to the directions of this Act, shall in any manner whatever be altered so as not to correspond with all the particulars contained in the certificate of her registry, or if any alteration shall take place in the ownership of any ship or vessel, or of any shares thereof, in such cases such ship or vessel shall be registered de novo in manner hereinbefore required as soon as she returns to the port to which she belongs, or to any other port within the territories of the East India Company, on failure whereof such ship or vessel shall be deemed to be a ship or vessel not duly registered, and any person making use of a certificate for the purposes of any ship or vessel which has been granted in respect of the same, after the same ought to have been registered, de novo, shall be liable on conviction before any Justice to a penalty not exceeding 5,000 rupees recoverable as aforesaid.

XXII. And whereas great inconvenience may arise from the Registering Officers being served with subpoenas requiring them to bring with them and produce, on trials in Courts of Law relative to the ownership of vessels, or otherwise the declaration required to be taken by the owners thereof prior to the registering thereof, and the books of registry, or copies or extracts therefrom. And whereas it would tend much to the dispatch of business if the attendance of such registering Officers with the same upon such trials were dispensed with, it is therefore hereby enacted, that the Registering Officer at any port or place and the person or persons acting for them respectively, shall upon every reasonable request by any person whomsoever, produce and exhibit for him, her or their inspection and examination any declaration made by any such owner or owners, and also any register or entry in any books of registry required, and shall upon every reasonable request by any person or persons whomsoever, permit him, her or them to take a copy or copies of an extract or extracts thereof respectively, be allowed and received as evidence upon every trial at law, without the production of the original or originals, and without the testimony or attendance of any Registering Officer, or other person or persons acting for them respectively, in all cases, as fully and to all intents and purposes as such original or originals if produced by any Registering Officer, or other person or persons acting for them, could or might legally be admitted or received in evidence.

XXIII. And it is hereby enacted, that if any person or persons shall falsely make a declaration to any of the matters hereinbefore required to be verified by declaration, or if any person or persons shall counterfeit, erase, alter or falsify any certificate or other instrument writing required or directed to be obtained, granted, or produced this Act, or shall knowingly or wilfully make use of any certificate or other instrument so counterfeited, erased, altered, falsified or shall wilfully grant such certificate or other instrument writing, knowing it to be false, such person or persons shall for every such offence be liable on conviction upon information as aforesaid to a penalty not exceeding 10,000 rupees. And if any such offence be committed by the owner of any ship or vessel, the certificate of such ship or vessel shall henceforth be wholly void.

XXIV. And it is hereby enacted, that when any ship or vessel duly registered under this Act or sailing under the British Navigation Law, shall come to be owned by a Native Prince or State, or by any subject of such Native Prince or State as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the Governor of Fort William in Bengal, or for the Governor in Council of any Presidency, to continue to such or vessel the privileges and advantages of a British ship for the purposes aforesaid by a pass to be issued under the Company's Seal and subscribed by a Secretary to Government stating the voyage or voyages for which the same is to have effect, and the period for which it is to last : and it shall be lawful for the Governor of Fort William in Bengal, or the Governor in Council of any Presidency, to issue a similar pass conferring the privileges and advantages of a British ship for the purposes aforesaid under this Act to any ship or vessel built within the dominions of such Native prince or State, and owned by such Prince or State, or by any of their subjects, provided always, that the ships belonging to Native Princes or States, or their subjects, in respect of which passes may be granted under this Act shall during the voyage or voyages, or the period for which any such pass shall be granted be commanded by a subject of Her Majesty for whom the Governor General in Council has power to legislate.

XXV And it is hereby enacted, that the fees demandable in respect of the granting any certificate or pass under this Act shall be fixed from time to time according to the directions of the Governor General in Council, but so that the same shall not exceed the amount of fees now payable for registering or granting passes to ships or vessels at the different Presidencies.

XXVI. And it is hereby declared, and enacted, that all ships or vessels registered under this Act, shall be deemed to belong to the ports at which they shall be respectively registered. And all ships or vessels being registered or in respect of which passes may have been granted which are unexpired at this time of passing this Act, shall for the purpose of being deemed British ships be deemed to belong to the ports at which they may have been registered or when passes shall have been granted which are unexpired, at which such passes may have been respectively granted. And such ships or vessels built and owned as required by the Statute 3 and 4 Vict. Ch. 53, shall continue subject to all the rules in force at the respective Presidencies before the passing of this Act, or any provisions of the Statute law, a compliance with which may heretofore have been necessary in order that ships, vessels built and owned as aforesaid might be deemed British ships for the purposes of trade.

1 Spanish Dollar... = 2½ Sicca do.
At the Mint of Calcutta are coined Gold Mohurs and Silver Ruppes

16 Se. Rs. equal to 1 Gold Mohur.

The fineness of both metals is 11-12th, like English Standard Gold. The following is a statement of their weights, fineness and sterling value. The Standard value is at £3 17 10½ per ounce for gold, and 5s. 2. per ounce for silver.

| Pure            | Alloy  | Gross   | Ster.       |
|-----------------|--------|---------|-------------|
| grs.            | grs.   | wt.     | value.      |
| 71. M. 187-651  | 17-059 | 204 71  | £1 13 2½-08 |
| Se. It. 175-923 | 15-093 | 191-916 | 2 0½-24     |

The Sicca Rupee was formerly of the sicca weight, viz. 179 2-3rd grs. Troy, with 1-48th part only of Alloy, making the pure quantity as above, but in 1819 the Alloy was increased to 1-12th, the same as the Gold, by which much expense is generally spared in refining.

At the subordinate Mints, Silver is only coined, as follows :

| Pure                  | Alloy | Gross | Ster.        |
|-----------------------|-------|-------|--------------|
| grs.                  | grs.  | wt.   | value.       |
| Benares Rupee 108-875 | 6-125 | 175   | Sh. 1 11½-32 |
| Farruckabad do 105-22 | 7-78  | 173   | Sh. 1 11-28  |

The charge for Coining at the Calcutta Mint is 2 per Cent. if the Bullion be of the Standard fineness ; but when it differs, there is a proportional charge made for refining which varies from ¼ to 2½ per Cent.

Kanchan Account.

Made use of for petty disbursements of House expenses, paying Cooly hire &c. and is kept by a specie of Sea Shells called Cowries, as follows :

|------------------------------|
| 4 Cowries make 1 Gunda.      |
| 20 Gundas do 1 Panna.        |
| 4 Pannas do 1 Anna.          |
| 4 Annas do 1 Cahoon.         |
| 4 Cahoons do 1 Current Rupee |

but their value fluctuates according to the plenty or scarcity of them.

A Booter is equal in Bazar to 5 Gundas, and a Chokee or Seekes to 4 Pannas, to one Current Rupee.

Native Merchants, and others keep their Accounts according to the

| 4 Quarters make 1 Pie or Pann. |
| 4 Pannas do 1 Anna.            |
| 16 Annas do 1 Paukan or Rup    |

MALABAR COAST.

Accounts are kept as follows :

| 4 Quarters do 1 Rupee = 179 grs. Troy |
| value 1 sh. 11d. Sterling.            |

The Rupee is also divided into 16 Annas or 50 Pice. An Urdee is 2 Reas ; A Dorea, 6 Pice ; A Doogany, or single Pice, 4 Reas ; A Fuddea or double Pice, 8 Reas, A Pouncea is 5 Rupees, and a Gold Mohur, 15 Rupees. Of these the Annas and Reas only are imaginary.

| Pure              | Alloy  | Gross | Ster.          |

CHINA.

Accounts are kept as follows :

10 Cash make 1 Candarine.

10 Candarines „ 1 Mace.

10 Maces „ 1 Tale = 6s. 8d. Sterling

Cash is the only kind of Money made in China, which is not coined but cast, and is used for small payments ; it is composed of 6 parts of copper and 4 parts of lead ; it is round, marked on one side, and rather raised at the edges, with a square hole in the middle.

These pieces are commonly carried, like beads, on a string or wire.

A Tale of fine Silver should be worth 1000 Cash ; but on account of their convenience for common use, their price is sometimes so much raised that only 750 Cash are given for a Tale.

Foreign Coins, however, circulate here, particularly Spanish Dollars ; and for small change they are cut into very exact proportions, but afterwards weighed, for which purpose Merchants generally carry scales called Dotchin, made somewhat after the plan of the English steel yards. The value of the Tale varies, and is generally computed according to the price paid per Ounce for Spanish Dollars in London. The fineness of Gold and Silver is expressed by dividing the weight into 100 parts called Toques or Touch, Thus if an Ingot be 93 Touch, it is understood to contain 7 parts of Alloy, and 93 parts of fine Metal, making the whole 100. Pure Gold or Silver without Alloy is called by the Chinese, Sycee; and sometimes when of less purity, the Metal is accepted at Sycee. Silver Ingots are used as money, and weigh from 1 to 100 Taels, their value being determined by their weight. These Ingots are of the best sort of Silver, that is, about 94 Touch. Gold is not considered as money, but as Merchandise; it is sold in regular Ingots of a determined weight, which the English call shoes of gold; the largest of these weigh 10 Taels each, and the Gold is reckoned 94 Touch, though it may be only 92 to 93.

The following is a very convenient Table for converting annas and pie in decimal parts of a rupee.

EXCHANGE.

Nature of Exchange, Bills on England and vice versa, Exchange Tables at Bombay, Bengal, Madras, China and America.-- Sicca Rupees converted into Company's Rupees

The fact is indisputable that mere crude metal was weighed as money long anterior to its formation into coin. "Abraham weighed to Ephrem the silver, four hundred shekels, current with the merchant;" now, the shekel was a weight centuries before it was a coin; 3000, according to Arbuthnot, being equal to a talent; and the word "current" may be understood more fully by sterling, as being unalloyed, of right assay; the word "sterling," as we need hardly remark, being a corruption of East-sterling, so termed from the money of Eastern Germany, which was remarkably pure, and therefore in request, at a period when our own coinage was excessively corrupt. We all remember too how Brennus the Gaul flung his heavy sword into the scales, that were too penuriously weighing the ransom of Rome; and similar instances need not be multiplied. Unminted bullion, as a legalized medium of exchange, is not less a modern than it has been an ancient expedient; for it has been revived in our own times by Mr. Ricardo, although the project was abortive and dropped immediately, only one brick of gold weighing sixty ounces, and impressed with a sovereign stamp, having been issued for foreign commerce; a leaden model of this, gilt to resemble the original, is now in the British Museum. We are informed, on such authority as that of Sundas, that money of leather and of shells was once used by the Romans; and by Cedrenus that wood was also employed by them for the same purpose. Aristides says that leather money was once current at Carthage, and Seneca makes the same remark on Sparta. We are told, on authority somewhat more considerable, that iron was used in the same manner at Sparta, at Clazomenæ, at Byzantium, and at Rome and in also, by Dionysius at Syracuse. The Dutch have minted paste-board; our old exchequer tallies might be called in so no sort wooden money; James II. coined gun-metal, in 1690 we had a tin coinage to the extent of £70,000; lead and pewter have circulated largely as tradesmen's tokens; the Malays have a currency of betelnuts, the Madagascar people of almonds, the African tribes cowrie shells, the inhabitants of Yucatan certain seeds of plants, and the original settlers in Massachusetts accounted "musket-balls, full bore," a legal tender; so lately as in 1803, Teste Captain Maryatt, deer-skins at the stated value of 40 cents per pound were a legalised mean of barter at Cincinnati, and if proffered instead of money could not be refused.

The word coin is derived from the Greek word signifying common or current, and occurs on some Greek money, nominally of Alexander but really of the Roman Emperor Philip. It is a remarkable fact that, notwithstanding high civilization, there appears to have existed no money in Egypt anterior to the Persian occupancy. Cash does not seem to have entered into the calculations of Pharaoh, and nothing like a coin is found upon sculptures or papyrus. Joseph's "money for the corn" need not have been other than personal ornaments; and although there are extant an abundance of circular seals or "cartouches" stamped on burnt clay, we nowhere see the idea carried on to the precious metals.

The earliest known coins, or at least those now in being, bore the indented aquile, as the moneys of Ergina; to this soon succeeded simple inversion, as the wheat ear of Metapontum, and the bull's head of Phœnis. In the progress of coinage, silver seems to have taken precedence, and to have been in its utmost purity at Athens, which had no gold coins of her own, but contented her-self with the Cyzicenes and Daries of her neighbours, and governed the money market of the ancient world by the standard of her own just currency. Copper followed at an early period—perhaps almost simultaneously—to answer the demand for subdivision, though Athens issued silver coins no heavier than two grains; and gold, in a race almost equal, was probably the last, all being of very pure standard, far exceeding modern notions of a just assay.

By degrees an improvement was made even in coined money, and the mode of remittances and exchanges by Bills was adopted.

The subject of Exchanges is by many considered abstruse, if not unintelligible. In itself it is neither. It is a plain, straightforward matter, as simple as the dealings in corn or sugar. It is merely an affair of adjusting prices between the buyer and seller, as in the common markets; with this exception, that as the buyers and sellers of different countries use the moneys of those countries to pay an exact sum, a calculation must be made to what the amount in the one sort is equal, at such time, in the other.

When the Exchange between two places, such as London and Paris, is at Par, it is said to be a sign that the debts due from London to Paris are compensated by those due from Paris to London. On the contrary, when a Premium is paid at London for a bill upon Paris, it is said to be a sign that the debts due from London to Paris are not compensated by those due from Paris to London, but that a balance in money must be sent out from the latter place; for the risk, trouble, and expense of exporting which the premium is both demanded and given. But the ordinary state of debt and credit between those two cities must necessarily be regulated, it is said, by the ordinary course of their dealings with one another. When neither of them imports from the other to a greater amount than it exports to that other, the debts and credits of each may compensate one another. But when one of them exports to that other, the former necessarily becomes indebted to the latter in a greater sum than the latter becomes indebted to it. The debts and credits of each do not compensate one another, and money must be sent out from that place of which the debts overbalance the credits. The ordinary course of exchange, therefore, being an indication of the ordinary state of debt and credit between two places, must likewise be an indication of the ordinary course of their exports and imports, as these necessarily regulate that state.

The ordinary state of debt and credit between any two places is not always entirely regulated by the ordinary course of their dealings with one another; but it is often influenced by that of the dealings of either with many other places.

The just and true exchange for moneys, by bills, is par pro pari, or value for value.

In foreign exchange, one place always gives another a fixed sum or piece of money for a variable price. The former is called the certain price, and the latter uncertain price. Thus, London is said to give to Paris the certain for the uncertain, that is, the pound sterling for a variable number of francs; and to Spain the uncertain for the certain, that is, a variable number of pence sterling, for the dollar of exchange. The uncertain price, as quoted at any time, is called the Rate, or Cours of Exchange.

When the demand in London for bills on Paris is great, a smaller number of francs is given for the pound sterling, and the contrary; and when there is a demand for bills on Spain, a greater number of pence sterling must be given for the dollar, and the contrary.

The Par of Exchange may be considered under two general heads, viz, the Intrinsic Par, and the Commercial Par, each of which admits of subordinate divisions.

The Intrinsic Par is the value of the money of one country compared with that of another, with respect both to weight and fineness.

The Commercial Par is the comparative value of the moneys of different countries, according to the weight, fineness, and market prices of the metals.

Thus two sums of different countries are Intrinsically at par, when they contain an equal quantity of the same kind of pure metal; and two sums of different countries are Commercially at par, when they can purchase an equal quantity of the same kind of pure metal.

RULE.

REDUCING MONEY INTO ENGLISH, AND vice versa.

Dutch money is reduced to English by saying,—as the given rate of exchange to £1 sterling, so the given Dutch to the sterling sought; and sterling is reduced to Dutch by reversing this rule.

This rule will apply in all cases by merely substituting the money of other countries with the rate of exchange.

The statutes relating to Bills of Exchange, &c., are numerous, will be seen in the annexed list. A mere abridgment of them would occupy by far too great a space for work of the nature of the "Journal of Trade." Besides, there are able treatises on the subject, by Bailey, Johnson, and others. More than is done here, it would not therefore be prudent to attempt.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 11, 1843.

(Sittings in Banco.)

WARWICK v. ROGERS

Lord Chief Justice Tindal delivered judgment in this case, which was argued in Trinity Term last. The action was brought upon a bill of exchange for 300*l.*, of which the plaintiff was the endorsee, and one Richard Jericho, the acceptor, and the jury found a special verdict, which set out the facts, and left it to the Court to declare the mode in which the five issues raised by the pleadings should be entered. The defendants, Messrs. Rogers, Towgood, and Co., of Lombard-street, were, on the 26th of January, 1836, when the bill became due, the bankers of the acceptor, Jericho, and had on that day funds in their hands belonging to him sufficient to pay the bill, which was duly presented by the plaintiff's bankers in the mode usual with bankers using the clearing-house—namely, by putting it that morning into the defendants' drawer there. The defendants cancelled the acceptance, thereby signifying their intention to pay the bill at 5 o'clock that evening on the behalf of the acceptor; but in the course of that day, Jericho, having determined to stop payment, sent the requisite instructions to his bankers, who thereupon wrote upon the cancelled bill, "cancelled by mistake, orders not to pay," and in that state the bill was returned. The jury found that it was usual so to mark bills which were cancelled by mistake. The intermediate parties to the bill refused to pay it, upon the grounds of the cancellation; and the plaintiff accordingly brought the present action against the defendants, alleging that they were bound either to have returned the bill uncanceled, or to have paid the money due on the bill. Upon this point, which was the main question between the parties, the Court now expressed their opinion, stating, that in their view of the case, no such duty was imposed upon the defendants as that alleged in the declaration. It had, however, been contended for the plaintiff, that although he might not succeed on the special count in the declaration, he was entitled to recover on the count for money had and received; but it had often been determined that no action for money had and received would lie against a party who had funds in his hands to pay a bill, unless he had communicated his assent to the person applying for payment, and no such assent had been given in this case. The verdict on the first, second, and fifth issues must be entered for the defendants, and for the plaintiff upon the third and fourth issues; but as the issues found for the defendants went to the whole cause of action, the judgment of the Court must upon the whole be for them.

Judgment for the defendant.

COURT OF EXCHEQUER, TUESDAY, MAY, 2, 1843.

(Sittings in Banco — New Trial Paper.)

HEDGE v. SHERBURN.

This was an action by the endorsee of a promissory note, which purported to be payable by instalments, and at the trial it was objected, on the part of the defendant, that such an instrument was not negotiable; but the verdict having gone for the plaintiff, under the direction of the learned judge then presiding, this rule was afterwards obtained for a new trial on the ground of misdirection.

Mr. R. V. Richards and Mr. Whitehurst were to-day heard in opposition to, and Mr. Knowles in support of, the rule.

At the close of the argument, which was of a lengthened character,

Mr. Baron Parke gave judgment in favour of the plaintiff:—"The first question for the consideration of the Court is whether this instrument is a promissory note within the statute of Anne which puts such securities on a footing with bills of exchange, allowing them to be assigned by the original parties; and the next is, whether the instalments were to be paid on the day named or after the usual "days of grace." Upon the latter point there will be little difficulty if the trial be unsuited. Now, in reference to the language of the statute in question, it appears that this instrument is properly speaking, a promissory note. The words of the statute are very large indeed; they speak of a security for the payment of "any sum," and there is no limit fixed as to the mode or times of repayment. It may be therefore an entire sum or by instalments, and there is no doubt but that an instrument payable by instalments would be valid in the hands of the original party. Are such securities then assignable? Of this I have no doubt, for we find authorities for such a proposition in the universal practice of the profession and the world at large, while we have cases which deal with other objections raised on such security, and speak of them as "promissory notes," but never breathe a hint that they were open to any objection such as this. These, coupled with the usage of the profession and the world, are quite sufficient to stamp such instruments with validity in the hands of endorsee. We are next to consider, whether "days of grace" ought to be allowed upon the time specified for the payment of each instalment, and I am of opinion that they ought so to be. These instruments being put upon the same footing as bills of exchange, must be so for all purposes whatever, and therefore days of grace being observable in the one class of securities, ought to be adopted in the other.

Mr. Baron Alderson was of the same opinion. It had been well observed that, at all events, universal practice had established these securities. All the text books which treated of the subject had moreover entirely omitted to raise any objection to promissory notes payable by instalments on that ground, and it was not to be supposed that, if they were objectionable, the point would have escaped their acute minds. There was a maxim that communis consensus facit ius, and it might be that communis error might have the same effect after a long series of years, and it was too late now to question the practice.

Mr. Baron Rolfe assented, and the rule was accordingly discharged.

SHORT METHOD TO FIND THE SIMPLE INTEREST OF ANY SUM.

FOR ANY NUMBER OF DAYS, AT ANY RATE PER CENT, PER ANNUM.

Formula.

Let  $p$  denot the principal.

„  $d$  the number of days.

and „  $i$  the interest.

Asume  $\frac{1}{100000} (3 p d r \times \frac{1}{2} 2 p d r \times \frac{1}{30} 2 p d r \times \frac{1}{300} 2 p d r) =$

Then  $a - \frac{1}{10000} = i$  very nearly.

Rule.

Multiply the principal by the number of days, and that product by double the rate per cent. Then divide the amount by 3,30, and 300; add these quotients to it; and, subtracting the 10,000th part at the sum, the remainder divided by 10,000 will be interest required.

Example

Required the interest of Rs. 180,000 for 146 days at 9 per cent. per annum?
Answer, Rs. 6,480.

Principal 180,000 X 146 days.

THE USE OF THE FOREGOING TABLE.

I. To find the number of days from the end of the year to any day in any month of the year following: --Rule:--Opposite the given day in the margin look under the given month, which will show the number of days required. Thus from 31st December till 18th August following are 230 days, and to 30th October 303 days.

II. To find the number of days from any particular day, to the end of the year.-- Suppose 27th July. From 365, the days in a year, take the number answering to 27th July, viz 208.

Remainder 157

III. To find the number of days from any day in one month to any day in another month suppose from 5th April to 28th November --Rule: Take the difference between the numbers corresponding to these days.

28th November 332
5th April..... 95

Answer..... 237

IV. To find the number of days between any day in one year to any day in the year following.—Suppose from 21st August, 1822, to 27th May, 1823—(See Rules 1 and 2.)

From 365 Days in a Year.
Take the number of 21st August 233

232 days in 1822.
Add the number of 26th May 147

Total.....379

NEW WEIGHTS & LIQUID MEASURES.

COMPILED BY THE HON'BLE J. H. CRAWFORD, Esq.
LATE ACCOUNTANT GENERAL.

New Indian Weights established in Bengal by Regulation VII of 1833, and adopted by the Government of Bombay, at the recommendation of the Tariff Committee in the New Tariff valuation, about to come into operation throughout the Bombay Presidency; with a few memoranda, intended to facilitate the conversions of old weight into new, that may become necessary in Custom House transactions under the new system of valuations mentioned about 10th December 1840.

|                           |   |                 |
|---------------------------|---|-----------------|
| 1 Tola                    | = | 180, Grams Troy |
| 80 Tolas = 1 Seer.        | = | 14,400          |
| 30 Seers = 1 Indian Maund | = | 5,76,000        |

Then as = 7,000 Grains Troy are exactly equal to 1 seer of = 14,400 Grains Troy are exactly equal to
1 mdl. of = 576,000 Grains Troy are exactly equal to

| lbs. Avoirdupois. |
|-------------------|
| 1                 |
| 2 2' 35           |
| 82 2 7            |

And it follows therefore,

That 35 Seers are exactly equal to

|                            |    |        |
|----------------------------|----|--------|
| " 7 Indian Maunds = wt. 57 | or | 72     |
| " 49 do = " 36             | or | 576    |
| " 245 do. = Tons 9 = " 180 | or | 4,032  |
|                            | or | 20,160 |

| lbs. Avoirdupois. |
|-------------------|
| 72                |
| 576               |
| 4,032             |
| 20,160            |

The following simple and accurate Rules for the conversion of new Indian weight into avoirdupois weight, and vice-versa, deducted from the foregoing data, are given in the volume of useful Tables published by Mr. James Prinsep, in Calcutta in 1834, Page 66.

Rule 1. To convert Indian weight into Avoirdupois weight.

1. Multiply the weight in seers by 72 and divide by 35, the result will be the weight in lbs. avoirdupois.

Rule 2. To convert Avoirdupois weight into Indian weight.

1. Multiply the weight in lbs. avoirdupois by 35 and divide by 72, the result will be the weight in Seers.

2. Or, Multiply the weight in cwt. by 49 and divide by 36, the result will be the weight in maunds.

Since the foregoing Memoranda and calculations were made, I have been able to obtain a copy of the Bengal Regulation VII of 1833, on which the new system of Indian weight is founded, and subjoin the following further memoranda, connected therewith, in the belief that they will be found useful at this time.

The first Section of the Regulation in question, after reciting the reasons that render it expedient to adopt the weight and standard of the Furruckabad Rupee (which are the same as that of Madras and Bombay Rupee) in the Calcutta Mint as well as in the Saugor Mint, where they had been introduced as far back as the year 1824/25, continues as follows: "It is further convenient to introduce the weight of the Furruckabad Rupee as the unit of a general system of weights for Government transactions throughout India, under the Native and well known denomination of the Tola."

And Section IV. in ordering the discontinuance of the use of the Sica weight of 172,666 grains heretofore employed for the receipt of Bullion at the Calcutta Mint, states that, "in its place the following unit to be called the Tola shall be introduced, which from its immediate connection with the Rupee of the upper Provinces, and of Madras and Bombay, will easily and speedily become universal throughout the British Territories."

The Tola, or Sicca weight to be equal to 1800 Grains Troy and the other denominations of weight to be derived from this unit, according to the following scale.

|                                   |                          |                   |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------|-------------------|
| 8 Ruttees                         | = 1 Masha                | = 15 Troy Grains. |
| 12 Mashas                         | = 1 Tola                 | = 186 ditto.      |
| 40 Tolas (or Sicca weight) | = 1 Seer                 | = 2½ lbs. Troy.   |
| 40 Seers                          | = 1 Mun (or Bazar Maund) | 100 lbs. Troy.    |

Mr. James Prinsep says, with reference to the foregoing change, in Pages--62 and 63 of his very useful Tables already alluded to in these memoranda. The Tola is chiefly used in the weighing of the precious metals and Coin; all Bullion at the Mints is received in this denomination, and the Tables of Bullion produce are calculated per 100 tolas. It is also used at the Mints to make the subdivision of the Tola into annas (sixteenths) and pie, in lieu of Mashas and Ruttees.

Mashas, Ruttees, and Dhans are used chiefly by native Goldsmiths and Jewellers. They are also employed in the native valuation by assay of the precious metals; thus 10 Mashas fine, signifies 10-12ths, pure and corresponds to "10 oz. touch," of the English assay report of Silver. There is a closer accordance with the English Gold assay scale, inasmuch as the 96 Ruttees in a Tola exactly represent the 96 Surat grains in the Gold assay pound, and the Dhan the quarter Grain, and the Ruttee, of which eight go to the Masha as the above, is not an exact divisor of the latter weight, the following further Table may not be without use in calculations connected with the conversion of precious metals from the Troy weight of Great Britain, into the Tola weight of India.

|----------|---------------|-----------------|-------------------------|
| 1 Ruttee | = Grains Troy | 1. 875 decs--or | 1½ Grains Troy exactly. |
| 2 do     | = do.         | 5. 750 "        | 3½ do.                  |
| 3 do     | = do.         | 5. 625 "        | 5½ do.                  |
| 4 do     | = do.         | 7. 500 "        | 7½ do.                  |
| 5 do     | = do.         | 9. 375 "        | 9½ do.                  |
| 6 do     | = do.         | 11. 250 "       | 11½ do.                 |
| 7 do     | = do.         | 13. 125 "       | 13½ do.                 |
| 8 do     | = do.         | 15. "           | 15 do.                  |

It will be observed, that the preceding observations, whether extracted from the Regulations of Government (VII.) of 1833 Bengal, Mr. Prinsep's Tables, or made by myself, relate chiefly to the Bullion or Mint weights. Speaking on the Tola in connection with Indian weights generally Mr. Prinsep says, Page 61, "The unit of the British Indian ponderary system is called the Tola. It weighs 180 Grains English Troy weight. From it upwards are derived the heavy weights, viz: Chittack, seer, and mun (or Maunds,) and by its subdivision the small or Jeweller's weights, called Mashas, Ruttees, and Dhans.

These last mentioned weights having already been disposed of, it will be sufficient to give the following Table of the larger or Bazar weights

|--------------------------------|----------------------------|------------------|
| 5 Tolas or sicca weight | = 1 Chittack, or Gra. Troy | 900              |
| 10 Chittack                    | = 1 Seer                   | or lbs. Troy 2½  |
| 40 Seers                       | = 1 Maund                  | or lbs. Troy 100 |

and to add with reference to the Chittack that it is the lowest denomination of the Gross weights; and in Bazar transactions is commonly divided into halves and quarters (called in Bengalee Kacha), thus marking the line between the two series which are otherwise connected by the relation of the seer, &c. to the Tola. (Prinsep's Table Page 62) whilst the Government of India, appear by the Tables prepared by their authority for the transactions of the Commissariat and other public Establishments in Bengal, to have sanctioned the introduction of a smaller denomination of great weight than the Chittack called tenth parts in the Tables in question.

It appears to me, however, that neither of the above subdivisions of the Chittack are so correct in principle, and certainly not more convenient in practice, than the Tola, the unit on which, as observed by Mr. Prinsep, the whole ponderary system of India is founded. In the practice adopted in the Bazar transactions as above subdivisions of one half and one quarter, are not only in themselves fractional parts of Chittack; but represent Tolas and their fractional parts also half a Chittack being equal to two and half Tolas, and the quarter of a Chittack to 1½ Tola and neither of them carries the subdivision so low in actual quantity as the weight represented by the unit itself, whilst in the Transactions of Government though the actual quantity represented by the newly created tenth parts, carries the weight as low as half Tolas, it does so by the adoption of weight not recognized in the general dealings of commerce or by law, and as it appears to me without sufficient cause, for if a Tola, which is considerably less than half an ounce avoirdupois, is a weight not sufficiently small for the purpose of Government, its transactions may be carried out in the next lower subdivision to Tolas, Massha and Ruttees, viz. Grains Troy. But, I believe it will be admitted by mercantile men in general, that the ounce avoirdupois is the lowest denomination of English weight to which recourse need be had in the ordinary operations of commerce, and it therefore seems to me, that the Tola which, as already stated, is not equal to one half that weight, is as low a standard, as need be noticed in Indian mercantile dealings generally, the more especially as the subdivisions of the Tola (Massha and Ruttees and Grains) afford the means of the most minute calculations in retail transactions, as well as in the adjustment of weights connected with the more valuable article of Trade such as Musk, Opium, Silk, &c. &c. &c., and in all dealings indeed where perfect accuracy is considered necessary or desirable.

The weights of the several Presidencies of India, Travancore, China, and England compared with the new Indian Maund introduced into Bengal by Regulation VII of 1833, and adopted in the New Tariff valuation above to come into operation under the Bombay Presidency, (10th December 1840.)

Memorandum shewing the relative proportions between the old wine Gallon and Imperial Gallon now established by law in Great Britain and vice-versa with some calculations explanatory and corroborative thereof (10th December 1840.)

| Therefore (Vide Mr. Black's Dictionary of Commerce 2d Edition 1834 under the head of Weights and Measures, page 1234) |               |      | Decls. |

| 100 ditto contain of ditto....  |               | 83   | 31109  |
| 1000 ditto contain of ditto.....  |               | 833  | 11090  |

| 100 ditto contain ditto   |               | 120  | 0320   |
| 1000 ditto contain ditto  |               | 1200 | 320    |

Making the proportion between the old Wine Gallon and the Imperial Gallon so early as 10 are to 12, 5 are and to 6, that the difference between converting the former description of Gallon into the latter, according to the proportions just quoted, or working the conversion to the greatest nicety of calculation, will only occasion a difference of 222 decimal parts of an Imperial Gallon (or say, rather more than 1-5th, of an Imperial Gallon) in every one thousand (1000) old Wine Gallons converted as above.

To convert old Wine Gallons, therefore, into Imperial Gallons, we may either multiply by 5 & divide by 6 or deduct 16th, from the number of old Wine Gallons given.

|          | Old Wine Gallons.  | Imperial Gallons decs.             |
|----------|--------------------|------------------------------------|
| For 1000 | $\times 10 =$      | $10000 \div 12 = 833 \text{ } 333$ |
| 1000     | $\times 5 =$       | $5000 \div 6 = 833 \text{ } 333$   |
| 1000     | 1-16th, or 1666.66 | $= 833 \text{ } 333$               |

Again, taking the converse of this proportion from the date above given, we have the proportions between the Imperial Gallon and old Wine Gallon so nearly as 12 are to 10, or as 6 are to 5, that the difference between converting Imperial Gallons into old Wine Gallons, according to the proportions just quoted, or working the conversion to the greatest nicety of calculation will only occasion a difference of 320 decimal parts of Wine Gallon (or any rather less than one third of such Gallon) in every one thousand (1000) Imperial Gallons converted above.

To convert Imperial Gallons therefore into old Wine Gallons we may either multiply by 12 and divide by 10 or multiply by 6 and divide by 5 or add 1-6th, to the numbers of Imperial Gallons given.

|          | Imperial Gallons. | Old Wine Gallons decs. |
|----------|-------------------|------------------------|
| For 1000 | $\times 12 =$     | $12000 \div 10 = 1200$ |
| 1000     | $\times 6 =$      | $6000 \div 5 = 1200$   |
| 1000     | + 1-6th, or       | $200 = 1200$           |

Memorandum intended to show the check against fraudulent weights in the Bazar, and elsewhere, which the introduction of the New Indian Maund and its several subdivisions, will prove, where soever adopted, to all classes of the community.

Extract being para 6 of a Report from the Revenue Accountant (Bombay) to Government in the Territorial Department No. 23 of 1839, dated 25th May 1839,

6. It has been stated in the 4th para of this Report, the Revenue Accountant would recommend Indian Maunds, Seers, and Tolas, in preference to lbs. avoirdupois, as the weight to be adopted in Opium purchases and sales hereafter and he would now respectfully state, in support of this opinion, that however much maunds differ in their actual weight, and in their several sub-divisions in different parts of India, still the maund is a weight familiar to the Native population in every portion of it, and that whilst the Company's or head Rupee, which is exactly a tola, or 180 Grains troy, enables every individual

1801 80 = 11,300
grains troy, 60 to-las of one Indian
Seer.

of the better classes of Society, who may possess eighty Rupees of that coinage or of the Bombay, Madras, and Furruckabad coinage of years immediately preceding the introduction of the head Rupee, to check or establish a standard seer in every part of the country, the proper individual, to whom our Copper currency may be better known, need only possess thirty six annas (or two and quarter Rupees) of the new copper coinage to command the same check against fraud and imposition, as his more fortunate neighbour, the possessor of Rupees; the weight being in both cases grains troy fourteen thousand and four hundred, and therefore equal to one new Indian seer as per margin.

N. B. And further if annas 36 = 1 seer, then 36 annas  $\times 4 =$  annas = 144  $\div$  12 rupees in new Copper Currency = 4 seers of the new Indian weight.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

Extracts from the Appendix to the Itinerary of Western India.

By Captain John Clunes.

Throughout India, and particularly the Deccan, a very considerable diversity prevails, not merely in every district, but in every village, in measures whether of weight, length or capacity; nor are the subdivisions to be found in a deter-minate proportion of each other. To whatever this may be owing, whether to the want of a common or universal standard in former times, the decay or abrasion of the measures and weights, the knavery of the owners of them, or to the apathy or connivance of the Native district authorities, is probably immaterial, but the present ill defined system must be felt by all the class of buyers as a hardship, and they doubtless would be grateful for any beneficial amendment.

There are three kinds of weights in use in India; the first are for weighing drugs, gold, silver &c.—second for all bulky articles, - and the third, for pearls and precious stones.

Those of the first class seem to be founded on the weight of a Tola through India and the tola under most Governments, seem to conform with the Rupee, or principal current Coin of accounts; in towns, the weights generally are of Iron or Lead, sometimes in a determinate form, but oftener as a shapeless mass. In many Villages however, the shopkeepers have only callast stones as weights, which are met with in beds of rivers. Indeed, when great weights are required they are generally made of stones, and under any circumstances, considerable advantage would be derived by the people, were the use of stones as weights prohibited under severe enactments. The table of weights annexed, will shew the great variety of the first class, (and corresponding English weights) which exists throughout western and central India. Nor are the weights at the Presidency less multifarious than they are in the interior. In the following table of the various weights, with which goods are sold in Bombay, it will strike one as a singular incongruity, that varying as those weights do, with almost every variety of goods, and that serving as such they must clog commerce; this system should be submitted to when the fact is known, that actually every article is weighed by one weight, vizt. the English Avoirdupois, afterwards reduced by calculation, into the great variety of local weights, which are merely nominal. Names of Sundry Goods, and showing the weight, &c. by which they are bought and sold in Bombay.

The small weight, commonly called GOLDSMITH'S WEIGHT, is either founded on the Goonj or Ruttee, or the Mustard seed: the Goonj or Ruttee is the small red seed, whether of the white or red species, of the abros precurious; these seeds are very uniform in size, and the plant producing them, grows wild all over India. Two seeds, otherwise Goonj, make one Waal, a weight represented by a seed of the Cheelur. This weight is further subdivided as follows.

8 Mustard seeds= 1 Barley Corn.

2 Barley Corns= 1 Goonj.

Under different Governments of India, the Tola is composed of different proportions of the Goonj, or of the massa. The Bengal Tola being of 100 Goonj, or 12½ massa, the Malwa Tola of 96 Goonj or 12 massa. The Bombay Tola, of 92 Goonj, or 11½ massa, several districts in the Southern Concan of 92 Goonj or 11½ massa and 96 Goonj or 12 massa. The pice of Kota in Malwa is equal in weight to 18 massa, so that from these we may hope to obtain something approaching to the common weight of the massa or Goonj; the fundamental measures of weight.

The weight of the Bengal Massa, in Troy grains, is 15,353—being 191.916 troy grains, the weight of a Calcutta Sica Rupee, divided by 125, gives the number of Massa in one tola. The weight in troy grains of the total in Malwa is 190 Grains; which being divided by 12, (the number of massa is one tola) gives 15.8333 troy grains, for the weight of the massa.

In ascertaining (says Major Sykes) the weight troy of a Goonj, with a Hydrostatic balance, turning with the 10th of a Grain, the results were as follows, 32 Seeds or Goonj weighed 60.5 grains troy—16 seeds or Goonj weighed 30.5 grains—8 weighed 15.1, and 6 seeds weighed 105.2 grains, which would give an average weight of 1.914 grains troy for each seed 96, of these would make total equal to 183.7536 grains troy. But as the Seer weight of 80 Rupees, 13000 grains troy is to consist of 72 tolas, the tola should weigh 191.6666 grain instead of 183.7536, affording sufficient evidence that the tola in use, like every other weight, is below the proper standard.

MEASURE OF CAPACITY.

Whether of measures of capacity in India are derived from those of length, agreeably to the notions of many able theorists in Europe, and in which they are borne out by very ancient writings amongst the Hindoos, or whether they were invented originally merely to save trouble in weighing grains and liquids, is a subject of enquiry for the philosopher. I am much inclined to the latter opinion, as far as regards Western India, from observing that the same denominations refer to the measures of weight as to the measures of capacity, and so relatively to the subdivision. In this case it seems to me highly probable that the Tunka or Tukka, a small silver Coin, current during the period of the Mogul supremacy, and in which the Revenue was collected and reckoned throughout the Western Provinces of their Empire, and particularly in the Nizam Shah's Territories, was the foundation of the weights at present in practice throughout the Deccan. Seventy-Two of these Tukkas go to the Seer which makes it nearly similar to the Tola and the nou-Tanks, or nine tanks is still a measure for liquids in very general use. The Ghetak, or 6 tanks, is the 16th part of a seer or weight in the Deccan; but my enquiries regarding the weights that are in use, and not those that have been. The most popular of the actual measures of capacity are the NOWTANK, the SEER the PUNSEEREE, and the ADHOLEE.

DRY MEASURE.

The ADHOLEE.---The dry measure, called Adholee of two seers, which is the largest in use in the Deccan, is, in Towns and large villages made of wood turned in a lathe and lackered. It is in form nearly similar to that of an hour glass, and a  $\frac{1}{2}$  seer, and  $\frac{1}{3}$  seer resemble it in form and lackered. In small villages where the dealers are poorer, these measures are made from large bamboos sawed through at the joint.

The Adholee in the Northern Konkun consists of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  and 4 Kutchas seers, and the number of Adholes to the Konkun Maund varies in different towns in the Collectorate from 17 to 24. Where the 4 seer Adholee obtains, there the Maund contains 20 Adholes, and where the Adholee is  $3\frac{1}{2}$  seers, there the Maund consists of 24 Adholes; so that the Adholes and not the Maunds, differs; the 17 Adholes Measures, is perhaps confined to Salsette. The Kokun and Arabic Candy are both in general use in this Collectorate, the first consists of seven maunds the other of eight maunds. The Catti or Deccan Candy, is also in use and is used for measuring Salt.

The large dry measure in Bombay for Salt is the Phara containing.

| 16 Annas                | = 1 Rash or 40 Tons. |

The Phara measure when used, is struck off even with a run by a rod made for the purpose.

The small dry measure for grains is the seer, whereof

Batty or rice in the Husk is reckoned by Moora of 25 Pharas.

LIQUID MEASURE

The liquid seer Measure used in Bombay for Spirits, Arrack, and Milk, is equal in weight to 60 Rupees, or 1 lb. 10 oz. 7 dwts 12 grains Troy. The maund consist of 40 of these seers, and the seer is subdivided into half seers, quarter seers, and latter into two measures called now-tanks, or nine-tanks tuchka. The measures of Oil, corresponds with the Maund of 28 lb. that is, the contents weigh that, and the contents of the seer consequently weigh 11 oz. 4 dwts.

LONG MEASURE.

The Measures of length, are the KATHEE, the GUZ and the CRUIT, the first is only used as a land measure, the other two are most used by artificers, and sometimes used in measuring piece Goods, Clothes, Silks, &c., are not sold by the piece. In most of the provinces under this presidency, the Guz is divided into 20 Tussoo. In Guzerat it measures 27.5 inches, making the cubit of 14 Tussoo, equal to 19.25 inches. At Bombay and in Malabar it is 28 inches, and the Cubit 19.6 inches. In the Deccan, the Doab, the Southern Conkan, Surat, and also in Kutch, the Guz is divided into 24 Tussoo, but of a greater variety of length, and the cubit into 14 tussoo. The Peshwa's Guz, which is in use in the Public Departments at Poona is 33.86 inches. At seven of the principle towns in the Doab the Guz varies from 34.75 inches, to 34.75 inches, and broad cloth velvet chintz, and other articles of Europe Manufacture are measured by it. An average accurately taken at 12 of the chief towns in the Southern Konkan makes the Guz 22.438 inches and the cubit 15.08 inches.

The length of the Cubit however, almost every where, is usually determined by the mean length of five different men's arms, measured from the elbow to end of the middle finger; turbans, &c. are sold by this measure, but it is seldom met without of Surat as a measure, unless with tailors; purchasers usually measure by their own arm's length. The English yard is in common use at Bombay in measuring Europe manufactures, and indeed in many places in the interior.

SUPERFICIAL AND SOLID MEASURES.

SUPERFICIAL measure, for the measurement of land, solid measures for ascertaining the quantity of timber, and many kind of artificers, works, are obtained from the same date as the measure of length.

Artificer's work, superficial measurement throughout Guzerat, Deccan, Konkan, and at the presidency, the reckoning is made by 100 in length, whether Guz, or cubit by one in breadth. This rule applies also to the manufacture of carpets, mats, &c.

Masonry is calculated by the brass, which is 25 cubits in length by one in breadth, and one in height. The cubits in use among Masons in Bombay is 20 inches (being 4 longer than the timber Guz,) so that a brass of Masonry contains 115.74 cubic feet.

Timber is measured by the Guz, and the rule for determining the contents is, by the square of the quarter girt multiplied into the length. A sawyer's Guz, is 32 inches in length, and 9 inches in breadth; 32-9-88 square inches 2 square feet.

BOMBAY AND CANARA MEASUREMENT OF TIMBER AND PLANK.

TIMBER 20 vissvassa = 1 Vassa,

20 Vassa = 1 Covit or Candy

Plank is measured by the Guz of 28 English inches, or 24 Borels, 24 Borels in length, 12 Borels in breadth, and one Borel in thickness, make Guz. A Borel is equal to 1.666 English inches

MALABAR MEASUREMENTS

Timber. Is measured by the Candy or Covit.

16 Moganies = 1 Borel.

24 Borels = 1 Kol.

24 Kols. = 1 Covit or Candy.

Plank Is measured by the Guz, thus,

10 Moganies = 1 Borel

32 Borels in breadth, 24 Borels in length, and 1

Borel in thickness, constitute a Guz.

ENGLISH AND BOMBAY MEASUREMENT IN THE DOCKYARD.

Timber. 12 Cubical feet and 1216 inches = a Covit or Candy

3 Covit and 18½ Vassa = 1 Ton or 50 Cubical feet.

26 Cubical feet, and 206 inches = 100 Guz, the quantity in which plank is bought and sold.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for general information, the following Notification of the Government of India, under date the 17th of January last.

No. 3

General Department, Fort William, the 17th January 1838.

The Government of India having received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors copy of a letter addressed by the Servants to the Post Master General in England, to the Hon'ble Court, dated 11th September 1837, from which it appears that in Act (1 Victoria, cap. 76) had been passed by the British Parliament for regulating the Postage to be levied on letters transmitted between the United Kingdom and India, by Her Majesty's Mediterranean Packets, the President in Council deems it necessary to publish for general information, the rates of postage established thereby in supersession of those establishments by clause XXXIV per Rules for the management of the Post Office Department passed by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council of the 30th August 1837.

The following is the order contained in the letter above referred to, to which the Post Master General and Post Masters in the different Presidencies of India, are hereby directed to give attention.

The Act 1st Victoria, Cap. 76, having authorized a Postage of 1s. single, 2s. double, 3s. treble, and 4s. for an ounce weight, and for every quarter of an ounce beyond that weight, the Postage of a single letters upon all letters passing between any Port in the Red Sea, or Persian Gulph, and the East Indies which are not conveyed to or from the United Kingdom by Her Majesty's Mediterranean packets, I am commanded by the Post Master General to request you will move the Court of Directors, to give instructions to their Post Masters India, to demand this rate upon all letters, which shall not be enclosed in the mails despatched from Falmouth for the East Indies, which will be made up in boxes marked East India Mail from the United Kingdom by Her Majesty's Mediterranean Packets, which the exception of Letters put into the Post Offices of the United Kingdom, which shall be addressed to India, via Marseilles, and upon which as the postage alluded to, would have already been paid in this country, no additional rate should be demanded; letters of this description can be easily distinguished from their having the Post mark of the Town in the United Kingdom at which they were posted in addition to the address of via Marseilles. With the exception of these two classes, namely, letters contained in the Mail boxes and those addressed via Marseilles, all letters conveyed to the East Indies by packets, will be liable to the charges in question, which can only be collected by the Company's Post Masters from the persons to whom they are addressed in India.

With respect to the return correspondence, this rate must not be taken in India on either of the two classes of letters before mentioned, whether they shall be simply addressed to the United Kingdom, or passing through it to countries beyond, or whether directed to it via Marseilles, as the Postage can be collected in this country. On all other letters however the rate must be demanded at the time the letter is posted in India as the only means of securing the charge, the Post office having no method of collecting it in the countries to which the letters will be addressed.

Under the above orders, Inland Postage only will be leviable in India on letters arriving from or received for transmission to the United Kingdom via any Port in the Red Sea or Persian Gulf. If letters arrive from, or are addressed to any other place than the United Kingdom so that the Postage will not be liable therein, the following rates will be levied in India, as the place of delivery or of receipt for transmission.

| Letters or sealed Packets of any description. |                               |                                |   |
|---|-------------------------------|--------------------------------|---|
| Single.                                       | Double.                       | Treble.                        |   |
| Not exceeding 1 Tola weight.                  | Not exceeding 1½ Tola weight. | Not exceeding 2½ Tolas weight. |   |
| 8 Annas.                                      | 1 Rupee.                      | 1 Rupee 8 Annas.               | Single postage being added for each additional ¼ Tola weight. |

Note.—8 Annas has been assumed as equal to 1 shilling. A scale according to weight has been substituted for the rule regarding single and double letters for uniformity with the system generally in force in India, and because the Post Masters have not the means of discriminating between single and double sheets, 3 Tolas also have been assumed as equivalent to an ounce.

No ship Postage under Schedule B. Act No. XVII, 1837, will be leviable in India on letters transmitted in the manner provided for in these rules, notwithstanding that they may have been conveyed or may be forwarded between India and the Red Sea or Persian Gulf in sailing vessels.

The orders received hitherto containing no provision in respect to Newspapers, Pamphlets or other unsealed packets of printed papers transmitted via the Red Sea, or the Persian Gulf, these will be subjected in India to no charge beyond that of inland postage duty.

Extract of a letter from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, in the Public Department—No. 33, of the 19th Dec. 1838.

Para 1st. Complaints have been made in this country of the expense occasioned by the practice of the indiscriminate transmission of letters and packages of the Overland Mails. This is a practice which independent of the private inconvenience which it occasions, has a tendency to impede the public service by overloading the daks, and we desire that in future no letters, or packages be forwarded Overland, unless specially superscribed to be sent by that mode of conveyance.

2d. In adopting the regulation now suggested, it will be proper, in order to avert disappointment, to give publicity to the change of practice.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for general information, the following copy of the Regulation at the Post Office in England, under which the receipt of letters by the Overland Mail for the Hon'ble Company is restricted.

Under the authority of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, the Chairman, Deputy Chairman, Secretary, and Assistant Secretary to the East India Company, have the personal privilege of receiving letters free of postage from the East Indies by packet, via the Mediterranean, but the privilege does not extend to any other Director or officer of the Company.

NOTIFICATION.

A new system of charging British rates of postage having been established under authority of a Treasury warrant, dated the 22d November last, it has become necessary to make an alteration in the scale, by which postage levied in India on letters conveyed by packets between ports or parcels in the Red Sea, or Persian Gulf and the East Indies.

Her Majesty's Post Master General has therefore authorized the substitution of the following scale for the one at present in use, which under the orders of this Govt. is to have effect from this date.

|---|---------|
| A Letter not exceeding $1\frac{1}{2}$ tola is to charged one rate of postage .....  | 0 9     |
| Do. above $1\frac{1}{2}$ tola and not exceeding $2\frac{1}{2}$ tolas, two rates.... | 1 0     |

NOTICE.

Although opposed in the XXIII clause of the rules for the management of the Post Office Department, appended to the Post Office Act, the system of giving credit to parties at the Post Office and interchanging accounts at the end of the month was tried as an experimental measure, but as it has been productive of much inconvenience and great irregularity it is abolished, and the former plan reverted to of requiring immediate payment of postage from this date.

As therestill continues to be considerable misapprehension as to the right of parties addressing me as Post Master General, or the Deputy Post Master General in letters either on service or Bearing, on subjects relating to their private affairs, it is hereby notified to all concerned, that such Letters will in future be returned to the senders "Bearing"; this practice being at variance with the LIX clause of the Rules for the management of the Post Office, appended to the Post Office Act, which requires, that all such letters be post paid.

The hour of delivery is marked on a board affixed to the door of the Post Office.

NOTIFICATION.

Optional pre-payment of Postage on Overland Letters.

1. The Home Authorities having finally determined on the introduction of the scheme for permitting the optional pre-payment of the Postage on Letters passing between the United Kingdom and India via Southampton, it is hereby notified for general information, that the Right Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Governor General of India in Council has been pleased to fix, as the day on which the new system shall be brought into operation in this Country, the 1st of March next, from which date the several Post Masters throughout India will be prepared to receive, at the option of the sender, Steam Postage on all letters directed to the United Kingdom via Southampton.

2. The following are the British rates of Steam Postage agreed upon by the Lords of the Treasury, and sanctioned by the Government of India, according to which, all letters received "Bearing" from, or despatched "Post" to the United Kingdom via Southampton will be taxed in addition to the usual Indian Postages, viz :

|                                 |         |                        |
|---------------------------------|---------|------------------------|
| When not exceeding.....         | 1 Ounce | 1 Shilling or 8 annas. |
| Above ½ oz. and not exceeding.. | 1 do.   | 2 do. or 1 Rupee.      |
| " 1 do. and not exceeding..     | 2 do.   | 4 do. or 2 Rupees.     |
| " 2 do. and not exceeding..     | 3 do.   | 6 do. or 3 do.         |
| " 3 do. and not exceeding..     | 4 do.   | 8 do. or 4 do.         |

And so on, increasing two Shillings, or one Rupee, for every additional ounce weight or any fraction thereof.

3. As British weights may not be generally available to the Public for regulating the weight of their correspondence, the following scheme for using Coins of the Indian Currency for that purpose, will be found to afford a very close approximation to the Ounce and the half ounce weights.

|---|-----|-----|
| The half ounce avoirdupois—the weight for a single Steamer Letter—being equal to Grains Troy 218½, and one Rupee and one Copper Pie of the Company's currency being equal to Grains Troy 213½, every person confiding his English correspondence to the weight of these two Coins will be certain of being within the weight prescribed for a single Steamer Letter.—The ounce avoirdupois— |     |     |
| 1 Rupee.....  | 180 |     |
| 1 Copper Pie ..   | 33  | 333 |
| Grains Troy..   | 213 | 333 |
| the weight of a double Steamer Letter—being equal to Grains Troy 437½, and two half anna pieces, and one Copper Pie being equal to Grains 433½, every Letter not exceeding the aggregate weight of three such Coins will, in like manner, be within the weight allowed to a double Steamer Letter.  |     |     |
| Two half anna pieces at Grains Troy 200 each..  | 400 |     |
| 1 Copper Pie.   | 33  | 333 |
| Grains Troy..   | 433 | 333 |

4. The Public will bear in mind that this optional pre-payment of the Steam postage applies only to the route via "Southampton" and that letters sent by "Marseillies" cannot be prepaid in this Country. It applies also only to Letters posted in India addressed to the United Kingdom and vice versa, and does not apply to letters post in, or addressed to places beyond the United Kingdom : i. e. all letters for Africa, unless addressed to Agents in the United Kingdom, as well as those addressed to the Continent of Europe, it marked "via Southampton," must go "Bearing" from this Country.

5. The postage of Letters for the Red Sea, Egypt, the Mediterranean and Marseillies, upon which 9 annas have hitherto been levied as the Notification * by the Government of India of 5th June 1830) is to be reduced † from 1st March next to the same scale as the Steam postage on Letters to, and to, the United Kingdom via Southampton.

THE OVERLAND MAILS.

NOTIFICATION, MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to notify, that information has been received from the Honorable the Court of Directors, that the Mails by the Overland Route will, from November next, be despatched from London on the 4th of every Calendar month.

The following are the dates on which the mails will be despatched, and reach the intermediate Stations.

The Steamer remains 4 days to Coal, &c.

The Mail is immediately despatched to Suez, which it reaches on the 23rd, and proceeds forthwith to Bombay.

From Bombay, the Mail will be despatched about the end of each month, on such dates as circumstances may render necessary, so as to reach Suez on the 19th, and of which due notification will be given.

According to the number of days in the preceding month
Arrives in London the.....9th or 10th

The longest time required has, in all these cases, been calculated to provide against the bad weather in the winter month.

N. B. The Public and Agents for Passengers are particularly requested to observe, that by this arrangement the period hitherto granted for the transit of Passengers across the desert, is altogether abrogated, as the rapid despatch of the Mails alone is the object contemplated, but the departure of the French Steamers, every 10 days from Alexandria for Marseilles, will render this matter of less moment to Travellers.

By order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council,
Bombay Castle, 10th September 1839. W. S. BORD, Actg. Secy. to Govt.

NOTICE.

Superintendent's Office, Bombay, 14th June 1838.

It having been remarked that letters have been carried on board the Government steamers by passengers, not merely letters of introduction or credit but sealed letters, for which postage should have been paid, the Superintendent therefore directs the attention of Officers commanding the Government Steamers to Article 4th of the rules for the engagement of passengers, and directs that the same be brought to the notice of all parties applying for passage, and that they be required to sign the acknowledgment as directed to be forwarded to the Superintendent's office, on arrival at the Presidency.

NOTIFICATION.

Notice is hereby given, that Southampton has been made by Her Majesty's Government, the Port of arrival and departure of the Mediterranean and East India Mails instead of Falmouth; all Letters and Packets therefore from India, which under the Orders hitherto in force, would have been marked for transmission "via Falmouth," should now be addressed "via Southampton."

JOHN GORDON, Post Master General.
Bombay, General Post Office, 23rd November, 1853.

RULES RELATIVE TO FREIGHT ON PARCELS AND PACKAGES BY THE SUEZ STEAMERS

Rupees 48, and for each Child above one and under ten years of age, Rupees 24 Children under one year will be taken free.

2. The Commander's abstracts of passage money due to him on the above account, will be payable at the Presidency Pay Office only; the abstract for the outward voyage may be paid in advance or in arrears, at the Commander's option; for the inward voyage in arrears only; and the latter abstract must be preferred within two days of the arrival of the vessel in Bombay, or the Commander will be himself responsible for any loss that may in consequence follow.

3. The Commander can claim the fare above authorized, for such passengers only as appear on the Quarter Master General's list at the Presidency, or are admitted on board by order of the Commanding Officer through the Senior Naval Officer on the station at Kurrachee or on the coast of Schinde. The lists and orders, or certified copies, are to be attached to the abstracts of Passage Money, and no claim will be admitted without such voucher.

4. For the guidance of the Pay-Master in making the requisite recoveries, the fare is to be regarded as divided into two parts, viz.

A statement of the number of each class, which each packet is calculated to accommodate, will be open at the same place, to the inspection of the public.

9. Every applicant may register his name in whichever of the lists he pleases but the name of the packet will not be declared until 10 days prior to the appointed day of sailing, when choice of accommodation will be given, according to priority of standing on the lists. In the event of a greater number of names having been registered than the Steamer when declared, is calculated, to accommodate, the supernumerary names on the cabin lists may be transferred to that of the saloon or the deck, and those of saloon lists to that of the deck, or they may be withdrawn and the deposit repaid, at the option of the parties. In the case of a transfer under this rule, the name will be placed in the same position in which it would have stood by date of registry had the original application been for a saloon or a deck passage instead of a cabin or for a deck instead of for a saloon. Should any of the cabin or saloon berth remain open after the vessel has left the harbour, the saloon, or deck passengers may be allowed to take them on paying into the hands of the Commander the regulated difference of price.

11. Ladies and Children can take passages in cabins only, and female servants cannot be accommodated otherwise than in the cabin engaged for the family they accompany.

The vacant accommodation will be declared three days before the sailing of the Vessel. The passage between Aden and Mocha, and Bombay and Suez respectively will be counted as one half of the whole passage between Bombay and Suez:—between Juda and Suez, will be counted as one-third, and between Juda and Bombay as two-thirds: Cossier and Suez are considered to be alike.

14. The engagement of a passage will not be considered valid unless a deposit of the following sums be made at the time of application, viz:—

A deposit is not required on the registry of the names of children, except when the children are to occupy a cabin, by themselves, in which case the same deposit must be made as for the cabin passage of a lady or gentleman, viz. 300 rupees.

15. To prevent unnecessary trouble, the Master Attendant is authorized to receive and pass receipts for the deposit money.

Ten days prior to the appointed day of sailing, each passenger must pay to the Master Attendant the remaining portion of the passage money, in default of which the deposit will be considered forfeited, and any claim to passage invalid. When the cabins are finally allotted, an adjustment will be made with the party or parties to whom they are appropriated, the difference between the value of the place occupied by each individual and the deposit made under article 14 being paid up or returned, as the case may be. When the passage money has been paid up no portion of it can, on any plea be returned, except under the provisions specified in article 14.

17. Persons who from non-arrival at Bombay, may have omitted to pay the balance of the passage money may be re-admitted as passengers, if before the period of departure the balance is paid. They, however, will be placed at the bottom of the list of the class of passengers in which they are registered.

18. No transfer of accommodation in the Steamers by an individual who has taken a passage to one, who has not taken his passage will be permitted, but after the list has been filled up, any person wishing to stand the chance of succeeding to a vacancy caused* by a lapse of any kind may do so, by registering his name and paying the required sum which will be refunded to him should no vacancy occur.

19. It is to be understood, that Government reserves to itself the right of appropriating a cabin or cabins for the use of public functionaries or others proceeding on duty or by special order of Government as passengers in any of the Honorable Company's Steamers.

20. Passengers on a Steamer that may from accident or other cause be obliged to return to Port will be entitled to the refund of the amount that has been paid, deducting therefrom, a sum for the Table Allowance of the Commander, according to the number of days that the vessel may have been at sea calculating the average time occupied in a voyage to or from Suez to be 18 days, and Aden 10 days.

21. It is necessary for passengers not belonging to the Honorable Company's Service, to make the requisite arrangements at Suez or other intermediate Port with the Commander before or at least at the time of their embarkation for the payment of the passage money.

23. The baggage of each passenger must not exceed four boxes of the following dimensions viz:—

|--------------|-----------------|--|
| Length.....  | 2 Feet 5 Inches | and the total weight must not be more  |
| Breadth..... | 1 " 5 "         | than four cwt. Second class passengers |

The aggregate population of the globe, according to the foregoing statement, amounts to 829 millions of souls. It may be observed, however, that the number of Jews must be far greater and may be taken at more than eight millions. We have given it at 2,650,000, because that is derived from authentic sources; but these are very uncertain, in Asia and Africa especially. In the same way the number of sunnite Mahomedans may be rated as exceeding the amount above stated by nearly twenty millions—From the Allgemeine Kirchenzeitung.

RULES FOR THE POSTING OF PALKEE BEARERS.

NOTIFICATION.

The following Rules approved of by Government respecting the Posting of Palkee Bearers are published for the information of the Public, and for the guidance of the several Post Masters under this Presidency.

1. Travellers may be furnished with Dawk Bearers on application at the different Post Offices, where they will obtain all the requisite information as to the estimated distances between known stations, to which only Dawk bearers can be laid by any Post Master.

II. A set of Dawk Bearers comprises twelve, and one Mussalchee for which is charged, payable in advance, at the rate of eight annas per Mile, but as in many instances, owing to the delay caused by Travellers remaining longer on the road than the stipulated time, this sum is found unequal to the expense, a further sum of four annas per Mile is required to be paid as a deposit to cover any eventual expense or demurrage caused by delay on the part of the Traveller.—Should none occur, the full amount of the sum deposited is refunded, upon the Traveller furnishing a certificate from the Deputy Post Master at the place where his journey finished, that he arrived there without having incurred demurrage. It is the duty of the Deputy Post Masters to furnish Travellers with certificates specifying according to circumstances whether or otherwise they had come on demurrage ;—such certificate must however be understood, is only applicable to the Deputy Post Master's Division, who grants it, for it sometimes happens that a Traveller having incurred demurrage on part of the road, by travelling subsequently during those hours originally appointed for halting, reaches the last Division within the given time.

N. B.—It is to be particularly observed, that in some Districts, Bearers are with difficulty procured, and where they have to be sent a considerable distance to take up the Traveller, and in like manner to return home, for time so occupied they are paid additionally, and in all such cases Post Masters are authorized to charge the actual cost for the Travellers Bearers.

III. When it is reported that a Traveller come on demurrage, on any part of the road the adjustment of the amount deposited to cover such expenses will be postponed until the receipt of the Bills for the Dāk, from all the Post Masters through whose Divisions the Traveller may have passed.

IV. Travellers whether proceeding from the Presidency, or from Outstations are provided with a Form, in which they are requested particularly to note any cause of dissatisfaction they may meet with on their journey, and the places where they meet with obstructions, or irregularities on the part of the Bearers or Subordinate Post Office Servants, this Form being affixed to the certificate which the Travellers has to present for signature, secures its being noticed.

V. When Dāk has been ordered and circumstances may render it expedient for the Traveller to postpone his journey, or to withdraw the Bearers entirely, he will of course be held liable for any expense which may have been incurred on his account. The amount paid for the Dāk and the account deposited to cover demurrage will therefore remain unadjusted until reports are received from the General Post Master on the line of route upon which the Dāk was ordered.

VI. Travellers Baggage must not exceed for each Bunghee Burdar, twenty-four seers and this must be divided into two Parcels, or Pattarals of such dimensions as to render them conveniently probable when slung as Bunghees.

VII. It is to be generally understood, that although Government permits their servants to lay Dāk Bearers for the convenience of the Public, the State derives no benefit from this source, and that neither Government nor any of their Officers are in any degree responsible to the Traveller for the misfortunes and disappointments which are inseparable from Dāk travelling, thus every Traveller travels at his own risk, and is liable to the losses and increased expenses incidental to delays, and accidents, and that Government can in no instance be considered liable to make good any losses whatever.

VIII. When irregularities and consequent inconvenience occur to Travellers, the Post Master General on being applied to, will immediately investigate the complaint brought to his notice, but this can only be done in the same manner, and to the same end as a superior in any other Department would interfere to enquire into complaints preferred against his subordinates.

IX. In case of surcharge alone, or charges which to the Parties complaining might appear unjust because arising out of some positive neglect, or error on the part of the Deputy Post Master who lays the Dāk, it would be the duty of the Post Master General to investigate the matter with a view to afford pecuniary redress.

X. In every case of refusal to make good demands on account of laying Dāk Bearers, Post Masters are authorized to detain all Letters, Parcels, &c. for the person from whom demands are due in the same manner as is authorized to act under clause IX of the General Rules.

XI. Any decision pronounced by the Post Master General in all references relative to Dāk Bearers, to be considered final.

J. A. SHAW, Actg. Post Mr. Genl.

Bombay, Genl. Post Office, 3d June, 1841.

NOTES ON SPECIAL CASES.

AFFECTING PERSONS INTERESTED

IN PUBLIC LOANS, &c.

ALL TRANSACTIONS, &c.

CHANGE OF PAPER.—No. 1.

On an application being made by a party to be allowed in lieu of certain Government Notes of the five per cent loan paid off, a similar amount in the new 4 per cent loan, bearing the same date which they would have borne, if a constitutional transfer had been made before the liquidation of the loan, it was ruled that the transfer should take effect only from the day of presentation.

FORCE OF COPIES OF BILLS.—No. 2.

Mr. A. B. applied for acceptance of copies of thirds of seven sets of bills drawn on the Government, the originals being on board a ship from China which was overdue ; and the first and second supposed to be lost in another vessel.

Acceptance was declined ; but Mr. A. B. was informed that the presentation might be noted to give the holder the advantage of time as to date of sight, and that at the proper time payment might be ordered, should there be good reason to believe all the originals lost, upon certificates from the Financial Agents at Canton, and under the guarantee of an established house.

ADMISSION OF LETTERS AS POWER OF ATTORNEY.—No. 3.

On an application from Mr. A. B. that certain letters from Mr. C. D. might be admitted as a power of attorney, to enable him to receive the principal of a Govt. Promissory Note of 1823, standing in the name of Mr. E. F. (deceased) Mr. C. D. and Mr. A. B. (the applicant), his request was complied with under general guarantee.

RECOGNITION OF TRUSTERS --- No. 4.

It has been ruled that no account shall be opened on the Stock Book recognizing parties as trustees, and that Promissory Notes and Bills of Exchange, thus describing parties, should not be issued.

PROMISSORY NOTES NOT SUSCEPTIBLE OF SEQUESTRATIONS.---No. 5.

On a notice being received from the Sheriff of Calcutta under writ of Sequestration, demanding an account and possession of certain Company's paper, the Accountant General was instructed to reply that Promissory notes being negotiable securities, the Govt. would be under obligation to pay to the person to whom they might be assigned, and that Govt. held nothing susceptible of sequestration by a notice of the kind received.

TRANSMISSION OF GOVERNMENT PROMISSORY NOTES BY DAK.—No. 6.

Two or three instances having come to light of the abstractions of parcels containing Govt. Promissory notes in course of transit through the Post Office, arrangements have been made to guard against such occurrences, by issuing notes with signatures and numbers in duplicate, to enable them to be divided and forwarded by separate daks, the 2d half after the acknowledgement of the receipt of the first.

INTEREST.---No. 7

Mr. A. B. claimed the difference between 5 and 6 per cent. interest from the 31st December 1834, to the date of declared payment of certain 6 per cent Remittable Notes transferred to 5 per cent. loan, and not subsequently to either of the book debts. It appeared that the 6 per cent. remittable notes were advertised for discharge in two portions—the notice for the discharge of the first expiring on the 10th of August 1835. The property of Mr. A. B. in one of the two notes, upon which he claimed the difference of interest, was stated to have been acquired on the 22nd March 1836, the other on the 10th November of the same year. As in both instances his right did not accrue until sometime after all claims to interest at the rate of 6 per cent had ceased, it was ruled by the Home Authorities in concurrence with the opinion of the Advocate General at Calcutta, that Mr. A. B.'s application ought not to be complied with.

INTEREST.—No. 8.

In a case where interest was due on account of stock transferred, the question arose whether the transfer conveyed interest since that last half-yearly payment up to the period of transfer. This question was referred to the Advocate General who decided in the negative. The local and Home Governments concurred in that decision.

ADMINISTRATION TO ESTATES.---No. 9.

An application in 1834, from the Governor of Serampore, in connexion with the estate of a deceased native of Denmark, for permission to administrators of estates at that settlement to administer to property situated within the British territories without taking out letters of administration in the Supreme Court was refused, on the ground that the Government had no power to interfere with the process of administration prescribed by law, except by an act of the Legislative Council.

DITTO.—10.

Joykissen Doss was a banker in the city of Benares. By his Will, executed in Aug. 1832, he bequeathed the whole of his property to any son that might be hereafter born to him, and in the event of his having no son, to his daughter, an only child, then in the fourth year of her age, and to his wife, and any wives and grandsons in the female line that he might subsequently have. If his daughter should have a son, such son was to be entitled to the whole property on his attaining his sixteenth year. Certain monthly allowances were to be paid to his wife and daughter, a house was assigned for their residence, and ornaments of a certain value bequeathed to them. The will also appropriated sums for the performance of the testator's obsequies, and those of his wife, for the marriage of his daughter, and for allowances to other parties, as well as a number of directions on various points. To carry into effect the trusts and bequests of the will, the testator appointed the company his attorney and manager, and in the failure of descendants from him, either in the first or second generation, and the death of his wife, the company were to succeed to the entire property, subject to the payment of a monthly allowance to his father, provided he had not availed from a certain stipulation, and to the payment on his death of the expense of his funeral rites. By a codicil executed in September 1834, he referred specially to the three Government Agents for the time being, as the officers of the company, who would become charged with the execution of the trusts of his will and the administration of his effects, and provided that if they should decline the duty, the Ecclesiastical Register of the Supreme Court should become his Executor. Joykissen Doss died in December 1835, leaving a widow and the daughter above referred to, his only child.

It appears that on the above facts being brought to the notice of Government it called upon its agents to administer to the will of Joykissen Doss as executors. These gentlemen prayed to be absolved from undertaking this duty; and it was ruled at Home that the functions of an executor to a will formed no part of the duties of Government. Further, that in the case of parties dying intestate, it was necessary indeed that the law should interfere to prevent property being wasted or diverted to improper channels, and this duty has been assigned to a particular officer. But that if the practice were sanctioned of Government undertaking the onerous, difficult, and frequently dangerous office of executor, it was not easy to determine how far it might be carried.

In addition to these general objections, the particular case of Joykissen Doss was open to several special ones. The trusts under the will were numerous and complicated, the property though nominally large, appeared to be scattered in a variety of quarters, and much of it to be not very easily capable of realization. There were large claims upon the firms which had become insolvent, other large portions were involved in what appeared an almost inextricable mass of litigation and might perhaps be further embarrassed by the hostile disposition said to be entertained towards the deceased by his surviving relations. Under such circumstances it was ruled that the Government would be justified in acceding to the request of the Government Agents to be permitted to renounce the executorship. Further that the duty of the Government Agents to execute the will under review did not necessarily appertain to their public character, and its discharge involved personal liability which could not descend to their successors. Other reasons were stated, and orders issued from Home against Government taking upon itself in future such cases as that under review.

OMISSION TO ENDORSE BILLS.—No. 11.

Messrs. A. B. and Co. applied to Government for an order for payment of 4 accepted bills for Rs. 60,000, which Capt. C. D. of the ship E. F., by whom they were transmitted had omitted to endorse. The application was complied with, on receiving a guarantee from Messrs. A. B. and Co. to produce a power of attorney from Capt. C. D., and on his letter to the firm being deposited an interim with the Government. It has however been decided that this case is not to form a precedent, and that further and most complete security must be taken in further and similar cases.

RATE OF EXCHANGE FOR H. M.'s SERVICE FOR 1840-41.—No. 12.

The rate of exchange for bills to be drawn in the official year 1840-41, in repayment of advance for the Queen's service in the East Indies has been fixed with the concurrence of the Lord Commissioners of Her M.'s Treasury; at two shillings and one half penny, 2s. ½d. the C's. Rupee.

CONSTRUCTION AS TO AUDITED SALARY BILLS.—No. 13.

On the question whether the Government in the case of its having a claim against the drawer of an audited salary bill would recognize the bona fide transfer by the endorsement to a third party, it was stated to the Secretary to the Bank of Bengal, that it was the practice of the Government to order retrenchments to be made through the civil auditor, prospectively upon the bills that might be subsequently brought for audit. It was added that the Government could scarcely imagine the case in which it could interfere between the audit and payment of a bill passed to an officer to whom the sum passed was absolutely due at the time of audit.

BANK OF BENGAL POST BILLS.—No. 14.

It has been ruled by Home authorities that Bank Post Bills are to be received at Mofussil Treasuries on precisely the same conditions as Bank Notes.

The notice of payment duly advertised as above, and published in the Government Gazette of Calcutta, shall be considered as equivalent to a tender of payment on the date advertised for discharge, and all interest will cease from that day.

7. Proprietors who shall transfer to the books of Madras and Bombay, will be entitled to receive interest at the exchange of one hundred and six-and-a-half Madras and Bombay rupees, for one hundred Calcutta rupees, from the General Treasuries of those Presidencies respectively.

CORRECT POSITION OF THE ISLAND.

NOTIFICATION.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Bombay Castle, 29th November 1844.

The following letter, relative to an error in the position assigned in the Charts to the Lackadive Islands and the Shoals in their vicinity, is published for general information.

No. 109 of 1844.

To CAPTAIN JOHN PEPPER,

Acting Superintendent of the Indian Navy.

SIR,—I beg to bring to your notice, that on the arrival, report of the Barque "Fulcon," on the 8th instant, it is stated that the vessel struck on the Byramgore Lackadives, when by her reckoning her Latitude was  $12^{\circ} 1'$  North;  $71^{\circ} 40'$  East of Greenwich, and recently another Vessel, the and to this Port, was wrecked on the Cherbanian reckoning, her Latitude was  $12^{\circ} 22'$  North, and Longitude  $71^{\circ} 23'$  East of Greenwich. In the first case the position of the Vessel would appear to the Commander to be 23 miles to the Westward of the shoal, and on the second case  $18^{\circ} 20'$ .

My object in addressing you, is to point out, that the dangers of the Lackadive group, are all placed  $18''$  miles of Longitude too much Easterly, on the Chart of the most recent Survey, executed by Captain Moresby of the Indian Navy in 1828, an error which is likely to prove fatal to some ships passing to the Westward of the group and their passage to this Port. In justice to Captain Moresby, I would state, that the error arises from the Longitude of Mangalore Flag Staff at the time of the Survey, being allowed to be  $18^{\circ} 18'$  to the Eastward of the correct position, as determined by the grand trigonometrical operations, with reference to the Longitude of Madras Observatory. The first station at the Lackadives, was the Cherbanian Bank, and the distance between it and Mangalore Flag Staff was determined by Chronometric measurements, after which all the other Islands and dangers were determined, from the Cherbanian Bank, consequently the relative bearings and distances of each must be correct, but the erroneous Longitude East of Greenwich affects the whole.

I would beg to suggest, that notice be given to Ship Masters (who may be navigating by that Chart) of the necessity of deducting  $18\frac{1}{2}$  miles of Longitude from the positions assigned to the Banks and Islands of the Lackadives, to obtain their correct position.

I have the honor to be, &amp;c.

(Signed) DAN: ROSS, Master Attendant.

Master Attendant's Office,
Bombay, 11th Nov. 1844.

By order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council.
P. M. MELVILL, Lieut. Col., Secy. to Govt.

REGULATIONS FOR THE HARBOUR POLICE.

NOTIFICATION.

The Honorable the Governor in Council having approved of the following Rules for the guidance of the Water Division of Police, in respect to Arab Vessels frequenting this Port, they are published for general information.

Great irregularity appearing to prevail in the arrangements on the departure of Native boats from the harbour of Bombay; the following rules are to be hereafter enforced.

I. All Arab boats arriving in Bombay, not using a Pilot, shall report their arrival at the Police Office, when the names of the crew and passengers; and any extraordinary occurrence which may have happened, will be taken down in writing by the Deputy Superintendent of the Water Division, and a report made to the Senior Magistrate of Police.

II. Two days previous to the departure of the Vessel, the Nacquedah or Tindal shall report to the Police Office, any casualty or other peculiar circumstance which may have occurred on board the Vessel while it has been in the harbour, together with the names of all passengers proceeding in her; this information is, if necessary, to be verified by search under the orders of the Deputy Superintendent of the Water Division.

III. A certificate that this has been duly performed will be given by the Deputy Superintendent of the Water Division, and without which, the certificate from the Senior Magistrate of Police will be withheld.

IV. All boats shall, one day previous to their departure, anchor as near as possible to the Police Hulk in order that they may be overhauled and their crews mustered before leaving the port.

V. In reference to the embarkation of Pilgrims, the following rules will be in future observed.

VI. When an application for a clearance is made by the Nacquedah of the vessel, he will deliver in a list of the intended Pilgrim passengers, an officer of the Water Division will then proceed on board and inspect the vessel, compare the list with the Pilgrims on board, and certify before the Senior Magistrate the state of the vessel, the correctness of the list, &c.

VII. Until this is done no certificate will be granted.

VIII. The officer who proceeds on this duty of inspection, should inspect personally the place allotted to each Pilgrim in the vessel, and to each Pilgrim should be allowed a space of five feet in length, and two and a half feet in breadth.

IX. If the number of Pilgrims be reported by the inspecting Officer as too great, steps should be taken to ensure the removal of the extra portion to some other vessel.

X. Vessels should not be allowed to sail, leaving any of their Pilgrim passengers on shore.

XI. The freight and passage money should also be ascertained and noted down, to prevent imposition, and the food and water provided for the Pilgrims on board, should form a subject of proper enquiry for the inspecting Officer.

Bombay, 4th November, 1844. P. W. LEGEY, — Sen. Mag. of Police.

Most useful Stations in the Bombay Presidency.

AHMEDABAD.—A large and thickly populated city on the Sabarmatty in the province of Guzerat, of which it is the chief town. It is 320 miles from Bombay, 365 from Poona and near 1200 miles from Calcutta. This city was formerly one of great importance and about 300 years constituted the metropolis of a large and independent kingdom. It reached the height of its importance under Mahmood Bagra in 1450 but rapidly declined with the growing celebrity of Surat, the European mart of commerce in Western India. The city is pleasantly situated on the banks of the Sabarmatty, which falls into the gulf of Cambay about 60 miles below the city, near Cambay the proper port of Guzerat. The inhabitants consist chiefly of Bahrattas, Moslems and Parsees. It is now under the rule of the English. Here are held the Judges Courts for the trial of Civil and Criminal cases. The judges are members of the Company's Civil Service, from whose decisions an appeal may be made to the Court of Sudder Dewaness and Foujdaree Adawlut at Bombay. There are several mosques well worthy of inspection. The jugglers of Ahmedabad are as celebrated for the ingenuity of their feats of legerdemain and strength as those of Trichinopoly. Population 100,000.

AHMEDNUGGER.—This is an extensive and important city in the province of Aurungabad and was formerly the capital of one of the sovereignties of the Deccan. It is 83 miles from Poona, 181 from Bombay via Poona, 335 from Hyderabad in the Deccan, 403 from Nagpoor, 1119 from Calcutta and ——— from Madras. The town was commenced in 1493, by Ahmed Nizam Shah, who after the dissolution of the Bhamanee empire of the Deccan made Aurungabad a kingdom, then called Ahmednugger, the same name as the city, which became the capital. Ahmed died in 1508 and for the succeeding century it had several rulers, none of whom remained at the head of Government for any length of time. In 1634 it merged into the Mogul Empire, under whose dominion it continued until the death of Aurunzebe, when it was seized on by the Mahrattas and continued a part of the Peshwa's possessions, until 1797 when it fell into the hands of Scindia. In 1803 it was taken possession of by the English, under General Sir Arthur Wellesley but restored to the Peshwa on the following year and again reverted to us on the destruction of the Peshwa's power after the battle of Kirkee. The fort is strong: the gaois are reported to be unhealthy.—Population.

ANASODNAGUR.—This is one of the strongest and best fortified towns in the Bombay Presidency and under the Mahrattas was made so formidable and capable of making resistance, that the name given to it was Anasodnagur, the city of Lions. It is situated in a district of the same name, in the province of Bejapoor, about 158 miles from Bombay and 68 S. E. from Poona. It is frequently used as a fortress in which are immured state prisoners whose influence, and means of communication with adversaries it is necessary to prevent.—Population, Officer Commanding..... AURINGABAD.—An extensive and valuable city in the province of the same name, and formerly its capital. It is 284 miles from Bombay, 186 from Poona, 205 from Hyderabad, 647 from Madras and 122 from Calcutta. This city was originally called Gurks, then a small village, a few miles distant from Dowlatabad the former capital of the Empire. It was the favorite residence of Auringzebe, during his vice-royalty of the Decan, and to that prince it owes its name, and subsequent importance. This town continued subsequently to be the capital of the Nizams' Kingdom until they quitted it for Hyderabad, where they were less open to the incursions of the Mahrattas. It now belongs to the presidency of Bombay, and as now viewed presents little of the grandeur it possessed in the palmy days of its founder; the ruins which are the chief remains of its former greatness bear witness of the magnificence of its moslem rulers. A few miles distant is the strong fortress of Dowlatabad and the remarkable caves of Ellora.—Population 60,000.

Postmaster..... Mr. Paymaster J. Ralph, (Nizams' Service.)

Native Bankers and their corresponding Coorties at Bombay &c.

BELGAUM.—This station forms the Head-Quarters of the Southern Division of the Bombay Army. The town is not extensive, but the general arrangements of the place are not inferior to the towns of the Mahrattas. The Police arrangements are good and the station healthy. Population.

Officer Commanding the Division..... Major General P. DeLamotte, C. B., 3rd Lt. C.

Postmaster..... Captain Archer, 20th M. N. I.

BROACH.—This is an extensive commercial town situated on the north bank of the Nerbudda at the distance of about 25 miles from the sea. It is comprised in the Collectorate of Broach. The town was founded at a very early period, and is supposed to be the Barygaza of the ancients. Notwithstanding the circumstance of the increased trade of Broach, its appearance and general importance is rapidly declining. In 1701 the population amounted to about 80,000; this number was greatly reduced by famine and in 1804 the inhabitants amounted to about 55,000. The town together with the district or Zillah were ceded to the British in 1782. At the period when Broach was besieged, under Sindia, General Wedderburne who commanded the attacking Army was killed under the walls, but the place was taken by storm a few days after that distinguished Officer's death. Broach is 231 miles from Bombay, and 40 from Surat.—Population 45,000.

Native Bankers and their corresponding Coorties at Bombay, &c.

CAMBAY.—This town which is situated at the Upper part of the Gulf of Cambay, was the Sea port of Guzerat during the time, it was a flourishing and independent province. It is now decayed; a great part of the town is in ruins. It is miles distant from Bombay: The principal trade of the town consists in Cotton, Grain, Elephant's teeth and cornelians called Cambay stones; the two latter are shipped largely to China and the eastward. Here are several native public buildings, Hindoo temples and a small Mahomedan mosque, which for neatness and general beauty, are comparable with the best works of the natives to be found in the cities of British India.--Population

MALLIGAUM.—Is a place of inconsiderable importance in Candeish, but was formerly a stronghold, garrisoned by Arabs. The fort is well and strongly built, and from its proximity to the river Girna easily defended. The reduction of the fort by the British troops was a work of much toil; the siege was protracted, the sorties of the bold arab garrison brave, frequent, and serious, and it was not until the English force had sustained considerable loss of officers and men, that the successful explosion of a mine induced the garrison to surrender. - Population.

Officer Commanding..... Brigadier C. B. James, 8th N. I.

Postmaster, ..... Captain H. N. Ramsay, 24th N. I.

MAHABLESHWUR.—The Mahableshwur Hills, which from the site of the only convalescent station under the Bombay Presidency, are situated in 17dg. 56' north latitude and in longitude 73dg. 30' east, and are distant twenty-five miles due east from the sea, and sixty nine miles from Bombay, which bears north 20dg. W. They form a portion of the extensive chain of mountains known under the name of the Western Ghats, or Syhadree mountains. On their western side they rise with an abrupt and precipitous ascent from the Concan which separates them from the sea; while their eastern face presents a somewhat less rapid and steep descent into the table land of Deccan.

The general elevation of the station is 4,500 feet above the level of the sea while its highest summit attains an altitude of 4,700 feet. It is elevated upwards of 4000 feet above the subjacent country on the Concan side, and about 2,300 feet above the general level of the Deccan at its eastern base. Its greatest breadth at the northern extremity is about 15 miles, and about 8 at its southern boundary. The average direct length north and south does not exceed five miles; through from N. E. to S. W. it extends diagonally seventeen miles.

Excellent roads have been made in almost every direction. These already extend over a space of upwards of forty miles, more than one half of which are carriage-roads, and the remainder bridle-paths, and have been so laid out as to open up to the visitor a varied succession of mountain scenery, which for grandeur and beauty, it is believed, can be equalled in few parts of the world.

The soil consists principally of a red clay (formed by the disintegration of cellular ferruginous clay-stone, which constitutes the surface rock), intermixed with the debris of trap rock, and in many places with a considerable proportion of decayed vegetable matter, forming a brown mould, which is found to be very productive. An abundant supply of excellent water is at all seasons procurable, either from wells, which vary from twenty to forty feet in depth, or from the small streamlets which traverse the hills, some of which retain their water during the whole of the hot season. An extensive artificial lake, recently constructed by His Highness the Rajah of Sattara, has added materially to the supply of water already available, whether for cultivation or for domestic use.

The most striking feature in the vegetation of these hills is the profusion of the common Brake (Pteris Aquilina) which serves to recal the associations of a more northern clime. A species of Curcuma, the root of which yields an excellent description of Arrowroot, grows every where in the greatest abundance. There is a considerable variety of Parasitic Orchideæ, some of which possess great beauty; and the trunks and branches of many of the trees, are covered with a variety of Lichens and Musci.

Potatoes of excellent quality are cultivated very extensively, both for the consumption of the station, and for the supply of the Bombay and Poona markets. A plentiful supply of all the common culinary vegetables of the best description can be procured at reasonable rates. The excessive heaviness of the rains prevents the successful cultivation of European fruits.

The village of Malcolm Peth, (so named by the Rajah of Sattara in honor of the late Sir John Malcolm, the distinguished founder of the station) contains six European shops, where European supplies of almost every description are procurable at the same rates as at Poona, and very little higher than at Bombay. The station is also visited by numerous itinerant hawkers (horahs) from Bombay, whose baskets are usually filled with a varied assortment both of European and Indian goods. The Malcolm Peth Bazar is a tolerably large one and is well supplied with all articles of consumption, which are the produce of the country, and generally at moderate rates. The mutton, which is small but of excellent quality, is sold at  $\frac{1}{2}$  annas per pound. Beef at 1 anna per lb. Fowls at 3 or 4 annas each. Grain is principally imported from Wye, (a distance of 21 miles,) and is usually about 8 or 10 per cent. higher than in the Deccan. Firewood is abundant and cheap; grass is of rather inferior quality. A monthly nerrik, or price current is circulated for the information of visitors: but under existing regulations, its observance cannot be enforced on the dealers, though they almost invariably conform to it.

Mahableshwar is easily accessible both from Bombay and from the principal stations of Deccan and Concan. The visitor from Bombay, by sailing down the coast to Rancote, and thence up the Sawitree river to Mhar (a distance of seventy miles by sea, and thirty by river) is brought within twenty seven miles land journey from the hills: or, should he object to even this short sea trip, he can cross the harbour to Nagotna (which is effected in one tide) from which the distance by land is only seventy miles, along an excellent road with a public bungalow at each stage. The distance from Poona, by an indifferent hilly route, is seventy miles, and from Sattara only thirty miles by a very good carriage-road. The approach both from the Concan and from the Deccan side is at all times safe, as there is no intervening jungle, and no danger to be apprehended from attacks of fever, or other diseases of malarious origin.

This station was founded by the then Governor of Bombay, Sir John Malcolm, in 1828. It was ceded to the British Government by the Rajah of Sattara, in exchange for another village, and was subsequently annexed to the Zillah of the Concan. Its European establishment consist only of a Chaplain and a Medical officer, the former visits Sattara once a month, during the fair season; and during the rains he performs the duties of Chaplain at Sattara. The Medical officer is also Superintendent of the station, and a first assistant to the Magistrate, and has charge of a subsidiary Jail, as also of a treasure chest for the payment of sick officers and their families. A detachment of fifty sepoy, under the command of a jemadar, is kept up to supply the usual guards.

The public buildings consist of a Sanatorium (containing eight sets of quarters) and five detached Bungalows, for the accommodation of sick officers and their families—a Church, which was built by private subscription, and accommodates 160 people—a small subsidiary jail, containing sixty Chinese convicts who are employed in the construction and repair of roads—a chowrie—and a Dhurum, sallah for native travellers. There is a subscription Library containing upwards of 700 vols., and a Hotel on a small scale was opened in 1843 by Mr. Pascal de Souza.

The private dwelling-houses are 70 in number of which 53 are substantially built of hewn stone and lime, and the remainder of rough stone and mortar sun-dried bricks, or wattle-work. The greater number of them are thatched, tiles having been found not to resist the monsoon rain. Allotments of ground for building are granted by government, on a twenty one years' lease, the principal provisions of which are, that the lease shall pay an annual rent at the rate of a rupee an acre, that he shall build a substantial bungalow, and erect suitable landmarks on the boundaries of his allotment, that he shall not be permitted to cut down trees which are close to the public road; and that he shall obey all regulations existing in the Mofussil, so far as they are not of a personal nature, but are incidental to the possession of immovable property, and so far also as they affect the health, safety, and convenience of the other inhabitants of the station. The average size of individual allotments granted, during the last three years, is six acres.

The following is a statement of the numbers of visitors of all ages who have resorted to the station. each season, during the last three years.

It remains to add a brief outline of the Physical & Medical qualities of the climate.

The mean annual temperature of the station is 66 deg. 2', which approximates very closely to that of the Cape of Good Hope, and of New South Wales, and is nearly identical with the estimated mean temperature of the globe. The following summary embraces the principal particulars of the climate, as deduced from ten years meteorological observations

The influence of the climate upon the healthy constitution, constituting what may be termed its physiological action, is stimulant and tonic. In addition to the effects which usually result from a change from a warm to a cool climate in all latitudes and at all elevations an improvement of the appetite and of the digestive and of assimilative functions, and an increase of muscular and mental energy—there are experienced, in greater or less degree, at this station, a peculiar feeling of excitement, and a sense of dryness and constriction of the skin, which appear to be solely attributable to the effect of diminished atmospheric pressure, in exciting the circulating system, and in augmenting cutaneous evaporation. It is the presence of this latter element in the constitution of inter-tropical mountain climates, which emphatically distinguishes them from all other climates whose temperature is the effect of latitude, and which will ever render them inferior in therapeutic efficacy.

The climate of this station is inapplicable, if not positively injurious, in all acute inflammatory affections, in the greater number of organic visceral diseases in Dysentery, and in almost all the varieties of Rheumatism.—On the other hand, it has been found beneficial in uncomplicated intermittent fevers—in the greater number of functional disorders of the digestive organs—in general debility, cachexia, and impaired general health (unaccompanied by local disease,) whether the result of long continued exposure to a tropical climate, or of close application to official duty and the sedentary life which usually accompanies it, or of tedious convalescence from acute disease—in a few forms of diarrhoea, such as those which depend on simple relaxation of the exhalant vessels of the bowels, or which occur in persons of a cachectic or strumous diathesis—in some of the slighter and more chronic hepatic and spleen affections, provided they be unaccompanied by any evidence of morbid vascular excitement, general or local—in some varieties of nervous and periodical headaches—in chronic rheumatism, occurring in a debilitated or in a Cachectic state of the system, and unaccompanied by any feverish tendency or by morbid irritability of the bowels--in various Scrofulous affections, and in the precursory or incipient stage of pulmonary phthisis, where there are the usual constitutional indications of the tubercular diathesis; and where the existence of tubercular deposition in the lungs is suspected rather than unequivocally announced--in the greater number of the varying modifications of disorder arising from, or co-existent with functional uterine derangement--and in almost all the diseases incidental to infancy and childhood.

The agency of this climate in the preservation of health and the prevention of disease is probably greater and more beneficial than its direct therapeutic efficacy, more particularly in relation to females and children. The practice, which is now so prevalent in the Bombay presidency, of withdrawing children from the pernicious influence of the excessive heat of the low country during the hot season, and of transferring them, during these months, to this temperate and equable climate, has the incalculable beneficial effect of warding off many of the acute attacks incident to childhood, and more especially to the period of dentition; of supporting the energies of their constitution on a nearer level with the European standard during the first years of their growth, when such constitutional invigorations of vital importance; and of lessening the liability to future disease and future debility of constitution, to which all children, born and reared for some years in this country, are more or less liable.

POONA.—This station is situated 13 deg. 30' north latitude and in longitude 75° 50' each. It is distant about 72 miles from the sea, up to St. Mary's Church. The Country from Bombay to Khundalla is low beneath the Ghauts, or commonly called the Syadree range of mountains whose height is from the sea about 3,000 feet. Although the passage up the Bhore Ghaut is comparatively easy, and was made by that able and scientific Engineer Captain Hughes under the auspices of Sir John Malcolm's Government; yet these mountain range of hills on the western side are abrupt, steep and precipitous, leading into the Concan; and on the eastern side you come upon a table land which in some places is as high as many parts of the ridge of the range of Ghauts. In general the hills rise to the height of from 1000 to 1500 feet. The road from Panwell to Poona is a good Mackadamized road. This with the advantage of the establishment of the Phaeton for Passengers by two separate firms whose rates are shown in a note below renders it easy. This rapid conveyance is, both for letters and Passengers, a great public benefit, and the manifest encouragement given to the undertakings in question is a decided proof that their utility for expedition and comfort is appreciated by the public. If the traveller however is averse to this mode of transit, and is desirous of proceeding to the Deccan at an easy pace, a good carriage road with the advantage of a public Bungalow at each stage and the recent establishment of the Victoria Hotel at Khandalla are circumstances likely to render travelling both comfortable and pleasant.

Poona is now daily gaining in importance. The appearance of Kirkee from Bosregum is very enlivening; when the visitor sees the pretty houses and systematic range of Barracks and other public buildings it is animating and truly cheering. Then again on nearer approach to Poona, as the visitor proceeds along the Sunghum and its picture-que buildings their appearance suggest the idea of being in one of India's best and coolest retreats; a little further and the conspicuous building called the Collectors Cutcherry, which goes by the name of the "Pillah" Adawlut forces itself on the eye. On the right there is a row of large and small buildings, with pretty parterres in front, leading to St. Mary's Church; on the Northern side there is the Military library—a good one of its kind—containing some thousand volumes, and its taking in most of the newly published works and periodicals affords satisfactory evidence of its being liberally supported. On the Western side of the Church is situated a tank which retains water during the whole year. On the Northward of the tank is the Victoria Hotel, lately established by a Mr. Windsor; and on its Southward is the Presbyterian chapel, which by the way, is ill adapted for a large congregation, particularly during the residence of a Scottish Regiment. Further on to the Southward of the Church is a row of Barracks for a European Regiment. The road leads as far as Wanorec, nearly a mile South-east from the Church where the Horse Artillery is situated. The officers Bungalows are on a rising ground and many of the staff in Poona reside here. We may remark en passant that the "actus" so much declaimed against by medical men as causing malarias, fevers, etc., has been wholly removed, and substituted by milk-bush and other shrubs as a fence. On the right of the Collectors Cutcherry there is a road leading to the arsenal, where it meets the principal road leading to St. Mary's Church. There is a third road on the right of the last mentioned where one or two commodious and pretty Bungalows have been erected for the purpose of being rented. On the right of the latter is situated the excellent Cutcha Buildings called the Bishops lodge and Dr. Ducat's Bungalow. These new Buildings considerably enhance the appearance of this road, which is called the "circular road" and leads across the lines of the Engineer Corps to the new Barrack on the easterly side of Poona and near the village of Ghorpuray; thence by the Horse Artillery lines and round a small oblong hillock on the southern side of camp.

The cantonment of Poona now wears a most imposing aspect and is daily improving by the erection of fine Bungalows, uniform hedges, good and spacious mackadamized roads. The number of new Shops and other Buildings lately erected in the Military Bazar has contributed much to its improvement: and every building that is now erected has a character for permanency and stability.

There are several Shops for European goods. In these shops can be obtained

*1st. Pestonjee.

2nd. Goostadjee Bomanjee, and Co. per Phaeton for one or two Passengers including Pulkie at the Ghaut, Rs. 35.

Per Buggy one Passenger Do. Do. 20.

Proportional charges are made for any shorter distance.

Application to be made at Bombay to Messrs. Thomson & Co.

In Poona to Sorabjee Cursetjee Sudder Bazar.

European Articles of every description and often (altho' scarcely credible) cheaper than they are to be had in Bombay. The numerous itinerant hawkers who come about the Camp sell goods much cheaper than the regular established shop keepers. The cost of Articles of consumption in this bazar is extremely moderate. Good Mutton is sold from 10 to 12 lbs. per rupee. Beef from 12 to 14 lbs. per rupee. Milk 14 to 15 quarts per rupee. Grain 20 to 30 seers (2 lbs.) per rupee. Rice from 12 to 14 seers per rupee, but every Article of consumption can be procured in the city of Poona at a cheaper rate, say half a seer more in grain, and a fowl or two more; but the distance from Camp makes it inconvenient for masters to send their servants so far to avail themselves of the advantages offered. Very little mutton is sold in the city; such as is disposed of is considerably cheaper, but the quality perhaps will not be found to be so good. If however the civil Gentlemen of the station were to encourage the establishment of mutton shops on the outskirts of the city of Poona, they, in all probability, would be able to get first rate mutton at prices considerably lower than are given at the Camp Bazar. To the credit of the superintendent of Bazaars, it may be remarked, that although the articles are dearer than they can be procured for in the city, they are generally of the first quality. Vegetables and to be had in abundance in the Camp Bazar; but not quite so cheap or fresh as in the city. The common Cabbage, which, at one time was a rare article of consumption in Poona, is to be had in the city from 3 to 4 pice a head. Potatoes, of very good description, brought principally from the village of Neergorah, and Pait in the Khairi and Joonere Districts of Poona where they have been introduced by Doctor Gibson, are to be had both plentifully and cheap; some Potatoes come to the Poona market from Mahabeshwar. Many Gentlemen in Bombay get a supply of Potatoes direct from the places mentioned. Fruits of every description are plentiful and are grown in profusion in Poona. Their enumeration may be of use to the intending or occasional visitor. The Cocon, Suntra, China and Mosambique Oranges. The Purple, Fuchin, Honey pods and the common white Grapes. Guavas, Bananas and other Plantains. Leaches, Figs, Custard apples, Bull's heart or "Ramtul" and other fruits are to be had in abundance during their respective seasons, and of the very best quality. The Mangoe, Pomulnoe and Pine apple are the only exceptions, such as are grown at Mazagon and other parts contiguous to Bombay are esteemed superior to those that are to be had in Poona; but where persons are desirous of obtaining fruit cheap, they must send their servants early in the morning to a place in the city called "Mundee" situated near the Joonawara, where they will get fruits and vegetables choice and cheap. They are taken thither for wholesale vending and it is from this place that the Camp market is supplied.

As a knowledge of the individuals who have houses for rent in the Civil limits will be useful to persons resorting to Poona during the rains, their enumeration may not be amiss, viz. Messrs. Sundt, Martinant, Fernandez, Hansen, Aiken, Wakeman, McCudden, Mrs. Mason. The rents of houses are regulated according to the size, cost, and demand; and vary from 50 to 200 rupees per month. None are to be had during the rains for a lower rate; excepting such as are in a line with the shops or nearer the city of Poona, and where, from their construction and situation, there is a total absence of that requisite element, air. By recourse to them the object for which a person temporarily locates at Poona is entirely frustrated.

The climate of Poona is acknowledged by the Faculty to be the best for a residence during the monsoon. It is free from that dampness and bleakness which is characteristic of the climate of Bombay during the wet months. The falls here are not so incessant and seldom or never continue for any length of time without the intervention of sunshine. Taking the hot, cold and wet months into consideration, there is no climate in India so congenial and salubrious as that of Poona. It is not peculiar for any particular disease, altho' as in all other countries, the inhabitants have their share of the different and innumerable diseases which man is heir to; but often it must be remembered these have been caused by intemperance, folly, carelessness or by an infringement of the organic laws. To such as strictly maintain the observance of a system reverse to the above, the climate of Poona is likely to agree with the constitution. It does not, at all events, appear dangerous for any particular complaint, altho' it may be necessary in some diseases to resort to colder climates for their perfect cure.

The public Buildings at this station are as follows. The Collectors Cutcherry, Civil Hospital; Judges Residence, Pay Office, Post Office, Police Magistrates Office. The Arsenal, Commissariat Department, and travellers Bungalow, which is situated in the civil limits and is too small for so large a station as Poona.

For the amusement of the Ladies and Gentlemen at the station the Band plays twice a week; once at Surgum, in the Adawint compound and at other times at a spot marked out between St. Mary's Church and the Horse Artillery lines, where a circular platform is erected for the Band, and for about 30 or 40 feet, the ground is levelled for carriages to drive round it.

The city of Poona since the reign of Shewajee, the founder of the tract of country called the Mahrashtra, has become an important place, and was formerly the capital of the Paishwas. Shewajee, was succeeded by the following chattraputris, namely, Sumbajee, Mullarjee and Shao, and then by the Paishwas named Balajee Wisoonath, Bajee rao Bullat or otherwise called Bajee rao first Ballajee. Hajeerao or Nana Sahib, Mahadow rao Bullat or Mahado rao first, Narrain rao, Mahado rao, second, and Bajee rao Ragoonath who is now a state prisoner at the sacred place called Bramawart on the Banks of the Ganges, near Cawnpore. The city was at one time estimated to contain about 1,10,000 inhabitants, but after the removal of Bajee rao Paishwa with his court and army it lost from a tenth to a fifth. It is now inhabited by various castes, but the Brahmans and Mahrattas may be reckoned as forming the majority. The Bramins are divided into two classes, the dishust and konkanist, and are generally employed as carcoons or clerks. The Mahrattas hold all the menial situations under Government, such as peons, Jasooods &c. they also serve private Gentlemen as grooms, dressing Boys, and altho' some Mahrattas may be seen as table servants, yet they generally consider it a degrading office and spurn even the prospect of a good salary held out to them. Prejudices on this score are rapidly wearing away. The city of Poona may now be considered to contain from 80 to 90,000 souls, and in its vicinity, the camp about 15,000 more, making in all about 1,10,000 including Europeans and natives.

It may not be here amiss to give a brief notice of the last Paishwa's reign from grant Duff's History "Bajee rao the eldest son of Ragoonath rao succeeded Mahadeo rao Narrayen in 1796; after an interval of a year Nana Furnavees who was the Prime minister was his enemy, and was desirous of excluding him from the Paishwaship, but was afterwards obliged to abandon his design and to aid his elevation to it. The Paishwa was not well disposed towards this able statesman, and in order to get rid of him persuaded Dowlut rao Scindia, to seize his person, and to put him into confinement. It was not long however before he was released and reinstated as minister. He died in 1800 three years after Bajee rao's accession: he left no male issue but his widow is still alive and enjoys an annual pension of Rs. 12,000 per annum from the Government. Nana Furnavees had no equal as a statesman in any of the modern Governments of India. His wise measures it is said preserved the country in a flourishing state during his administration of the Government; so high an opinion did the people entertain of him that when he died it was remarked that the wisdom and moderation of the Mahratta Government had departed with him."

The city lost a great part of its wealth in the plunder of Poona in the beginning of Bajee rao's Paishwaship. It was occasioned by the Peishwa having promised Daulatrao Sindia two crores of rupees for his assistance in raising him to power, and having no means of paying, while Scindia required money for his troops: it was mutually agreed between them to extract that sum from the wealthy inhabitants of Poona, many of whom had incalculable sums of money. Various inhuman means were resorted to, to effect this object; and many were even tortured to death to make them give up their money and other valuable property.

The march of Teestwunt rao Holkur upon Poona in 1803 and his victory over Scindia to the Paishwa's united forces in a battle fought in the outskirts of the City led to Bajee rao's flight from it to Rayagad and afterwards to Basseen, where he entered into treaty with the British Government. He concluded the treaty with the British Government even at the sacrifice of his independence, as he was compelled by the necessity of the circumstances to agree to maintain a British force of eight thousand men within his Territory. On this condition the British Government agreed to restore him, and to maintain him against all Foreign enemies. This treaty sealed the downfall of Mahratta independence, and was one of the most important events during the reign of Bajee Rao. It was ratified on the 31st December 1802. - The city of Poona was on this occasion plundered by Yeshwunt Rao Holkar prior to the restoration of the Peishwah, which event was followed by a state of Peace for 14 years until the final war in 1817 which led to the overthrow of the Peishwah and the supremacy of the British Government.

There is manifest improvement to be seen now in the city of Poona in the construction of good Roads, thro' all the leading thoroughfares; in the erection of conspicuous and neat Chowkies; in the cleanliness of the streets; in the building of uniform shops by private individuals in the principal public streets. The interest shewn by Government for the health and happiness of the inhabitants by in these improvements is compensated somewhat by the population having erected some excellent edifices and many old dilapidated buildings have been put in thorough repair, a circumstance quite unusual before. In having moreover contributed in money half the expense for the construction of the "Dhurn" or dam which is now finished and is called by many of the inhabitants "Nul's Dhurn" on whose recommendation the Government had sanctioned its construction. This Dhurn is situated in the N. W. direction of the city, is a great public benefit, not only for passengers, but in collecting a quantity of water for drinking, washing and other culinary purposes for this portion of the city. The old Sungum Pool or bridge situated in the west end of the city has been removed, it having been considered useless to repair it any longer. It was upwards of 200 Years old. A new one is being constructed under the Superintendence of the road and tank Department which when completed will be a great public benefit, as well as impart an impulse to trade in the traffic from the Mawuls and the Concan. Many old and dilapidated houses have been destroyed and now ones erected with the materials but on smaller scale. The houses now erected are seldom more than three stories high, formerly they were erected as high as five stories.

The Joona-warra or the Peishwa's Palace was one of the principal buildings belonging to the Peishwa, both in respect to extent and grandeur; It was built by Bajee Rao, the grand father of he, who is now a state prisoner at Brahamawurt; the Builder was a warrior of no small stamp, and it was from having signalized himself in some undertaking with Shamrajee of Sattara that he was appointed by him Peishwa of Poona. But however valorous or intrepid he might have been, he did not indicate any of the Mahratta craft and cupidity of Sewajee who alone extended the territory of the Mahratta, and left his successors very few countries to subdue. When Bajee Rao, the Builder was erecting this building, and had had got to the height it originally stood, intelligence had in the meantime reached Shamrajee of his design, when he sent word to him to discontinue the work, and think of protecting the people under his care, sword in hand, in the open field; rather than remain sheltered in a large fortified house where he would be able to display little of his valour or enterprise. This rebuke put a stop to a design which had it been completed would have placed it in competition with any edifice in India, remarkable for extent and altitude; as it stood it was a building of great magnificence; innumerable and gorgeous were the apartments, and the materials were principally if not all of Timber, and of a description and size unequal to what one can possibly conceive. Each beam is estimated by the Natives to have cost Rs.500, but as Natives are in the habit of exaggerating things two or three fold, we should suppose it to be the medium which is Rs. 250. More than this it probably did not cost. The outward appearance of it was so grand and engaging that no one could have mistaken it for any other Building but that which best befitted the residence of Royalty, a splendid and substantial wall like that of a fort environs it, together with two large Gates, the one facing the North and the other the East. It has also 7 Bastions equidistant from each other, and Guns might be located thereon, but very much to the detriment of the houses surrounding. It is not too much to suppose that Guns were fired from them (tho' no certain information can be procured) from their being some light ordnance placed on the top of the North Gate, which has a pretty wide surface on top with a flag extending in a central position. The building stood six stories high, and the sixth story was called the Gunpntee Mahal, whose festival was celebrated there, with much illumination, pomp and grandeur.

A circumstance not less remarkable than grievous to the Inhabitants, happened in this Mahal to one Suwahee Mahadorao Narrain Peishwa, a young man of very promising talents, whilst a few of his statesmen were in attendance on him, he at the time was labouring under a paroxysm of fever, when he made a rush and leaped through the window on a cistern close by. Such was the force with which he fell that the pipe of the cistern went through his thigh, and his body was so mangled and disfigured that the poor young Prince did not survive many minutes after; and notwithstanding the agility of one of his attendants in endeavouring to save him from the fall by laying hold of his garment, it was too fragile to sustain his weight and save him from his impending fate. After the death of his father Narrainao many schemes were in practice by several persons so get the Peishwaship, but it having been discovered that Gungabya his mother was pregnant with him, it put an end to all their plans. But still the question was undecided whether the child would be a male ope, on which account they resolved on pretence of carrying her to a place of safety, to convey her to the fort of Poonendhur, a place about 14 miles from Poona, that in the event of its proving to be a female to substitute a male child. For the furtherance of the design, several Brahmin women in a state of pregnancy are said to have been conveyed into the Fort at the same time: it fortunately however happened to be a male child, which prevented all clandestine proceedings. This is a circumstance quite fresh in the memory of the Natives to this day, and they even say that this Prince reigned before he was born.

As it is not our intention to dwell long on incidental circumstances we shall revert to the Palace again. This Palace was very lofty: its terraces commanded an excellent view of the whole of Poona, its adjacent villages and scenes. Parbatty tho' a shree, or sacred image of no small eminence, when on top of this edifice it appeared of medial height. Its pointed Temples interspersed with trees, a few towering over the buildings on the hill afforded gratification and delight seldom to be met with amid the monotony of Indian scenery.—Kirkee, whose plains and rising grounds are memorable for the associations they conjure up both to the English and Natives, afforded an enchanting view when seen from the top of this Building. Bamboorda, a village contiguous to the city of Poona was distinctly visible with its lofty Palmira and thick groves of Bamboo trees growing at nature's will, without art or care; and the course of the Moota river impelling its rapid waters between both places, and forming a junction with the river Moola close by, called by the natives "sungum," opposite to which a famous statesman had his residence during the Poona war. It was then that Sungum should have been viewed in its rich robes, a truly picturesque spot; time and its harrowing influence has made a great change for the worse, owing principally to its being robbed of its romantic semblance by cutting down innumerable trees then growing wild, and in their stead erecting public buildings. It is to be regretted that such a metamorphose should have been completed for had it continued in its former state it would have afforded the visitor inexpressible delight. Sungum however cannot be said to be robbed of all its beauty; there is a fragment of it still remaining. Sherabang, situated on the S. W. side of the city can be seen to no small advantage. It is situated at the foot of Parbatty Hill, and is a spot to which many resort as the scene for recreation on native festival days: its banquets associations attract many a rider early in the morning towards it, and to inhale its fragrant and odoriferous herbs abounding in this enchanted spot. The advantages of the pure air, unobstructed and uncontaminated by native fumes, and the commanding situation of this edifice must have been a source of pleasure and enjoyment without its alloy to those who in succession got the Peishwaship; and then again to look around its precincts within the walls, on the great number of fountains playing and throwing forth their crystal drops on the water excite feelings of admiration—admirable and prepossessing as these scenes were and some of them still are, could the visitor wish for any thing more than to gratify his desire by being situated on an eminence of this description, and have the advantage of seeing with one view all the prospects around him—how pleasing, how gratifying these must have been to the princely inhabitants of this once truly magnificent Palace. Envious indeed must have been their situation!

All who may choose to peruse this will regret that a catastrophe should have occurred which has made so fine a building—a large of heap of mould! This Palace was consumed by fire in 1827 and the conflagration lasted seven days: every possible exertion was made to extinguish the fire but without avail: very little timber, a few beams of the lower apartments and some of the adjoining offices where the flames could not extend its ravages, were saved. There are some fragments here and there remaining which will give the curious some idea of its former excellence. The cause which gave rise to the fire is not accurately known: some suppose it to be done by prisoners sent to work there, and others attribute it to accident by having kept a piece of fuel opposite a beam which took fire. It is generally supposed to have been wilfully done. In irony to Europeans the natives say it was a visitation from “Eshwur” for depriving Bajee rao of his Country and Palace—the Government had metamorphosed the place into the Civil Jail as being well adapted for the safe custody of Prisoners. It was in contemplation to establish a public Bazar, as well as stationing the Police within the precincts of the walls. This was decidedly a good plan, but why it has been abandoned we cannot account for. In the late improvements made in the City, a room has been erected in each of the Bastions, and originally intended for the different Native Courts on Poona, but this idea would also appear to have been abandoned, as the apartments are now unoccupied.

The Shookerwarra was the next in importance. It was five stories high, but it was not quite so perfect in architectural strength and stability: it was therefore deemed expedient by professional Engineers to pull it down, and with the materials St. Mary's Church was erected at Poona: The apartments of this building were somewhat inferior in size to the Shmwarra.

The Boodwar Palace; or commonly called the Boodwar warra, is the only dwelling house of the Peishwas of any significance worth seeing. When Poona was taken by the British Government the upper series of apartments on the third story were not completed; they were subsequently finished by Government under the Superintendence of the Collector. This Palace is three stories high. The 3d floor is occupied by the Fouzdar, the Police Officer of the City, and in a line with it there is a large and handsome terrace for Promenade. Had it not been for this the Palace situated as it is in the heart of the City and crowded as it is with large Houses would make a comfortable residence. One part of the Palace is occupied by the Police Office, or commonly called the “Furash khana” another by the Muvally and City Mamludais catcherry. A third portion by an English and two Mahratta Government schools. There are four native Courts held in it for the adjudication of Civil suits: these are the Sudr Ameen's Court whose officer is “In the receipt of Rs 350 per month and three Moonisff Courts, each moonisff being in the receipt of Rs. 200 per month. Intestate property office, or office of the Nazir, also occupies a few rooms of the Palace. The reader will doubtless form some idea of its size by the occupation of so many Courts, schools, catcheries, Etc. Etc. The apartments, altho' nothing in comparison to what the Joonawarra was before its destruction by fire, are numerous, tolerably capacious, and constructed on much the same principle as Joonawarra is described to have been. Water near the Palace is in great abundance and nothing can equal its public convenience and comfort, indeed one of the greatest blessings bestowed on this populous City by the Peishwa was the bringing of water from Kutragn water-fall to the City of Poona by an aqueduct, whence it is conveyed by minor pipes to all parts of the City to the different cisterns constructed for the reception of water: these cisterns are generally divided into two, one side is intended for the Brahmans and the other for the Mahrattas and other Hindoos, from which cisterns they take water for drinking and culinary purposes: near these reservoirs men, women and children bathe.—The women be it observed perform this office in so chaste a manner as not to expose their persons in any way, but of course to the English idea of modesty public bathing is considered as violating public morals. Mahadeo Row Rastia has also a null or aqueduct which brings water into Poona, in that portion of the City called “Rastia's Pali” (after his own name) from the village called Kondwa “Khond” (or large) situated about 8 miles from Poona.—It has minor pipes which extend to the limits of the camp and supply a great portion of the camp people. There is a third “null” called Nana Farnavis' null: water is conveyed by it from Wargoun, situated at the S. W. direction of Poona, a distance about 5 miles, but these are inferior to the one constructed by one of the Peishwas.

At a Government building called the "Wisram baw" which belonged to the Peishwa and was erected for the sole purpose of his retiring to from the toils of state cares to refreshment and relaxation : such at all events is the acceptation of the word विश्रान्त weeshrant from which the word "Wisram" has been given to it. It is now occupied by the "Sanskrit college" which institution is continued and supported by Government and is under the superintendence of Captain Candy.

Independent of the Schools above enumerated there are two other schools supported by Government, situated in Shukerwar Pait in a building called Tallin Khanat. There is a fifth Government school in Rastias Pait and occupies a room within this Sirdars premises. Besides the schools supported by Government, there are about 25 other schools in the City of Poona supported by Private Individuals, but the instruction received in them is not quite so good as that obtained in the Government schools, as the Government school masters have undergone a regular and systematic course of studying. There is a missionary school in this City for which a large House is hired in the street called the "Jop Khana" and is well attended by Brahmins and Mahratha Boys. Considerable attention is paid to their instruction by the missionaries at the station.

The Police of the City of Poona was organized in the year 1841. Their strength is 348, having a Foulidar on a salary of Rs. 200, a Deputy on Rs. 50 per month, with a superintendent of Police at the head of both, who is an assistant magistrate. The Foulidar is vested with the highest Judicial Powers allowed a native local Functionary in accordance with Reg. XII. Sec. XLII. His powers are not to exceed ordinary imprisonment without hard labour for a period of 2 months and a fine of 30 Rupees. The Deputy tries no cases but has to go his rounds at night and to make his report in the morning to the superintendent of Police. The cases tried by these functionaries can be either annulled or confirmed by the Magistrate on an appeal being made by the dissatisfied Party, or if the sentence of incarceration in any case be beyond three months. The Magistrate is the highest Judicial authority for the city of Poona and the Districts attached thereto. The Police of this City is generally spoken of as being very efficient and creditable—Crimes would appear to have been diminished considerably since its organization and what appears worthy of remark is that when robberies are perpetrated, those concerned are soon discovered and property seldom or never escapes recovery. Gang robberies, which were heretofore very frequent on account of the wealth of the inhabitants, never occur now. This is owing mainly to exemplary European supervision.

The Building of Gates to every "Ghullee" or minor street tends more than any thing to the prevention of robberies in dark and dismal lanes without the possibility of detection. Large Gates have also been erected to all the outlets from the City which prevent the easy facility, the robbers hitherto had of making their way out of the City with stolen property.

The trade of Poona has fallen considerably to what it was during the former Governments. Iron and all other Articles of consumption are on the increase owing to the abolition of all Transit and Town duties and all objectionable municipal taxes which has doubtless given trade a fresh stimulus, as nothing could have corrupted the energies of a people naturally apathetic, and thwarted enterprises than taxing trade and tradesman. Clothes such as Sarrees, Doopatas, Pagodas, &c. were manufactured here, but of course to no very great extent : they were principally brought from Nassick and other places ; but still the present manufactures bear no proportion to what they were during the native Governments. The Bankers and the Shroffs have met with considerable losses in their sources of profit from various causes. The stoppage of the Tankal or Mint of Poona is one. The introduction of the Company's Copper currency is another ; and last not least the establishment of the Bombay Bank which precludes the necessity of the public availing themselves of the method of remitting money to different stations in India by Hoondees. The only source of profit left the Bankers now is the lending of money on unexceptionable security, such as on the mortgage of property ; little or no value is set on houses and perishable property, money is readily lent on private estate or by the deposit of Jewels equivalent in value to the money lent.

As it may not be uninteresting to know the number of the principal Sirdars and men of rank who are residing in this populous and important City, with a brief sketch of their Political character, possessions &c. we shall attempt here to give a consecutive, account of those only who permanently reside in it. There are many who hold possessions in the Poona districts but do not reside in the City. Of these individuals it is not our intention to speak of, but it may not be irrelevant to remark that of this class some have their Vakeels or Agents in Poona who are their representatives with the Government or its local Officers in all matters connected with their Chiefs. These Sirdars being men of high rank, their Agents are treated with consideration and respect by the Government and its local Officers. It is indeed by such courtesy, conciliation and attention to the natives of India that the reputation of the British has risen so high. While on this subject we will here quote a passage from Sir John Malcolm's work on central India which will be useful to a novice entering upon the Civil or Military Services in conducting himself towards the natives of India when posted into the Mofussil. "The people of India must by a recurring sense of benefits have amends made them for the degradation of continuing subjects to foreign masters and this can alone be done by the combined efforts of every individual employed in a station of trust and responsibility to render popular a Government which though not natural, has its foundations laid deep on the principles of toleration, justice and wisdom."

Mahadornao Gungadhar Merichkur, is an independent chieftain whose territories are situated at Belgaum, the revenues of which amount to Rs. 1,25,000 per annum. There are several brothers and each possesses a separate estate. The collective value of the estates is supposed to amount to Rupees 11,00,000 per annum. This individual occasionally resides in Poona, and has a warra, situated at Shunwar Pait. The Merichkur or otherwise called the Putwurdhuns, afforded valuable assistance to the British in their hostilities with Tippoo Sultan when en route to Seringapatam--they are said to be a brave meritorious family.

Ruggonathrao 1st Class Sirdar is the son of the late Wittal rao Nursing Veechoorkur, a very great chief, in fact he is one of the chieftains in the Deccan, most of whose Jagheers were of ancient date. He submitted to Sir John Malcolm with the Paishwa. The whole of his personal property was restored to him on the strong recommendation and promises held out to him by Sir John Malcolm. The whole of the father's Surinjam possessions have been continued to his son amounting to Rupees 40,000 per annum, and Government may deem it necessary in its wise policy to continue all, or a good portion of to the next male issue, in order that so great and important a family may not break down or dwindle into insignificance. The present incumbent has a warra in Shunwar Pait, near the Temple of Dhankeshwar: he conducts himself with credit and respectability and keeps up the dignity of his rank.

Bulwantrao Mahadeo Rastia, was the grand son of the first British Grantee Mahadeo Rastia; he holds a surinjam of the value of Rupees 60,000 per annum. Rastia's father was the head of a large and respectable family, he left the Paishwa after Colonel Adam's affair. He had sent in overtures to the British troops from the village of Senudeh where he had retired on condition that his personal Jagheer of 60,000 and 20,000 Rupees more from his former Jagheer in the Carnatic should be restored to him. It would appear he was unjustly and without any good cause deprived of his Jagheer by the Paishwa: it was restored to him in opposition to that prince's wishes by a clause in the treaty of Poona. He joined the Paishwa in the beginning of the war and gave no proof of attachment to the British Government until the Paishwa's flight in the direction of Chanda, where it seems he endeavoured to supersede Appa Sahib the Paishwa's brother, to throw himself on the liberality of the British Government; it was indeed owing principally to his persuasion that Appa Sahib did come in at a late period. He was friendly to the British during the war, and from his having conducted himself with great respect towards Government whose system he never liked, every personal consideration was shewn to him by the British Government. Mr. Elphinstone states that his son is more respected than any Chief in the Deccan, and is personally worthy of consideration himself. His palace at Poona was occupied on the capture of the City by part of the British troops to the loss of a large portion of the family archives. His son is to this day highly respected by the inhabitants and acts towards the Government with great attachment and fidelity. The surinjam enjoyed by this chieftain will it is believed be continued to his direct heir for nine generations. There is very little of the family property left; at all events the present family would appear to be worth nothing in available cash. The Peishwa was indebted in large sums to the present incumbent's father on account of money which he had lent the state; which circumstance caused Rastia himself to incur debts, a portion of which, as his means permitted, his son repaid.

Ramroo Trimbeck is a Sirdar of the first class and by the death of his cousin Abba Poorundherry he became the head and representative of the Poorundherry family, said to be one of the greatest celebrity in the Deccan. Mr. Warden, Deputy Agent, in speaking of this family states "that its rise is exactly coeval with the circumstance by which the person holding the Office of Peishwa obtained that influence which enabled his successor to usurp the royal authority and which ultimately led to the imprisonment of the hereditary sovereign of the country."

The first Poorundherry named Arbajee Punt Poorundherry was dewan to the Peishwa Ballajee Visoonath, when he was nominated to that Office in A.D. 1713 by His Highness the Rajah of Sattara and received also from the Rajah of Sattara the title and authority of mooralik; a personal surinjam of about Rupees 17,000 was also referred upon him. His son Mahadojee Punt succeeded him: he was attached to the Peishwas Ballajee Bullal and Ballajee Bajee-rao. During the administration of the latter he voluntarily resigned his Office and retired on a pension of Rs. 20,000 and an additional personal surinjam of a lack of rupees per annum. He was then succeeded by his son Nelkuntarao who on paying a muzzur or present was allowed to adopt Nilkuntarao Mahadeo commonly called Abba Poorundherry who held a portion of the Forij surinjam of his Father, which amounted to a little better than 2 lacks of rupees, and a personal surinjam of about 40,000 Rs. per annum.

This individual having been a particular and intimate friend and favorite of Bajee-rao, possessed great influence with him and other men of rank in Poona. He is well known by the people of the Deccan and is highly respected by them: he is supposed to have had considerable influence in the Councils of the state. In all the dangers and disasters which befel the Peishwa he was a steadfast and faithful adherent to the last, and hence it is said that he and his dependants followed the fortunes of their King. He accompanied Bajee-rao in his flight and was with him when he resigned his royal authority to Sir John Malcolm. This great and noble adherent on the resignation of the Peishwa transferred his allegiance to the British power and retired to Sassoor on a personal surinjam of 50,000 Rupees per annum. On Abba Poorundherry finding his health declining; overtaken by age and infirmities and being childless he applied to Government in the year 1825 to allow him to adopt a son who should succeed to the surinjam that had been granted him. The Government at that time merely sanctioned the adoption without continuing the surinjam. This sirdar deferred the adoption till he was taken seriously ill and on the point of death, but his carcass and dependants having falsely represented that the adoption received the sanction of one or two members of the civil service when Mr. Elphinstone ordered the resumption of the estate which had legally lapsed to Government: but for this circumstance occurring the resumption in all probability would not have taken place. This decision, however entailed considerable hardship and poverty to the adopted son, but on a strong recommendation from the Bombay Government in the year 1832 to the Court of Directors, a surinjam to the annual value of Rs 25,000 has been lately continued to the adopted son Ram rao Trimbeck from the date of Abba Poorundherry's death. During some portion of the year he resides in his large and well fortified warra at Sassoor near which his villages are situated and the other portion of the year in his warra in Pait Kusba at Poona. This being one of the first families of the Deccan, Government may in its wisdom and policy continue the surinjam to the next male issue.

Chimnajeo rao Wittul is a first class sirdar and is the son of the late Wittul rao Mullar Poorundherry. He is one branch of the Poorundherry family just described, but branch of the family is said to be poor and in embarrassed circumnances. The father was deprived by the Nizam's Government, notwithstanding the urgent recommendations of the Bombay Government in his behalf, of a surinjam yielding Rs. 11,000 per annum. This circumstance threw the family into great distress and was a great blow to their importance. The father's conduct for loyalty and peaceable demeanor has given his son, the present incumbent, favor and consideration with Government and he is in the enjoyment of a surinjam valued at Rs. 7723 1, per annum.

Hurree Hur Pundit or of Tatia Maharaj, a Sirdar of the first class. His ancestors were the Gurmoor Priest of the Kolapoor Rajah. They were clever men and had a knowledge of Sanskrit and the "Waydant" or theological doctrines. They inculcate an abstract and speculative monothereotical worship and deny the actual existence of a material universe, but the education of the present incumbent was not much cultivated in any of the sciences above described. He possesses an Enam estate of the value of Rs. 60,000 per annum, is a very respectable man, and resides in his own warra in Sudasew Pait near Kalla warra.

Sheoram Kasgeewalla is the nephew of the first British Grantee Annundrow Sewajee, possesses a surinjam of nearly Rs. 1760 per annum. He is a Sirdar of the 1st class, is the descendant of a great family, and consequently well known by the natives of the Deccan. He lives in his own warra in Sookerwar and Boodwar Pait.

Balla Krishn Thutley is a sirdar of the first class. He was the Brother-in-law of the last Peishwa but one, and consequently must be treated with consideration and respect: we are only surprised that his surinjam amounts to the small sum of Rs. 937 per annum. He has a warra in Sookerwar Pait.

Venuik Chintamon Deshmook is a 2nd class sirdar and received his personal Jagheer at the recommendation of Bane rao in accordance with his Agreement with Sir John Malcolm. He has a warra in Sookerwar Pait.

Muller rao Bijee Mankeshwar is a 2nd class sirdar and is the Brother of Sudasew Mankeshwar, who was the Peishwa's late minister, whose adopted son inherited his property and who after a very short illness died last year; on which occasion a surinjam of Rs. 30,000 per annum reverted to Government. It is said that his brother was plundered by the Peishwa: he is supposed to have left some treasure and some enam villages which were given to him by individuals and foreign states. In a long pending dispute between Luxmon rao and Muller rao Mankeshwar respecting some family property it was ultimately decided by the Queen in Council in favor of the latter. This circumstance nearly ruined Luxmon rao in the expenses attendant in law suits and for their liquidation his property was attached by Government. The subject of the present notice enjoys a small surinjam of Rs. 1,100 per annum but the dispute which his brothers adopted having been decided in his favor will no doubt enable him to live comfortably. He has at the present day one of the largest warras in Poona not excluding the Boodwar warra otherwise called the Peishwa's Palace, in which he has place called the "Aynee Mahal" or Hall of Mirrors which when illuminated has a grand effect and is worth seeing: many Ladies and Gentlemen resort to his place for this purpose.

Bhicejee Junardhun Attowley is an old Rajah Chief and a 2nd class sirdar and is in the enjoyment of an annual surinjam of Rs. 4730. He has a warra in Narrain Pait.

Ramchander Pandorung Dhoodhur, a 3rd class sirdar. He is the son of the late Anna Dhanmdherry who with the present incumbent, his son joined the British but afterwards returned to the Peishwa's Camp to bring his brother, but is said to have been detained by the Peishwa. This personal Jagheer amounting to Rs. 14,403 has been continued to him at the recommendation of Sir John Malcolm.

The Sirdars above described are those most in note but there are many others together with many Political Prisoners residing in this celebrated city, once the seat of the former Government. As a list of the Sirdars and the amount of their annual revenues cannot fail to afford interest, annexed are the details.

SIOLOAPORH—This town is the capital of a district of the same name in the Southern Mahratta Country. It is 236 miles from Bombay. The town is but indifferently built, and possesses scarce any thing remarkable. It is an important post so near to the Nizam's Territories of which the greater portion formerly constituted a part.—Population

SURAT.—Is a large city on the Taptee about 20 miles from the Sea, 36 from Broach, and 231 from Bombay. It was formerly the principal town in the Sircas of the same name, which extended to Mahim and Bassein, and subsequently became the great emporium of British India. It has since decayed, owing to the prosperity of its rival Bombay, to which place the seat of Government was removed. Surat was formerly one of the largest cities in India; it is now dwindled into an insignificant place, which but for the Cotton grown in the neighbourhood, known at Surat staple, the city would be comparatively unknown. The two powerful elements, fire and water, have greatly accelerated the decline of Surat. Within the last ten years, a disastrous fire made more than one half the town a heap of ruins; the overflowing of the Taptee inundated, and destroyed such of the lower town that escaped the flames. These casualties have not been repaired; the ruins extend some miles and form the dwelling place of Jackals, pariah dogs, rats, snakes, squirrels, and an amount of filth and vermin sufficient to contaminate and destroy a great part of the Population.

In consequence of the river being in some places shallow large ships cannot proceed so far as the town, or even vessels of 200 tons receive the whole of their cargo; to complete their freights they anchor just off the mouth of the river and the Cotton is conveyed to them in boats. Cotton staple is the chief article of export but this is now chiefly sent down to Bombay in boats of from 50 to 120 tons burthen. Surat still possesses a small direct trade with Arabia and the Malay Archipelago, which consists principally of Cotton and piece goods made at Surat, which at one time supplied the place of Europe goods both in the East and West. The buildings at Surat although mostly now in ruins bear ample testimony to the greatness of the city, when the emporium of Western India. In 1612, the English factory was established, and five years afterwards the Dutch also possessed a factory. The French likewise obtained a firm for the erection of a factory, but their trade was invariably a losing concern owing in great part to the operations of their English and Dutch rivals and the want of capital for their investments. The French factory is partly in ruins; the Dutch factory is used as English Offices and a section of it made into the Traveller's Bungalow. The Fort of Surat is a small but neat and secure, near the verge of the river, and equidistant from the Dutch and French factories.—Population 130,000.

TANNAH.—This is a town the capital of the Island of Salsette and the seat of a Collectorate of the same name. Here is a small but strong fortress in which the state prisoners are kept whose crimes or personal importance have not secured them location north of the holy river Christina. Formerly a strong military force was stationed here in order to repress any incursions of the Mahrattas from the province of Aurungabad. This is no longer necessary. The neighbouring country is much infested by robbers, whose principal booty is generally opium in his transit from Malwa to Bombay, and whatever wealth the industrious classes on the island are enabled to accumulate. To suppress these outrages a corps has been formed called the Tannah Rangers, to whose activity and usefulness the inhabitants bear grateful testimony. The town of Tanna is 23 miles from Bombay; it is straggling, ill built and not extensive. There are several Portuguese Churches. Population 8,500.

VINGORIA.—This station is situated in the extreme south of the Rutnaghery Zillah, and is distant from Bombay about 275 miles.—The Head-land by which the anchorage-ground (for Coasting craft) is formed, is called "Beacon point,"—from its being surmounted by a small white pyramid, which may be seen, from a vessel's deck, in clear weather, about ten miles off.

The little "Bay of Vingoria" is completely sheltered from every point of the compass, the south alone excepted,—When it blows fresh from that quarter (a rare occurrence, and always of short duration), the little traders make a fair wind of it, and run to "Malwan," (18 miles north) where they remain until the wind changes. The roadstead of Vingoria is also, good. Vessels of any burthen may be, within three miles of the shore, and receive or discharge cargo, with as much ease, and as little inconvenience, of any sort, as at any other place of commercial resort.

There are about eighty boats at all times available to carry goods. The trade of Vingoria is chiefly confined to the staple,—Cotton. This article is exported to Bombay, during eight months of the year, in large quantities. The value of this branch of the revenue has increased, in the last three years, twofold. The total amount of collections, on imports and exports, for the official year 1842-43, may be estimated, in round numbers, at Rs. 65,000.

The Custom House is situated close to the beach, but owing to the tediousness of a shallow back-water communication, which is wholly under tidal influence, much delay, and inconvenience, in the transaction of business, are experienced. A good pier has long been a desideratum, and is much wanted at Vingorla. Considering that it is the very "Gateway" of the high road to the Southern Mahratta Country, through which Troops, Treasure, and valuable stores, of every description, are constantly being passed, and that the place, itself, is evidently, making rapid strides toward commercial importance, it certainly does seem strange, that something has not yet been done, by way of improving it, as a landing and shipping Port. It remains, however, to this day, literally, as nature left it.

The group of small islands, about eight miles West of this place, commonly designated the Vingorla Rocks, yield a small revenue to Government, owing to the famous "Birds'-nests," so highly prized as an edible, by the Chinese, being found upon them. The Rocks produce about one hundred weight of nests, annually.

The Village of Vingorla may contain about 5,000 inhabitants, has a tolerably good Bazaar and locates between twenty and thirty native merchants. These are yearly increasing. There are, likewise, a commissariat, and three private agents in the place.

The "Travellers' bungalow" (which is now an excellent, and commodious building, having lately been thoroughly repaired, and improved) is conveniently situated, within five minutes walk of the landing-place. The only other public premises are, a small house, occupied by the store sergeant, and a sort of semi-Fort, known as the "Factory." It is a large, and very strong building, having three tiers of spacious apartments. The lowest are used as depositories for Treasure, and arsenal stores. It is surrounded by a high, loop holed wall, at each of the four angles of which there is a small bastion, capable of mounting six guns, a pair of strong Gates, with a small moat, three quarters round, complete the defences. The open space between the wall, and the building itself, is fitted up with extensive sheds.

The "camp", which was formerly a large and regular cantonment, is eligibly situated about two miles from the Village, occupying a fine circular plain, about three miles in diametrical extent, and bounded by a belt of hills, verdant all the year round. Here the military out-post, which usually consists of 150 men (which, by the way, is too weak for the general duties, and character of the surrounding country,) under the command of a captain, and Subaltern, the medical officer (who is, generally, an apothecary) and assistant Collector of Sea-Customs, (when the latter is not on circuit,) reside. The public buildings at the camp comprise, a fine stone built Hospital, or Barrack, capable of accommodating from forty to fifty persons, with good out-houses, and a well attached; a small native hospital, Magazine, and a guard-room, all well built, and regularly kept in repair, by Government. The "Lines," and officer's quarters, are temporary buildings only. There are but four substantial private houses. Eight regiments could, with ease, encamp on the plain, without at all incommoding one another. The place, generally, is extremely healthy, and would, there can be little doubt, make an excellent convalescent station. Rheumatic complaints, in particular, it is known, instantly yield to the genial influences of its climate. Cholera, small-pox and fever, so prevalent in the the Konkun, generally, seldom visit Vingorla, and when cases do occur, they are very mild, and few in number.

THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL

Governor General.--Lieut. General the Right Hon. Sir Henry Hardinge Bart., G. C. B.

Commander-in-Chief.--Lieut. General Sir Hugh Gough, Bart., G. C. B.

Situation.--This extensive presidency or Bengal proper is situated between the 21st and 27th deg. N. lat. and 86th and 92nd deg. E. Long. On the N. and E. is Nepaul, Thibet, and Ava; and on the West the Presidency limits extend as far as Beeloochistan, since the newly conquered country of Scinde is reckoned a part of the Bengal Presidency.

Country.--Greatly diversified by lofty mountains and plains, fruitful, valleys, and level ground. The soil of Bengal produces every thing requisite to sustain life. Population of Bengal proper, was in 1838, 29,710,061. The Presidency of Bengal contains 306,012 square miles.

Government.--The Governor General is nominated by the Court of Directors subject to the approbation of the Crown. This exalted functionary is generally aided by a Supreme Council and the Commander-in-Chief, and assisted in matters of jurisprudence by a Legislative Council appointed by the Court.

Products.--Rice, Indigo, Silk, Cotton, Opium, Ivory, Tobacco and various kinds of drugs; also Sugar, Hemp and flax in abundance.

CALCUTTA.--The capital or seat of Government is situated on the W. branch of the Hoogly 100 miles distant from the sea, 1300 miles East of Bombay, 950 South East of Agra, 1000 South East of Delhi and 1030 North of Madras. It is the great emporium of British India whence resort ships of all nations. The appearance in approaching from the river is very magnificent and sufficient to entitle the metropolis to the term by which it is generally distinguished "The city of palaces". The town is about six miles in length but very irregular in breadth. The houses of the English and the wealthy Baboos are very elegant: a few of the streets are wide but for the most part they are narrow and crooked. The fashionable part of the city is called Chowringhee; the mercantile part of the city, is comprised between Chandpaul Ghaut and the mint. The city is surrounded by a circumvallation designated the Mahratta Ditch.

The tanks are numerous and well supplied with good water; they are annually replenished from the periodical rains.

On the East bank of the river, at the end of the Esplanade and about a quarter of a mile below the city, is Fort William, a magnificent work in the form of an octagon, but so large as to require an extensive garrison for its defence. It is sufficiently capacious to accommodate the whole Christian population of the town. The works are stated to have cost two millions sterling. The garrison usually consists of one or two Regiments, a compliment of Artillery and a number of artificers employed in the arsenal.

On the Western side stands the palace or residence of the Governor erected by the late Marquis Wellesley whilst Governor General. One hundred and forty thousand pounds sterling were expended in the erection. Captain Wyatt of the Bengal Engineers was the architect.

For the administration of justice there is Supreme Court and Courts of Appeal from circuit or Mofussil Courts of law and Criminal justice; several Police Offices, and other municipal establishments.

Calcutta contains several Colleges, Literary and Scientific associations, amongst which may be enumerated, Bishop's College, La Martiniere, Hindu College, Madressa, Sanscrit College, Asiatic Society, Lyceum, public Library and several private seminaries and foundations. The public buildings are not numerous but neat and some very creditable; of these we may mention, Government house, Ochterlony monument, Bishop's College, Town Hall, La Martiniere, Metcalfe Hall and St. John's Cathedral.

Like every other place in India the population has not been correctly ascertained, for as the Government does not impose a poll tax the mere ascertaining of the number of inhabitants is regarded with indifference. A census was attempted by Captain Birch, superintendent of Police in 1837, which set down the population at only 229,705, of which 141,893 were males and 84,812 females. A few years subsequently Captain Birch took an account of the number of persons who entered the town every day from 4 A. M., to 11 P. M. which amounted to 177,000.

The periodical Literature is ably conducted and very liberally supported. There are several daily, bi-weekly, and weekly journals devoted to intelligence, secular and religious knowledge. There has lately appeared a quarterly Indian Review on the plan of the "Foreign Quarterly" which in point of literary merit and typographical appearance is unsurpassed by the "giant quarterlies" at home. There are also several annual publications, including the valuable "guide and directory" of Messrs. Rushton.

THE PRESIDENCY OF MADRAS.

Governor & Commander in Chief—Lieut. Gen. The most Noble George, Marquis of Tweeddale K. T. & C.B. arrived in India Sept. 24, 1842.

Country.—Is bounded on the E. by the Bay of Bengal, on the W. by the Maldives and Lacdives and Arabian sea, on the S. by the Indian Ocean. It includes several Provinces, the Chief part of which are entirely in our own possession. The soil and country is very diversified, but less productive than Bengal. It comprises 141,923 square miles and 13,508,534 inhabitants.

Government.—The head of the Government is appointed by the East India Company subject to the approval of the Crown. The executive consists of the governor and three members of Council, one of whom is generally Commander in Chief of the Forces. The members of Council, are selected from the Civil Service of more than twelve years standing and are changed every five years. The other departments of the executive consist of four Boards which embrace Trade, Commerce, Revenue, Education, Military and Medical. The government in political and revenue matters is subordinate to the government of India.

Products—Rice, Tobacco, Cotton, Spices, Drugs, Pepper, &c.

MADRAS.—The Capital or seat of Government of the Presidency of the same name is a large city on the Coromandel coast It is 770 miles S.E. of Bombay and 1030 miles S. of Calcutta. The commerce of Madras is inconsiderable compared with that of Calcutta and Bombay. The approach to the city from the sea is sterile, as the shores extending to the N. and S. are low flat and sandy, and in the rear of the city, inland, are several small hills, which impart a barren aspect rather deceptive, as on closer inspection a more favourable opinion is formed. The beach, on which is erected the public offices and storehouses presents an animated scene. Within a few yards of the sea are the fortifications of Fort St. George, in which are most of the military offices of government.

The appearance of Madras is widely different to Calcutta or Bombay as the European part of the town is small, the respectable part of the community live in handsome residencies from two to ten miles distant and repair daily to the town for transacting business.

Madras is an open roadstead with generally a heavy swell and surf. The boats used for communicating with the shipping are called Marsoula boats, and are made of thin planks of tamarind wood sewed together, having over the seams some straw instead of caulking: thus constructed they yield to the waves and the sandy beach like leather. When the weather is very unsettled or boisterous, a flag is hoisted in front of the master attendant's office and at such times these boats are interdicted from quitting the beach. At such seasons communication is kept up betwixt the shipping in the roads and the shore by means of catamarans, which consist of two or three logs of wood secured together. These are also used during fair weather for the purpose of conveying fishermen, &c. to the duties of their avocation and are occasionally seen at a distance of eight miles from the shore.

Fort St. George is a strong and handsome fortress, originally planned by Rohins, the celebrated engineer. It is not so extensive as Fort William at Calcutta, but superior to Fort George at Bombay; and as it is situated so near the Sea it possesses natural advantages and requires but a moderate garrison. In the centre of Fort St. George is the original fort first erected but at present converted into Government offices. To the southward stands the Church of St. Mary; to the N. the old exchange on which in 1792 a lighthouse was constructed but since demolished, and a new one has been erected on the esplanade near the Beach.

The inhabitants of the city of Madras are within the jurisdiction of H. M.'s Supreme Court of Judicature, which consists of a Chief Justice and Puisne Judge. The practitioners of the Court consist of nine barristers and fourteen attorneys inclusive of those who hold situations connected with the Court. There is also a Police Office and a well regulated Police establishment.

The public buildings are few, but are very neat and interesting in their appearance. Of these may be enumerated the offices of the Board of Trade and Custom House, which are elegant and commodious. The Banquet-Hall is a neat erection, as also the Madras University and Medical College. The Cathedral of St. Thomas and Vepery church are worthy of mention. By far the handsomest ecclesiastical building at Madras is the Scotch Church dedicated to St. Andrew; for beauty and elegance of internal structure and arrangements it scarcely possesses its equal in Europe. It cost, the writer believes, about three lakhs of rupees or £30,000: the cenotaph on the Mount Road, to the memory of the Marquis Cornwallis, is worthy of remark and cost a large sum of money.

The residence of the Governor is a spacious dwelling stationed on the edge of the Esplanade, on the Choultry Plain, and near it are Chapank Gardens and palace, the residence of the Navaub of Carnatic. The Governor has also a handsome residence at Guindy, a few miles from Madras.

There are several charitable institutions to which the European residents subscribe handsomely. These consist of the military male and female Orphan Asylum, Protestant charity school, Vepery male and female schools, Native Education Society, Bishop Corrie's Grammar school; Mount Road male and female schools, St. Andrew's Parochial school, Friend in Need Society, Munegar Choultry, philanthropic association, &c.

There are several Societies for the cultivation of various branches of sciences and literature; the published transactions of these associations bear ample evidence of their usefulness and the amount of value information they contain from time to time, afford agreeable leisure to their writers and convey interesting information to the reader.

The native inhabitants consist chiefly of Hindoos who speak the Malabar and Telegoo languages. The native town is large and thickly populated, the streets in general clean and regular and partake of the usual characteristics of native towns. There are several Hindoo Pagodas and Mahomedan mosques.

The population of Madras consists of about 8,000 Europeans, and East Indians and 500,000 Natives.
